PRESIDENT RENEWS WAR TO HALT BAN

White House Conference With House Leaders Seen As Move to Gain By-Partisan Support for More Time

Basis of Administration's Anxiety Over Measure Set Forth to Solons by Hughes; No Definite Policy Given

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Further steps were taken by the administration today to obtain postponement of Japanese exclusion. With the immigration bill embodying the exclusion provision pending for final acton in the House, President Coolidge called into conference at the White House Secretary Hughes and the ranking House leaders of both parties

The President is understood to have presented again the administration's views that Japanese exclusion should be postponed until diplomatic negotiations can be conducted with Japan.

The basis for the administration's anxiety also over the matter was set forth to the House members by Secretary Hughes.

Te House last week rejected a conference report adopted at the behest of the President to delay the effective date of exclusion until March 1, 1925. The conferees since then have reported to the House an agreement based on the original House provision, making exclusion effective next July 1, but action on the report has been deferred until tomorrow.

The House leaders called into conference by the President were Representatives Longworth, Ohio, Republican floor leadear, and Garrett of Tennessee, Democratic floor leader; Chairman Johnson of the immigration committee, Representative Garner of Texas, a ranking Democratic member of the House rules committee, and Chairman Snell of the same committee.

BY-PARTISAN SUPPORT FOR DELAY SOUGHT.

By calling in Representatives Garrett and Garner, the President initiated an effort to gain by-partisan support for the pleas for time in which to negotiate with Tokyo.

The House members who conferred with the President said no definite policy with respect to exclusion was put forward by Coolidge or by Secretary Hughes, but declined to discuss the tenor of the conversation

On his return to the Capitol Longworth, acting as spokesman for the house group, predicted that the house would adopt the conference report on the immigration bill, making exclusion effective July 1 of this year but said action on the report might be deferred a day or so beyond tomorrow. He declined to give any reason for the possible postponement

OPPOSITION TO CHANGE IN BILL DEVELOPED.

It was understood that the discussion at the White House was general and those present insisted that no definite alternative to the exclusion provision agreed to by house and senate conferees was proposed. Longworth said he knew of none that would be offered when the report comes up for house approval. The majority floor leader indicated, nevertheless that there might be a change of position.

The conference at the White House is said to have developed considerable opposition to any change in the bill as it now stands.

Some of the leaders were of the belief that there was no legislative precedent under which furtehr delay could be sought in view of the overwhelming vote on the question in both the senate and house.

Unless a contrary decision is reached, plans which have been agreed to would call for a vote on the conference report on the bill in the House Thursday. Immediately after house action the report would be presented to the senate and in this event it would be in the hands of hte president for signature by Saturday.

Coolidge to Give Solons Personal Message Vetoing Soldiers' Bonus

President's Victory Over Bursum Pension Bill Regarded As Blow.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, May 14.—President Coolidge plans to go before Congress in person to deliver his message vetoing the soldiers' bonus bill, according to reports current at the Capitol this afternoon.

The President has until midnight Friday to act on the bill.

It was said at the White House that the President's plans were not definite.

The action of the Senate in sustaining President Coolidge's veto on the Bursum pension bill encouraged the White House today to believe there is a possibility of the soldiers' bonus-insurance bill also being defeated this session. Administration supporters at any rate regarded the victory over the Bursum bill as a "hopeful sign," and they were urging the President today to speed up action on the bonus bill, which has now been on his desk several days.

It is regarded as certain that the vote on the bonus over the President's expected veto will be a close one, probably hinging on a few votes either way.

5000 JAPANESE RUSH TO BEAT BAN

Immigrants Crowd Ships in Effort to Reach U. S. Before July 1.

LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

TOKYO, May 14.—Suggestions in Washington press despatches that Japan might withdraw her ambassador from Washington, leaving the embassy under the charge d'affaires as a protest against the exclusion clause of the new American immigration bill were denied emphatically today by the Japanese foreign office, which termed such a step as "undignified."

TOKYO, May 14.—A canvas of the steamship offices shows that at least 5000 Japanese have booked passage and will sail to the United States before July 1, at which time the exclusion law is expected to go into effect. The Toyo Kisen Kaisha alone has booked nearly 4000 Japanese passengers for America and may send the liner Korea Maru on a special trip with 800 more.

The smaller steamship companies are also booking several hundred more Japanese passengers, while the American lines are receiving hundreds of applications for steering passage from Japan.

The few hotels of Yokohama, rebuilt since the earthquake, are crowded with Japanese residents of America temporarily in this country and anxious to return before the exclusion clause of the immigration law goes into effect, according to the vernacular newspapers.

The number of those awaiting passage in Yokohama is said to be increasing daily, as news of the American exclusion measure sends them hurrying to that port from distant parts of Japan. It is estimated there are at least 1000 Japanese with passports who will not be able to return to the United States because of inability to obtain passage

The liner President Wilson, due tomorrow at Yokohama from San Francisco, has 400 Japanese men from the Pacific coast aboard. These expect to obtain brides and return to America before July 1. It is a question how many of them will be able to obtain return passage.

Indo-China is not a field for Japanese immigration, Governor General Merlin of the French colony told Japanese newspapermen today in response to their queries.

METHODISTS ROILED OVER RED CHARGES

Social Federation Peddled Defense Literature of Communists in Michigan "to Influence Jurors," Is Claim

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 14.—A charge that the Methodist church had been brought into ill repute as a supporter of communism and the Third Internationale threw the Methodist Episcopal general conference into an uproar today. It was finally voted that Harry F. Ward, chairman of the Civil Liberties Union and editor of the Methodist Federation for Social Service, was beyond the jurisdiction of the convention.

Circulation by the Civil Liberties Union of bulletins of the federation in regard to the arrest of a group of communists in Berrien county, Michigan, about two years ago, was the basis of a report by a standing committee which was adopted as the conference's final action.

"The church ought to take action," said John C. Willits of the Michigan delegation. "The church has been brought into great reproach in Berrien county. We ask a deliverance whereby the people of that county will know that the church does not stand for communism and the Communists that seek the overthrow of the United States government.

"Ward's championship of the civil liberties union has been used as a smoke screen."

G Bromley Oxnam of California received an ovation when he said that the matter of free speech was at issue in Michigan and that the sending out of bulletins was in defense of the federal constitution.

Presenting the committee report, its chairman recounted the Michigan episode as follows:

"A number of men were arrested at a communist meeting in Berrien county, supposedly held in violation of the anti-syndicalist law of Michigan. The Civil Liberties Union attacked the arrests on the grounds of free speech. Some secretary of the union got hold of a number of bulletins on communism issued by the Methodist Federation for Social Service, which discussed both sides of the question impartially. These, with the letter enclosed, were sent out by the union without Ward's knowledge He would not have tolerated it had he known it was being done."

Delegate Willits then charged that the letters and bulletins were sent ten days before the trial of the communists to every possible juror except the ministers of Berrien county "with the purpose of making the prospective jurors believe that the church was behind the communist movement."

The committee report was adopted. The 850 delegates adopted committee recommendations on interdenominational cooperation for better negro education in the south.

HUGHES DUBS SHIP CHARGE AS BASELESS

"My Connection With Sale of "The Martha Washington" to Italian Firm Ended Before I Became Secretary"

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Secretary Hughes today declared "absolutely false" the statement that he "had anything to do with the sale of the steamship Martha Washington" to its former owners by the Shipping Board.

In the formal statement prompted by the reading of correspondence before the House Shipping Board investigating committee, in which Secretary Hughes was said to have appeared for the former owners before becoming secretary of state, Mr. Hughes declared he had nothing to do with the subject since he entered the cabinet.

Representative Davis, Democrat of Tennessee, yesterday read records of hearings by the House merchant marine committee to show that Hughes in December 1920, three months before he became secretary of state, was active as counsel for a Trieste corporation to have title of the ship, seized from Austria during the war, transferred back to that company. He also produced a resolution of the shipping board two years later under which the ship was sold for $60,000 to the corporation after the board had been advised by the state department that the Trieste company was then Italian owned, through annexation of Trieste.

J. Harry Philbin, manager of the shipping board's sales department, was on the stand during the reading of the texts into the record He testified he knew nothing of the contents of the correspondence

"The first you heard of this marvelous transaction was at the reading here today, was it not?" asked Davis.

"As to the correspondence, yes," Philbin replied.

"Do you know how much fee Mr. Hughes got?"

"No, sir."

Hughes explained today:

"In 1920 when I was practicing law and before I had any idea of becoming secretary of state I was consulted by the attorneys of the Italians who claimed the vessel. I believed their claim was a just one and took the matter up. While the vessel had been seized by this government because she flew the Austrian flag, she belonged to Trieste and to a corporation organized and controlled by Italians. When Trieste went to Italy the corporation was recognized by Italy as an Italian corporation and the Italians sought the return of the vessel

"The question was whether the government should confiscate a vessel which really belonged to its associates in the war. My connection with the matter ended before I became secretary of state.

"When a long time afterwards I learned that the shipping board had brought questions relating to the vessel before the department of state, I declined, because of my previous connection as above stated to have anything to do with it The matter was handled exclusively under the direction of Mr. Davis, the under secretary of state, on the advice of the solicitor's office, without any reference to me.

"I did not even know what had been done about it until a short time ago when one of the newspaper correspondents mentioned it."

Estuary Island Won by Alameda

Superior Judge of Mariposa County Decides Against Oakland's Claims.

Ending a controversy of many years duration as to whether Government Island in the Oakland estuary belonged to Oakland or Alameda, Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco of Mariposa county, sitting in a special session in the Alameda county court, decided that the boundary line between the two cities is such that the island lies within the corporate limits of Alameda.

The decision was handed down in a suit brought by the city of Alameda against the city of Oakland to quiet a claim of the latter to millions of dollars of taxable property on the island

City Attorney Leon Gray of Oakland and his assistant, Lester Robinson, declined to say whether they would take an appeal.

After the argumentation of the case several months ago Judge Trabucco expressed the opinion that a statue of 1889 governed the case, in which event the boundary line would extend through the center of the island. Today he announced that he had discovered that an earlier statute, 1878, had never been repealed and that it fixed the boundary as being through the center of San Antonio creek, on the north side of the island.

Three claims were advanced during the progress of the suit, Oakland first asserting claim to all of the island, later to half of it, and Alameda consistently claiming the entire island.

POINCARE PLANS TO TAKE VACATION FROM PUBLIC LIFE

Millerand to Meet Radical Leader On Forming New Cabinet.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

PARIS, May 14.—Premier Poincare intends to withdraw from politics for the time being, taking a complete rest, and it is understood he will request a leave from the senate so as not to appear in the debates following his retirement as head of the government.

M. Poincare has received requests from all over the world, particularly from America, to write articles giving both his views on European politics and reminiscences of his twelve years as a government minister. He will resume his political activities when he considers the time ripe. Meanwhile the question of who is to succeed to the premiership is easier put than answered and it provides ample food for speculation among the deputies who are already beginning to prepare for the opening of the chamber on June 2.

It is also receiving the full attention of President Millerand, who, it is understood, will take an early opportunity to confer with M. Herriot, the radical leader, on the political situation, so that the interregnum between the resignation of the Poincare ministry and the formation of a new cabinet will be as short as possible.

The composition of the new ministry depends largely upon the attitude of the socialists, who form a large section of the bloc of the left. While some eminent socialists are not expected to be exacting in their demands, others will insist upon the party having at least three important portfolios, those of the interior, finance and foreign affairs.

Assuming that all these obstacles are overcome, there remains the fact that the majority of the left bloc will be so slender as to render the task of the government arduous.

There is yet another consideration. The socialists' next door neighbors in the chamber, the communists, cannot be left out of account and they have formally announced their intention to call upon the new chamber for a pronouncement at the earliest opportunity on the following points: First, withdrawal of the French troops from the Ruhr; second, resumption of relations with Soviet Russia, and, third, general amnesty for political offenders, including Caillaux.

Rocks Fired by Hawaii Volcano Imperil Visitors

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

HILO, T. H., May 14.—A terrific eruption of Halemauman crater of Kilauea volcano late yesterday endangered the lives of eight persons, of whom three, including Thomas Boles, superintendent of Hawaii National Park, were injured in a rain of flying, hissing rocks not unlike a heavy artillery barrage.

Rocks ranging from one pound to 300 pounds were hurled over a radius of 2000 feet from the crater. Debris shot 1800 feet into the air above the rim.

Loss of life probably was prevented by the foresight of Boles, who had refused to permit any persons except a party of newspapermen and cameramen to approach the rim. Boles was knocked down twice by flying rocks, and W. J. Belknap, sports editor of the Hilo Herald, and L. E. Phillips, a plantation manager, were struck by missiles, the three being slightly hurt. Two women in an automobile were in the midst of the rock shower but escaped injury. F. J. Cody, editor of the Herald, who was taking motion pictures, escaped and saved his camera. The eruption was the fifth and most serious of the day.

He is convinced, it has been indicated, that Senator Wheeler is not guilty of the charge of accepting a fee from Gordon Campbell, Montana oil operator indicted with him, to prosecute land cases before the interior department after his election.

WHEELER BRANDS "BOOTLEG UNION" PROTEST AS FAKE

People Will Not Swap U. S Constitution For Beer, Says Dry Leader.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, May 14.—A recent petition from the "bootleggers' Union of America" protesting modification of the Volstead act to permit sale of 2.75 per cent beer, was assailed today by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, before the House judiciary committee, as "a sample of the lengths opposition goes to make people believe that prohibition is a failure." He branded the petition as a "fake."

Wheeler told the committee, which resumed hearings on bills proposing modification of the prohibition laws, that "there never has been as determined and widespread an effort by bootleggers of beer, rum runners brewers and their allies, to discredit any policy of government, as that used to break down the enforcement of prohibition."

Beer of 2.75 per cent is no cure for lawlessness, he declared.

He predicted the sale of beer would "restore the saloon or its counterpart," and frustrate the purpose of prohibition.

"Even if the law were enacted," he said, "it could not legalize the sale of 2.75 per cent beer in three-fourths and more of the states where it is prohibited by state law.

Conference Fixing Tax Bill's Changes

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The tax reduction bill was in the hands of Senate and House conferees today for adjustment of differences. About two score amendments made by the Senate must be considered. Among the more important Senate amendments on which the prospects of a presidential veto of the bill are said to hinge are those providing for a substitute corporation tax, imposing a graduated levy on undistributed profits, full publicity of returns and substitution of the Simmons income tax schedule for the Longworth compromise. There is little difference between the income rates, however, and the main fight is expected to center on the corporation tax.

Every woman has her taste in coffee
—this chart will help you find yours

THE one thing a woman prides herself on is individuality. She is she. She has her taste in coffee—just as she has her taste in clothes, in people, in books, in plays, in all things. . . .

But how often does she get her precise coffee-taste? Isn't it apt to be hit-or-miss?

That's what this chart is for—to help you find your taste in coffee; and, having found it, you'll know how to get it every time.

M·J·B doesn't ask you to make coffee any one way. M·J·B asks you to make coffee the way you like to make it—for M·J·B proves its flavor in the cup, no matter what method of coffee-making you use.

Remember that M·J·B is a top-crop coffee of constant flavor. We see to that! But the strength in the cup is up to you. Isn't it worth a little test in your home to insure coffee-contentment for all time? Try it!

TRES PINOS, May 14.—San Benito Farm Center announced today, through a special committee composed of L. Shaw, G. B. Taylor, and Clarence Bacon, that the dairymen and ranchers of the southern end of the county have decided to put all their cows on test under the Babcocy system, with a view to eliminating all "boarders."

Farm Advisor Jack Tocher, and M. F. Finch, director of the Center, both experienced in testing animals, will aid the committee in its work, and it is hoped to have a complete survey made of the dairy animals in the district within the next thirty days.

The Center has started a dramatic club, and will stage four one-and two-act plays on May 17th, next Saturday in San Benito hall to be followed by a barn dance and a midnight "old time house warming supper," the latter provided by the women members of the Center.

Cadet Second Lieutenant Irvin de Mars, who was awarded the silver medal offered by Group 8 of the Rotary Club, and presented by Dr. Roscoe Watts; and Cadet Corporal Charles W. JURY IS CHOSEN FOR SECOND TRIAL OF LIBEL CASE

New Issue Is Hinted in Defense of Phillip Reilly.

After a day and a half spent in the selection of a jury, the examination of witnesses in the retrial of Phillip Reilly began this afternoon before Justice Robert Edgar of Berkeley, presiding in the Oakland police court for Judge William J. Hennessey.

In the selection of the jury the defense exercised ten peremptory challenges, the trial jurors excused from duty declaring they did not believe they could render a fair and impartial verdict in the case.

One of the trial jurors, C. B. Frye, said that he was an ex-newspaper man and that he could not impartially try the case because he was "dead against the kind of stuff Reilly wrote."

Reilly is charged with criminal libel, the complainant being Clyde P. Finger of the Fruck school. The alleged libelous article was published in Reilly's paper on January 15 of this year.

NEW ISSUE HINTED.

In the questions put to the jury today the defense hinted at a new issue that was not brought out at the first trial, when the jury disagreed. It was indicated that an attempt will be made to establish the point tha he article was a privileged communication on the ground tht the information contained in it had been communicated to the vice-president of the school board; that she had told her husband; that he had told someone else, and that, finally, the information was conveyed to Reilly, who was supposed to have published it with good motives.

The first witnesses called to the stand fere tSanton Lore, proprietor of the printing concern which printed the paper, and Finger. Lore merely identified Reilly as the publisher and proprietor of the paper which printed the article.

FINGER TAKES STAND.

Finger took the stand and vehemently denied that any part of the article was true in any particular.

The following compose the jury: Charles Dorsch, A. R. Mitchell, W. B. Peterson, Frank Worrall, A. G. Hutchinson, John Williams, C. W. King, J. C. Chappel, R. P. Edgecombe, A. T. Hasbrouch, J. L. Bobba and R. K. Schafer.

Earl Warren, assistant district attorney, and Fred Donahue, deputy district attorney, are conducting the prosecution.

Symphony Orchestra Depends On Contract

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—Whether San Francisco is to have a symphony orchestra or not during the next two or three years depends upon the acceptance or rejection by the Musicians' Union of contracts offered them by the Symphony Association, it was announced yesterday. The association has offered the musicians contracts for three years. This, it is asserted, the musicians object to, as they do not care to enter into contracts for a longer period than two years on the terms offered.

W. A. Weber, president of the local union, says there is no antagonism between the musicians and the symphony officials. He expressed the opinion that the entire matter will be satisfactorily settled at the June meeting. President John D. McKee of the Symphony Association also says a satisfactory adjustment of the matter seems probable. He said the association was not in the position of independent employers. In soliciting guarantees, which support the symphony, he says, the association must be in a position to give some assurance of what the conditions will be. He said the musicians were well satisfied with the present minimum wage scale of $55 a week.

Save your teeth from ACID DECAY

PYORRHEA and tooth decay often begin with acid conditions at The Danger Line (where teeth meet gums). There is a tiny, V-shaped crevice there, where food particles accumulate, forming acids which attack your teeth and cause decay. (See cross-section of tooth above.)

Decay spreads rapidly at The Danger Line. The gums become infected and pyorrhea frequently develops. Poisons find their way into the body, lowering vitality and often causing serious illness.

You cannot have sound teeth and perfect health unless Acid Decay is stopped.

Squibb's Dental Cream prevents Acid Decay because it is made with Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, prescribed for generations as the best product for counteracting acidity. It protects your teeth for hours after brushing, cleans them beautifully, allays sensitiveness and is soothing to the gums. Delightfully flavored. No other dentifrice brings you the same advantages. Begin to use it today.

Made with Squibb's Milk of Magnesia

Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, useful in hyperacidity of the stomach and as a modifier of milk for infants, may be obtained from your pharmacist.

OAKLAND MAYOR MAINTAINS STAND ON HETCH HETCHY

Davie Tells S. F. Engineer He Will Stick to Eel River Plan Until Proved Wrong.

Holding to his guns despite a reply from City Engineer O'Shaughnessy of San Francisco concerning Hetch Hetchy Mayor Davie today asserted that after eight years of experience" in water affairs in the Eastbay he is firmly opposed to the Hetch Hetchy project" and in favor of Eel river

O'Shaughnessy today in the San Francisco newspapers called Davie's recent figures on water-supplies 'grossly incorrect" and 'quite in line with other mis information spread broadcast for the purpose of deceiving the people of the bay cities' The recent Davie blast against Hetch Hetchy according to the San Francisco engineer, was full o mathematical errors, and the Davie cost estimate of Hetch Hetchy had, among other things, an "excess error of $122,000,000"

STICK TO EEL RIVER.

Mayor Davie today counters with the statement that "until he sees figures" on which he can 'plate some reliance" he sticks with the Eel river project

The mayor's statement follows

"I have no desire to enter into a controversy through the press with Mr O Shaughnessy or with any of the proponents of the Hetch Hetch or any other water suppl

In my statement of Monday I quoted statistics from sources that I consider reliable I particularly emphasized the fact that our people should have all the facts pertaining to any proposed water supply If as a result of that statement they can get these facts I will feel that my sta ement has accomplished its purpose

A committee from the Eastbay municipal utility district has just returned from an inspection of the Eel river project and their informal opinion published yesterday confirmed my statement of Monday

Mr O'Shaughnessy says how it would have been possible to spend $50 000 000 when only $3 000 000 had been voted Although the bond issue was for $4" 000 000 interest charges on this bond issue approximate $2 000 000 per ear which must be included against the cost of the Hetch Hetchy project By the end of 1924 the actual costs will have been very close to $42-000 000 in t San Francisco has no water supply nearer than the Mocasin Creek power house

SCHEME TO ANNEX OAKLAND

'Four years ago when the proponents of Hetch Hetchy were active in agitating the formation of a public utility district and they would have forced Oakland and the East Bay cities into the Hetch Hetchy project, I was the only Mayor on this side of the Bay to stand firmly against it and the plan was defeated These same interests are active today and this water scheme s but the first step in the long dra n on our plan for the annexation of this city and districts to San Francisco

"I have had eight years of experience in this matter and as a result of that experience and the facts as I know them I am firmly opposed to the Hetch Hetchy project for Oakland

I have no personal quarrel with Mr O'Shaughnessy but until I have other data in which I can place the same reliance as I do in the figures which I now have I see no reason for changing my position concerning the advantages of the Eel river over the Hetch Hetchy'

'Shut-Ins' to Be Guests of Honor at Gipsy Meeting

"Shut-ins" of the entire Eastbay will be the guests of Gipsy Smith the evangelist in the tent on Twenty-sixth street tomorrow afternoon at 2 30 Hundreds of unfortunates the aged, the infirm the halt and the blind will be brought to the tent in automobiles and provided special chairs directly in front of the rostrum The entire platform will be banked with flowers, which on Friday will be distributed to the sick in the city hospitals Favorite songs of the shut-ins will be sung, their native states ascertained and the Gipsy will present a bouquet to the oldest man and woman present

Although last night's session was in no way marked as a special occasion the tent was well filled Chaplain W R Hall of the United States Navy offered prayer William Nat Friend called the attention of the audience to the few remaining meetings Only three week night sessions remain and the two final Sunday meetings Tomorrow night the Gipsy will tell of his three and a half years with the boys in the trenches of France and Flanders On Friday night he will tell the story 'From Gipsy Tent to Pulpit" Saturday will be rest day and the evangelists goodbye appearances will be on Sunday The noonday meetings at the Lurie close Friday

Before his address last night the evangelist lauded the choir which has so generously given of its time and talents for the cause of evangelism 'I'm going to feel lonesome for you" he said in greeting to the six hundred members of the choir "don't know how much your songs and your inspiring presence has helped me go over the top I have leaned on you and you have sustained me' The Gipsy said a prayer for the recovery of Billy Sunday, who is reported suffering from an attack of ptomaine poisoning

Gipsy Smith took his text from the third chapter of John, where Christ teaches the necessity of regeneration He said in part

"If that text means anything it means that you must be born anew or you must be born from above It means a new creation, a new man, a new woman Old things must pass away and all things become new

"I don't care how much scholarship you may have, to be saved you must come back by the old way You may be a graduate of Harvard Yale, Berkeley, Columbia, Aberdeen Magdalen, Oxford, Cambridge you may be an authority on Shakespeare, Socrates of any ancient or modern writers but there's one way only—over the hill called Calvary. I know we today are crying 'educate' educate' but Jesus Christ cries out 'regenerate!"

OAKLAND NOT SAINTLY.

"You talk glibly of environment, its effect on the character, and then you stroke your alabaster brow Your environment here in Oakland ought to make saints of you, but I don't think it does I don't think you are any more saintly because you live in Oakland I feel sure if I were a painter or an artist I could do things here in Oakland. But things spiritual are not affected by environment I could put a pig in a parlor and I know which would change quickest It wouldn't be the pig I can whitewash a rotten old structure and call it a house but it would not make it one You may have fine homes They don't make you saints And I'm very sure that autos do not make saints I'm rather of opinion that they make a great many sinners Some of you people right here in Oakland are mortgaging your homes in order to vie with other people and have automobiles Schools won't make you saints The scientists know nothing of salvation I know ignorant men who taught the rich and scholarly the things of God. Dwight L Moody never could write a grammatical letter to his dying day, yet he came to my country and shook England The scholars of Scotland sat at his feet When God is with a man the world knows it

SIN IS COARSENING.

'There is nothing so coarsening to human nature as sin, as wrong doing Sin paralizes the moral energies The reason many of you can't see Jesus is because you are blinded by the things of the world Gipsy Smith Dwight L Moody, Captain Booth, the Methodists, in the beginning none of these invented the gospel of salvation Oh for another Finney Finney was an American Presbyterian who left his mark on two continents But he didn't invent it James Coy, was another great American He led William Booth to Jesus Christ And Booth afterwards founded the Salvation Army None of these invented it Jesus Christ invented it And the church that fails to preach it has lost its right to be called a church No man can preach it unless he has been reborn Live the new birth then it will be easy to preach it

Can a man be born again when old? Yes, but the longer people refuse Him the harder it becomes to accept Him You can say no,' so often that it becomes next to impossible to say yes Many of you have been playing with your soul until it is almost too late It you can renounce sin you can be reborn again Don't trifle longer with your soul You've done it until your hair is gray. Oh God, arouse the old people

OLD AGE CONVERSIONS.

"Suppose you were converted at 60. What about the past You can't undo that What about those you have influenced for hell in 60 years God is wonderfully merciful Why, my great uncle was converted at 99 But he was ignorant He had no Bible no one to tell him But you know You are postponing what you ought to do tonight If pentinent, Jesus will save you His love is greater than your rebellious life He'll forgive if you will only come to Him

'You will never argue your way in You can't ride in Get out of your automobile Get in the dust on your knees Get off your stilts God will save you but he will save you as a sinner You will get in on your knees as a pentinent.

CAN'T BE ANSWERED.

"Yes there are many things we can't answer about God and salvation But you love it All the historians of the world can't tell where the first grain of wheat came from Let from earliest records wheat has been found wherever man has lived It has furnished man with bread but no one knows from whence it came Doctors say people knew how near they come to death every time they swallow they wouldn't swallow Who can explain how two animals eating the same food and drinking the same water produce in the one case beef and in the other mutton? Who can explain the mystery of the rose bud? How does the Creator close the Golden Gates of the western heavens each night without a creak of their hinges? How did Jesus come into my Gipsy tent It's all a mystery to me How did he do it? I don't know and don't care! And that's enough to go on with

'He shall be found when you seek Him with all your heart and soul and mind He'll be found He'll be there'

BLANTON MURDER CHARGED TO PAL BY S. F. POLICE

Dispute Over Gems Stolen in L. A. Robbery Led to Death, Sleuths Believe.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14—"Bill" O Connor said to have been the 'pal' of 'Jimmie' Blanton in the $200 000 Los Angeles Providence Loan company robbery has been identified to the satisfaction of the police as the man who shot and killed Blanton in a bootlegden at 720 Larkin street last Friday

The motive for the murder, as it has been determined by the police, was that Blanton double-crossed OConnor in the division of the robbery spoils Investigators have determined that Blanton and O Connor turned over thousands of dollars' worth of gems stolen in Los Angeles to a San Francisco broker, who was to convert the jewelry into cash Blanton then held up the broker and cheated O'Connor of his share of the loot O Connor is supposed to have taken his revenge with death

It was thought to have been established at the inquest last night that O Connor and his wife under the name of "Oakes" had lived in the same apartment house with Blanton

The search for O Connor is being hotly conducted in Lake county, where O'Connor and Blanton were known to have had cottages Detectives now in Lake county are grilling the caretaker at Blanton's cottage

The detectives are also looking for the hiding place where Blanton is thought to have concealed the wealth obtained from various robberies

BIG ELECTRIC SIGN TO BE ERECTED ON NEW AUTO FIRM

The most recent step in the direction of the converting of East Fourteenth street into a Great White Way has just been taken by Field and Lee Chevrolet dealers, whose new building was recently completed at the corner of Thirty-sixth avenue

To carry their message to travelers along the main road, a large Chevrolet sign has been ordered, which will be installed within the next few days This electric sign has few equals for dimensions in the state, and is probably the largest automobile sign in the Eastbay, declares Arthur Lee who gives the following interesting figures in regard to it:

"Erected on a stand fifteen feet high and itself nineteen and a half feet from top to bottom, the total height above the roof of our building is thirty-four and a half feet. In length this dimension is almost doubled, the actual size being sixty-one feet There are 840 lights, graded in size, whose total wattage is 9750 representing a monthly outlay for operating charge in the close vicinity of $150

"Withal, it is neat, dignified beautifully proportioned and in every way an asset to the appearance of East Fourteenth street either by day or night. We would not have considered for a second the installation of any advertising medium which would have detracted our fine structure, or which might have been regarded in any way as a detriment.

"There used to be some excuse for the erection of unattractive signs in the days when the designing of such apparatus was left to mechanics It has now become one of the decorative arts receiving as careful and as elaborate planning as is given to any other branch of commercial design The results are the production of signs such as ours—which combine advertising efficiency with the harmony and balance demanded by good taste"

LOS ANGELES, May 14—A verdict denying Edwin H Moore's claim for $50,000 against Anita Baldwin, daughter of E J 'Lucky" Baldwin, was today returned by a jury in Judge Leslie R Hewitt's court. The decision was in line with the court's instructions, holding that Moore had no basis for his suit, in which he declared the amount was due him for "extraordinary services as business manager.

BANKER CHARGES FORGERY TO WIFE

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

NEW YORK, May 14.—Mrs. Eleanor Elaine Lee Harris, wife of Beverly D. Harris, former vice president of the National City bank, has been arrested on a charge of forging the name of her husband to a letter she offered as evidence in her attempt to obtain a new trial in Harris' suit for annulment of their marriage

The letter Mrs. Harris was accused of forging was presented to Supreme Court Justice Giegerich last April 30 It was purported to be a photostatic copy of a letter written by Harris to a woman friend while his suit for annulment was being tried. In it the banker was alleged to have contended he believed his wife guiltless of the charges he had made against her. Harris the next day branded the letter as "an unqualified forgery"

Today Harris had the letter read into the supreme court record and then entered the charge against Mrs Harris. With detectives he went to her suite in a hotel here where she was registered under the name of Mrs. Elizabeth Long

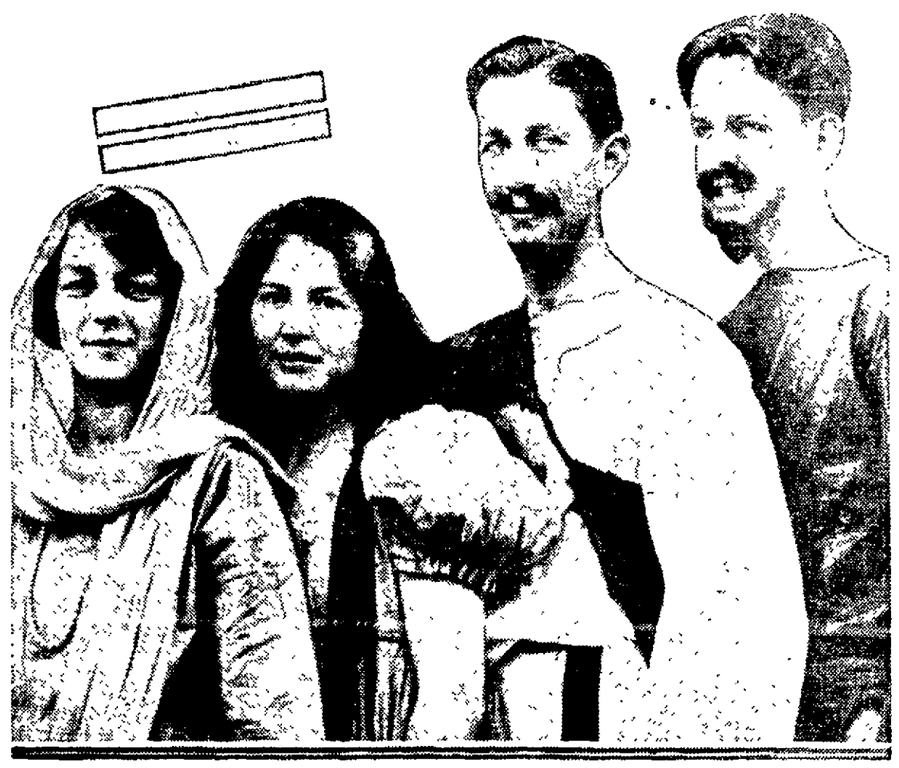

The letter followed the verdict last March of the supreme court grand jury which decided that Mrs. Harris had misrepresented her social status and her moral character to Harris before their marriage.

And if it were possible, wouldn't you always go back to it in spite of distance?

Travels 616 Miles to Shop at Capwells

Capwells has many such customers. One former Oakland woman, the wife of an oil company employee in San Diego, makes her two shopping trips to Oakland every year—and has for the past six years. She buys her complete outfit at Capwells each time.

Many of our old customers have moved to San Francisco—they still come back to shop with us. We have over 800 charge accounts in that city—and we know of ever so many more people over there who frequently make the trip across the bay to spend a few hours in this store of their choice.

Mail Orders—Evidence of Customers' Faith

Some of Capwells old customer-friends have gone to Los Angeles, but even so, there is a tie which binds them to Capwells—for they either send back or come back to shop with us. From Oaklanders who are traveling; from those who have moved to far distant cities; from practically every large city in the U. S. A., Capwells receives mail orders.

Of course, it is to be expected that thousands of women from smaller towns adjacent to Oakland and from the nearby valley towns would prefer to buy here, but we feel gratified by our growing list of customers in other metropolitan cities.

FRIED FISH

WESSON OIL is a choice salad oil—light in color and most delicate in flavor. Use Wesson Oil in salad dressings, of course, but use it, also, for shortening and frying.

You'll never know how good a fried fish can taste—or a chicken—or an egg—until you have tried frying in Wesson Oil. You need a fat as good as Wesson Oil to make fried food as good to eat as fried food can be.

INDIANA KLAN TO BE INDEPENDENT, SAYS NEW LEADER

State Organization Will Not Secede But Will Act Alone. Is Plan.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

INDIANAPOLIS, May 14.—Ku Klux Klansmen of Indiana have "decided to take control of their own organization," but will not secede from the national organization, according to D. C. Stephenson, dragon of the state. The klansmen said representatives of 92 counties in Indiana at a meeting called by Stephenson elected him as their leader.

"The Indiana klansmen," Stephenson's statement said, "have thrown off an outside control, which was out of harmony with their purposes. Fear, intimidation and blind animosity will have no part in it. By their influence for constructive purposes they will sort out what is best in city, state and nation. Indiana has 92 per cent born citizens with the best blood and traditions of America. It is in a pivotal position and will play an important part in shaping the future of our government."

Stephenson added that "we are going out to Klux Indiana as she has never been Kluxed before."

In an address at the meeting Stephenson praised Ed Jackson, Republican gubernatorial nominee at Tuesday's primary, and referred to the statement issued Sunday by Dr. Carleton B. McCulloch, leading candidate in the Democratic gubernatorial race in which Dr. McCulloch delared the issue in the fall campaign would be Klan and Anti-Klan.

"We must without compromise," said Stephenson "elect this man (Jackson) whom we nominated May 6 because if we don't the challenge this man McCulloch has thrown at our feet will be picked up and hurled in our faces."

Frequent references were made in the address to James P. Goodrich, former Governo., the declaration being made that Goodrich has attempted to gain control of the Klan for political purposes.

Characterizing the efforts of Stephenson to take the Indiana Klan out of the control of the national organization as a "perfect fizzle," Joseph Huffington, cyclops of the Evansville, Ind., Klan and Grand Titan of the First District, declared that Stephenson was no longer connected with the Klan and could not "reorganize and clean house in the klan."

THREE NATIONS TO HONOR FATHER JUNIPERO SERRA

Spain, Mexico, United States Will Observe Anniversary Founding of California.

BY SPECIAL WIRE TO THE TRIBUNE.

CARMEL, May 14.—A pilgrimage to the sarcophagus of Father Juipero Serra, in the restored chapel of Carmel Mission, as part of a state and national tribute to what is known as "the cradle of far western civilization," has been set for the week of October 5 to 12. The remainder of the week is to be given over to a celebration of the early Spanish type, with fiestas, fandangoes, barbecues, pageants, and mission plays in Carmel and Monterey.

The king and queen of Spain and the Spanish ambassador are among the notable persons who are to be invited to attend the pilgrimage and celebration.

Historic spots are to be dedicated during the week, including Portola Cross, where Portola lost his way in attempting to locate Monterey under orders from the king of Spain; the scene of Vizcaino's landing at Monterey, naming the Carmel river, eighteen years before the Mayflower landed at Plymouth Rock; and the place where Father Serra landed and, after establishing Carmel Mission, inaugurated the first agriculture on the Pacific coast.

Three flags, those of Spain, Mexico and the United States, are to fly over the Monterey custom house where the committee which is arranging for the "Serra Memorial Pilgrimage" and the accompanying festivities will make its headquarters.

S. F. Supervisors Want $27,148,086

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—The finance committee of the board of supervisors has submitted to the board a city budget which totals $27,148,086. This is nearly $1,500,000 more than the appropriations for the previous year. The budget, as submitted, carries the existing tax rate of $3.47. It was stated in the budget report that the budget was so allocated that there will be no increase in the existing tax rate. This it was pointed out can be accomplished as was done last year, "by using a proper amount of operative revenue from the Hetch Hetchy system to pay a part of the bond interest.

SOUTH DAKOTANS ORDER PENCILS, THEN GET BOOZE

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., May 12.—Several hundred residents of South Dakota who ordered "pencils" by dozens and gross are expecting a visit from Prohibition officers who may ask them to tell what they know about the booze traffic, just what the procedure is and how much they paid when their orders for "pencils" were filed.

The wholesale dealing in "pencils" was revealed when "booze-hounds" run down and arrested Russel V. Reed, alias E. J. McKay, who for some time had been suspected of being a ringleader in bringing liquor from Minneapolis into northern South Dakota. For several months he eluded the vigilance of scores of officers who were waiting to catch him "with the goods." Reed, when confronted with the evidence against him, entered a plea of guilty and has been sentenced to pay a fine of $1000 and to serve six months in a South Dakota county jail. If he does not pay his fine he will have to serve an additional 500 days—one day for each $2 of his fine.

When Reed was searched by Sheriff Sam Buhler of Day county following his arrest he was found in possession of an order book in which were the names of customers for "pencils" Reed posed as a pencil salesman to cover his tracks. The authorities have kept the list secret, but in the order book are said to have appeared the names of many prominent men who never were suspected of having a thirst for liquor and also the names of scores of men in different towns who are known as drinkers.

According to the officers the number of "pencils" bought by persons listed in the book is remarkable. They were not listed as quarts and gallons but as dozens and gross.

Oakdale C. of C. Will Make Yosemite Run

That maddening irritation

Within the hour you can have relief

PERHAPS you have given up hope of instant relief. An itching or burning rash or eczema—perpetually annoying and embarrassing! Whether it be on arm, neck, body or face, this simple way will bring relief where nothing else may have helped.

A formula developed twenty-eight years ago by a well-known physician in his practice, and at first distributed only through doctors' prescriptions, Resinol has today become in thousands of homes the first remedy applied to any sort of skin affection. Thousands of users have wondered at the quickness of its action. In many cases the itching stops immediately, and in a few days the clear, clean texture of the skin is restored. Even a light application sinks deep into the pores, attacks the root of the disorder, and starts the skin again acting normally.

If you have today any spot, rash or irritation on your skin, apply Resinol. One application will, in many cases, stop the itching completely. Resinol is absolutely harmless. It will not irritate an infant's skin, or even raw exposed flesh. Get a jar at your druggist's today or send for a free trial sample to Dept. 25, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

DOCTOR CHARGED WITH VIOLATING NARCOTIC LAW

Grove St. Physician Denies He Sold Morphine to Decoy.

Dr. R. F. Tisdale, a physician practicing at 3329 Grove street, is today facing charges of violating the Harrison Narcotic Act, preferred by federal agents who arrested him last night.

Dr. Tisdale, who denied the charge that he had sold narcotics, receiving marked money in return was released on $5,000 bail, by order of United States Commissioner Albert M. Hardie, after having been booked at the city prison.

Dr. Tisdale also denied that $5,000 worth of narcotics were found in his office by the arresting officers.

AGENTS' STATEMENT

According to W. W. Elliott and J. E. Brown, federal agents, a narcotic addict used by them as a decoy, succeeded in purchasing morphine from Dr. Tisdale. In a statement denying this which he made to Commissioner Hardie, Dr. Tisdale said:

"The addict with the marked money came into my office and rolled on the floor with pain. He begged me for morphine. He had been to me several times before and I was trying to cure him. He had never given me any money.

"After I gave him some morphine he gave me four dollars of marked money and said that was in payment fo. the other times I had supplied him. Then the agents came in and arrested me.

$2.50 WORTH, HE SAYS

"There was only about $2.50 worth of morphine and a few dollars worth of a drug used as an anesthetic in my office. The morphine came into my possession in 1906 when the government issued it to physicians to alleviate pain for sufferers from the San Francisco disaster."

Wife Refused to Handle His Cash, Husband Charges

Contrary to the usual complaint S. A. Albright in a divorce suit filed today says his wife, Mrs. A. M. Albright, refused to handle the money for household expenses, declaring she could not be bothered with it. He also says that she did not want to be bothered with the housework, but would remain away from home all day and refuse to cook his meals, declaring that his mother used to cook the meals for him and she could do so still. During a discussion of the divorce question on one occasion, says Albright, his wife declared that her religion would not let her remarry, so he was better than no husband at all.

They were married in Burlingame November 14, 1915, and separated May 23, 1921, when his wife left him and refused to return, says Albright.

Oliver was arrested in company with Jack Livingston and Alfred C. Vervais, and jointly charged with the crime. Vervais was employed as messenger for a large Oakland mail order house, and is said to have taken a check for $72.50, to which the name was forged by the three, and later cashed. LIONS TO HOLD DISTRICT MEET

The Lions' club of the Fourth District of Lions' International will assemble at Sacramento on May 22, 23, 24, for their district convention. Delegates will be present from Hawaii, Nevada and California. This is expected to be the largest gathering of representatives of this club ever held on the west coast, according to District Governor E. R. Yundt of Pomona, who has issued the call.

"There are at present sixty-two Lions' clubs in this district who have demonstrated their ability to be of service to their communities Their activities have not been confined to building orphans' homes, Boy Scout cabins or sponsoring charitable enterprises. They have worked hand in hand with civic and commercial bodies everywhere and have proven by a generous response both in time and money that as a service club they serve," said Yundt.

The entire district is unanimous in the desire to bring the 1925 International Lions' convention to California. In carrying out this plan they will send a large delegation to Omaha in June determined to have their invitation accepted. Should they secure the convention it will mean more than 10,000 Lions and their families will come to California.

The Better the Cheaper

"It is a deplorable thing," said the Philosopher, "that those who can least afford it pay the most for the actual use of the articles they buy."

In the poorer quarters in New York, for instance, where coal is bought by the fifty-pound bag, eventually a ton has cost the small buyer thirty dollars, instead of fifteen.

The same condition holds good in rugs. No one buys a rug just to have an article of straw, paper, jute, cotton, or wool, with a design on it, but to enjoy the use of it. That brings in the element of time consumed before it wears out.

The cheap rug is the fifty-pound bag of coal. The good rug, say a worsted, or twisted wool, Wilton, which will last easily a lifetime, costs less than five dollars a year, and, if a pleasing pattern, is a continual joy.

Even a high pile Axminster, soft and luxurious, will live over a sufficient length of time to cost not more than five dollars a year.

But, any cheap rug, be it a cheap Axminster, a scantily woven Velvet, or a thin surfaced Tapestry, costs the owner much more per year, because of its short life.

The value of any article is no more than the value the customer gets out of it.

We are very much in earnest in wishing our customers to get good values from their purchases in our store.

Our method of spreading the payment helps out wonderfully. Generally, only a payment or two more, in the future, buys a better article now, of assured merit, and doubles the lifetime of its use.

The Philosopher was right.

BOY FILM IDOL TO ATTEND OAKLAND HOMES' EXHIBIT

Wesley Barry Will Sponsor Modern Display of Domestic Progress.

Wesley Barry's coming to town! The freckled-faced movie star will act as patron of the first annual Modern Homes Exposition at the Oakland Municipal Auditorium next Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Wesley's mother has wired Fred Schleicher, director of the exposition, that "Wesley is delighted to accept the responsibility of patron" and adds, "he loves his home just like all other little boys."

The date of the young movie star's arrival will be announced later.

100 HOMES, ONE ROOF.

Preparations for the first annual modern homes exposition are well under way. One hundred modern homes under one roof—this is the slogan of the hour. Under one roof the Eastbay housewife will find all the latest models for home beautification and utility.

There will be floor coverings, draperies, furniture, electrical fixtures, gas ranges, lamps and lamp shades, introducing the latest Oriental effects in floor lamps, radio outfits, musical instruments, pianos and phonographs.

HOW RUGS ARE MADE.

There will be a demonstration of how Persian rugs are manufactured by hand, how the best upholstering of living room furniture is done, how the experts weave wicker chairs and settees.

There will be a display of the architect's drawing for the modern home, the method of construction and of the finished product.

Such expositions have been tremendously successful in the Eastern cities where the women-folk have eagerly sought them.

Entertainment will be provided. An orchestra of twenty pieces has been secured.

Why They're Using Joint-Ease for Burning Feet

Just because it is now known that burning, sore, aching, swollen feet are caused by trouble in the many joints in the foot and Joint-Ease soaks right in and gets to the seat of the trouble—the cartilage and ligaments of the joints.

And to think that for generations we have been powdering and soaking our feet, thinking the trouble was only skin deep—an old-fashioned idea.

Well, better late than never—just stop the powdering and medical bathing and other foolishness for three days and just rub on Joint-Ease—and remember when Joint-Ease gets in foot agony and burning get out—quick 60 cents a tube. All druggists sell lots of Joint-Ease.—Advertisement.

CURTAIN CALLS

by Boyd Sloanes

EITHER Ananias or Diogenes should be the patron saint of Curtain Calls today. We can't decide which. But anyway here are two stories emanating from actors, one in Oakland and another en route.

Al Jolson provides the first. He says that when he was a kid of 12 in Baltimore a lean and slippered individual, a candy puller by trade, lived in a little cottage in the rear of his father's house and used to fascinate him by manipulating great braids of red, white and molasses brown candy over a big brass hook in the back yard fence.

In addition to his candy pulling proclivities this chap was a story teller of the first water, one to whom adventure was second nature and so to make a long story short young Jolson ran away with the chap to York, Pa., where was a concentration camp at the opening of the Spanish-American war.

"It's all yours, Al,' he said and darted away. I yelled after him. 'What for?' and he sang back: 'That's the dough you loaned me to start the barber shop in New Orleans.' 'Well, where's the rest?' I tried to say, for this Fagin of my life had taken all my youthful earnings until I ran away from him and made my way home again on the cowcatcher of a freight train.

"But, still running true to form, the man was gone and all I know is that he's prosperous and now lives in Los Angeles."

"He was the original padrone, that man," says Al. "He followed the soldiers, the fairs, the circuses, anything that gathered the crowd, taking me along with him, selling buttons, flags, emblems and what not. He was a faker, pure and simple and a grafter, too, I fear, but he started me on my career as an entertainer. My task was to sing, his to collect the coins thrown to me.

"And now he turns up after years of world roaming as a respectable citizen of Los Angeles, introduces himself as a patron of 'Bombo,' compliments me on my success, blithefully recalls old times and ends by handing me $25 in coin of the realm.

"I kissed the money good-bye with a great deal of ceremony, wished him well and off he went. Last week 'The Fool' came to the Lurie. I chanced to get a program and lo and behold there was the name of my friend in the cast of characters.

"Singularly enough I had forgotten the debt. Twelve years is a long time. But apparently he had not. The day after the play opened he sought me out, inquired after my good health, my prospects; told of his adventures and parted after returning my money."

The reader is given the choice of deciding whether these two histrions are entitled to membership in the Ananias club or are two of the men Diogenes is looking for.

EXITS AND ENTRANCES

Oscar Eagles, who staged "Topsy and Eva" for Thomas Wilkes, is back in San Francisco. This time he is to stage a new musical comedy for Raymond Hitchcock. It is called "The Caliph" and Wilkes has visions of the piece following in the footsteps of the show arranged for the Duncan Sisters.

Gallagher and Shean are to be starred, one hears, in an old Aaron Hoffman show, "The Politicians." Those who recall the old Kolb and Dill days here will remember the piece.

The Duncan Sisters, Vivian and Rosetta, have had themselves insured for $200,000. Thomas Wilkes is made beneficiary to the extent of $100,000, with the parents of the girls getting the balance in case of the death of both or the surviving sister in the death of one.

It has been some time since John Golden has been heard of in these parts. Now comes the news that Frank Craven has started a new play for him.

Florence Reed, so they say, is to ply her arts next season in "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray." Mrs. Carter included it in her repertoire at the Fulton last season.

And so to Frank Darien, whom we found in a Harrison street tonsorial parlor the other day looking a lot younger than he did on the stage as "Grumpy." He, too, had a tale to tell and this is it:

"Twelve years ago a friend of mine whom we will call John Doe, was broke. Worse than that, he had the promise of a job in New York and lacked transportation. He had approached several actors and secured various sums, but he still needed $25.

New York Revives "Emperor Jones"

NEW YORK, May 14.—Paul Robeson, the negro actor who is to be seen here soon in the leading masculine role of Eugene O'Neill's "All God's Chillun Got Wings," began a week's engagement at the Provincetown Theater last night in "The Emperor Jones," the tragedy by the same author which won acclaim here when it was first presented a few seasons back with Charles Gilpin, also a Negro, in the lead.

Mr. Robeson gave a stirring performance of his exacting part. He is a fine figure of a man, possessor of an extraordinary and enviable physique and a deep, resonant voice. Furthermore, he has youth and spirit. His performance was quite up to that which won Mr. Gilpin high praise; if he lacked anything Mr. Gilpin had, it was that mellowness that comes with experience, and for this he made up with vigor and virility.

At the close of his performance Mr. Robeson was thrice called before the curtain to receive the cheers and applause of the house. He presented such a figure in a checkered bathrobe that one might have been pardoned for wondering just what he'd do to Harry Wills.

Street Assessment Rehearing Ordered

The Oakland city council was directed in an order issued yesterday afternoon by Superior Judge T. W. Harris to give a rehearing to the assessment levied against property leased by Karl Raentsch and known as the East Bay Market at Nineteenth street and Telegraph avenue.

The council recently included the property in the assessment district for the proposed opening, widening and extension of Jefferson street, from Seventeenth to San Pablo avenue. The assessment levied was approximately $18,000.

Judge Harris ruled the council acted a day too soon. The decision will compel the council to readvertise and re-assess the property, although the same figure may be set.

Man Is Accused Of Stabbing Stepson

After he had stabbed his 20-year-old stepson in the neck following a quarrel this morning at Eighty-sixth avenue and East Fourteenth street, according to the police, Jesse Ryan, 60, of 8615 B street, was arrested. The stepson, Jack Eagen, is at the emergency hospital in a serious condition.

According to versions of the affair secured by detectives from Ryan and Eagen, the stabbing was the outcome of a quarrel which started at their residence this morning before the two men left for work.

Reinforce Glands to Keep Young, Says Scientist

DR. ARNOLD LORAND of Austria says in his book, "Old Age Deferred," in speaking of the glands: "We must insist upon the reinforcement of their functions if changed by age or disease by means of extracts obtained from the similar organs of healthy young animals."

Such a treatment is now offered in the new scientific discovery, Glandogen, which combines the important elements of the vital glands with other efficacious ingredients. Hundreds of men and women who are weak, worn-out and run-down, are taking Glandogen to awaken the devitalized glands, so they may continue their normal function of supplying the vital glandular secretions so necessary to physical energy and perfect health. Glandogen is prepared in two different forms—one for men and one for women. Glandogen is obtainable in Oakland at Federal Drug Co., Federal Building, and 14th and Harrison, and No Percentage Drug Co., Fillmore and Ellis, Mission and 18th, 953 Market street, San Francisco.—Advertisement.

"My Rheumatism is gone—"

There's glorious joy in knowing this—that more Red-Blood-Cells stops Rheumatism, and that S.S.S. builds Blood-Cells.

"There are thousands of you men and women, just like myself, slaves to rheumatism, muscle pains, joint pains, and horrible stiffness. I had the wrong idea about rheumatism for 15 years. I didn't realize that increasing blood-cells had the effect of completely knocking out rheumatic impurities from the system. That is why I began using S. S. S.! Say what you will, I never knew such startling results were possible. Well, folks, besides knocking out my rheumatism it gave me back some of the strength I used to have way back! I've got a better color in my face, my appetite is dandy. I don't use my crutches any more. I'm walking around straight-up on two young legs!" S. S. S. makes people talk about themselves the way it builds up their strength. By building blood-cells it builds nerve strength for young folks who ought to have more, and for older people who have little. It stops pimples, boils, blackheads, eczema, chases away blood impurities. You can always rely on it. Start S. S. S. today for that rheumatism. You'll feel the difference shortly. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size is the more economical.

S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again.

Days of 1870 Described In New Offering

"Catskill Dutch" Faithful Picture of New York Settlers.

By HEYWOOD BROWN.

NEW YORK, May 14.—"Catskill Dutch," by Roscoe Brink, is an honest and honorable play. Sometimes it blazes and then again it just smokes. If fidelity were enough this would be among the best plays of the season. It is less than that in spite of the fact that often the sparks fly high.

It seems to be essential that a good play must touch truth as we know it in addition to being true, and there are times when "Catskill Dutch" gets away into the depiction of conduct too alien for interest—for my interest, at any rate. At such times it drags.

Two of the most important persons in the play seem to me little better than half-wits, and so I cannot remain wholly engrossed in their tribulations.

The play deals with a New York community of Dutch derivation and the time is 1870. It is a community living by the letter of the Bible, and stern and inflexible in its interpretation of the proper subjection of wife to husband. When this community learns that Neelia-Anne has a child and no husband the church steamroller comes into action and marries her immediately to the man who is supposed to be the father of this child. Although he protests his innocence he accepts the decision of the community but only upon the promise of Neelia-Anne that she will never reveal the name of the father.

But she does. Under the spell of a camp meeting and more particularly the mesmerizing influence of a drum she blurts out the truth and implicates an elder of the church. At the end we find the husband fighting his way back to love against the shock of the woman's disobedience. The humility and the meachiness of Neelia-Anne gets to be a little painful in this final scene. Even though it is accepted as true it seems a little false to the fundamental dignity of human nature.

Much better is the revolt of another woman, who throws the letter of community law out of the window in time of stress. This role of a reminist forbear is superbly played by Minnie Dupree.

The revival scene has been well staged by Robert Milton and reaches a high point of excitement. Louis Wolheim plays the role of the old negro who beats the drum and it is a capital performance, but in this particular scene something more authentically negroid is needed. If there could have been the lilt which Opal Cooper gave to a somewhat similar scene in "The Rider of Dreams" years ago the force of the scene might well have been devastating.

Ann Davis as the girl and David Laudau contributed excellent performances.

The Federal Bureau of Fisheries has marked with metal tags about 10,000 cod and haddock, to trace fish migrations.

DEATH DRUG IS SOUGHT IN BODY OF S. F. CLUBMAN

Toxicologist to Examine Remains of Man Found Dead Near Poison Vials.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—With the finding of three vials which had contained a poison solution beside the bed of Charles William Case Deering, member of the millionaire harvester family, Coroner T. W. B. Leland has ordered an autopsy to determine whether Deering's death Sunday was caused by the poison or the injuries which he had received in an airplane crash last November.

The solution had not been prescribed for Deering, Drs. S. H. Hurwitz and E. N. Twitchell told the coroner, and they agreed that poisoning probably was the cause of death. Professor Frank T. Green, toxicologist, is to make a chemical examination of the stomach.

It was revealed at the coroner's office that Deering had practically recovered from the fractured skull and pelvis suffered when he fell with an airplane at Crissy field, although that was said to have been the cause of death when Deering succumbed Sunday at his residence, 2111 Franklin street.

Autopsy Surgeon John Green and the two physicians who attended Deering said there was not much doubt in their mind that Deering had died from an overdose of the poison, the only question being whether the solution had been taken with suicidal intent.

HEART BALM SUIT RECENTLY SETTLED.

It became known today that Deering had settled out of court a heart balm suit for $50,000 initiated by Mrs. Marguerite Curl, Piedmont widow, several weeks ago. Settlement was effected for $10,000, it was stated, and the widow surrendered a sheaf of fervent love letters which she is alleged to have received from Deering.

Deering's attorney last night spoke deprecatingly of the reports that Deering had executed a sensational will shortly before his death. He declared that Deering's wealth had been greatly exaggerated by rumor and that the estate would doubtless be much smaller than imagined.

Deering's last wife, formerly Mrs. Helen Elizabeth Moyer, secured a divorce last February. Two years prior to this action, Deering was divorced by a former wife in Honolulu, where he was attached to the army as adjutant during the war.

Kaiser's Wife Visits Home in Germany

GREIZ, Germany, May 14.—Princess Hermine, wife of the ex-kaiser, arrived here today to visit relatives.

"My husband has no plans to join me in Germany," Princess Hermine told International News Service. "He is longing to return to the fatherland, but thinks there is no chance to do so. I think likewise."

Greiz is the capital of the principality of Reuss, the family of which Hermine is a member.

A report was printed in the United States yesterday that the former kaiser was returning to Germany. It was credited to the radio broadcasting station at Nauen, Germany.

Underwood Out of Kentucky Contest

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 14.—Withdrawal of the presidential candidacy of Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama from the prospective contest with William G. McAdoo for the Kentucky delegation in the State Democratic convention today was announced by Underwood managers. "In the interest of party success," was the reason given.

The decision, according to McAdoo managers, gave the former treasury secretary unchallenged claim to Kentucky's twenty-six votes in the National convention and forecast adoption of a unit-rule resolution by the state convention.

Tribune's Beauty Contest Winner Will Meet Fairest in Golden State

Rivalry to Be Keen for Honor of Gaining 'Miss California' Title at Santa Cruz.

"A spectacle of feminine loveliness," which has seldom if ever been equalled in the State, is the description which those in charge of the coming "Beauty Week" festival today predicted on the basis of the entries who are already in the various preliminary beauty contests throughout the State, including The TRIBUNE'S "Miss Oakland" competition.

If no new entrants came into any of the contests, candidates already in the field in each city would form an aggregation at Santa Cruz more dazzingly beautiful than probably and similarly-sized group of young women in the State's history, it was declared.

But there are still two weeks in which new candidates may enter, and many of those who would be sure winners if the contest were to close today may be outclassed by the time all the entries are in.

COMPETITION TO BE KEEN.

So keen is the competition to be at Santa Cruz between the winners of the beauty contests now under way in nearly 100 cities of the State that three prizes are to be offered instead of one. The first, of course, will be the title of "Miss California," and the valuable tokens of silver and jewels that are to be given to the one pronounced the most beautiful. After that there will be a second and a third prize, the nature of which has not yet been announced.

Santa Cruz intends to make the most of the beauty spectacle that will be in its midst from June 5 to 8. A beauty parade through the streets; an outdoor reception in a "beauty pavilion," which is now under construction; a bathing girl revue; a beauty pageant in the largest theater in the city; and a grand ball will afford opportunity for displaying both the massed and the individual attractiveness of California's hundred prettiest girls to the greatest possible advantage.

FREE PHOTOGRAPHS TAKEN.

The "Miss Oakland" contest, the winner of which is to be sent, with all expenses paid, to the Santa Cruz "Beauty Week" festival, will close promptly at midnight, May 29. Any married or unmarried young woman in Oakland is eligible to enter, and may become a candidate simply by sending her photograph, accompanied by the entry blank printed on this page, to The TRIBUNE'S committee of judges before that date.

Any who desire may have a photograph taken especially for this contest, by leading photographers of the city, and without any cost whatever, simply by calling at one of the following studios:

THREE GIRLS ARE ATTACKED BY S. F. ROBBER IN STREET

Cook Arrested As Suspect, Is Identified By One of Victims.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—Three young women hurrying to their homes in lonely sections of the city were attacked by a robber at midnight, two of them were struck down by the fist of their assailant and the third escaped injury by screaming. Police of the North End station at 4:30 this morning arrested one man, who was identified as the assailant of one of the victims and was charged with robbery.

Mrs. Helen Wilson, housekeeper for Edgar Van Bergen, 2510 Green street, was a passenger on a Union street car at 12:30 a. m. She noticed a man having an altercation with the conductor over the payment of fare. He alighted at her corner and she hurried away from him. As she was nearing her doorsteps the man gained upon her and before she could enter the house she was struck in the face and knocked down. He seized her vanity case containing a dollar and some personal belongings. Mrs. Wilson gave a good description of the man to Corporal John J. Mullin and Patrolman Joseph Tregenza of the North End station. They believed they recognized his description and hurried to the Edwards hotel, 3155 Scott street, where they arrested James Holt a cook, 24 years old. Mrs. Wilson identified him.

Miss Maud Bohm of 3046 Jackson street, was nearing her residence when a man passed and spoke. She paid no attention. A few steps farther he held out his hand as though armed with a gun and demanded her money. She screamed and he ran.

Miss Ethel Bullard of 112 Walnut street was passing 3400 Jackson street when she was struck in the face by a bandit and knocked to the sidewalk. She screamed and Mrs. John Ewing and Alfred Kelly, who were leaving the Jackson street house, rushed to her aid. Her assailant fled toward the Presidio without getting anything.

Woman Is Strangled And Robbed of Gems

NEW YORK, May 14.—Victim of a brutal assault, Mrs. Howard Johnson, wife of the author of "Tangerine," and other musical comedies, was under care of a physician today while police investigated her story of being garroted and robbed of diamonds valued at $9000 in an upper Broadway hotel.

Harry Lasser, said to have a police record, was under arrest in connection with the case.

Cash Hidden in Garbage Can to Foil Thieves; Salvaged in Dump

Just as the Argonauts of '49 dug feverishly for the yellow metal of the Mother Lode country, a big force of laborers at the public dump in West Oakland started this morning with pick and shovel to excavate $125 in cash which was supposed to by lying around the dump somewhere.

The treasure was finally unearthed and returned to its grateful owners.

First knowledge of the green treasure at the dump—it was in currency—came to City Engineer W. W. Harmon this morning when a white-faced merchant owning a small store appeared and announced his money was gone. Harmon suggested that the visitor see the police. The visitor said it hadn't gone that way.

"You see," explained the visitor, "I've kept my money in the garbage can, where it would be unsuspected in case the store was robbed; but this morning some garbage man came before I expected him, and loaded the contents of the can upon a little truck. I didn't know of my loss till I noted, with horror, that my good old garbage can was empty."

Harmon sent a S. O. S. to the garbage dump. The dump officials have been dumping in a certain place today, so they sent laborers with hoes, rakes and curry-combs to comb through the garbage. After something less than 376,888 cubic yards had been examined, the missing money came to light.

"I won't do it again," promises the merchant.

Greece Not to Lend Hermes to America

LONDON, May 14.—The Greek minister of education declared today that the idea of lending Hermes of Praxiteles to America has been definitely abandoned, according to an Athens despatch to the Daily Telegraph. This was due to protests by Greek and foreign archaeologists and a large section of the Greek public as well, who contended that the loss of the statue or damage to it would be irreparable.

Oakland's Step Ahead in Radio

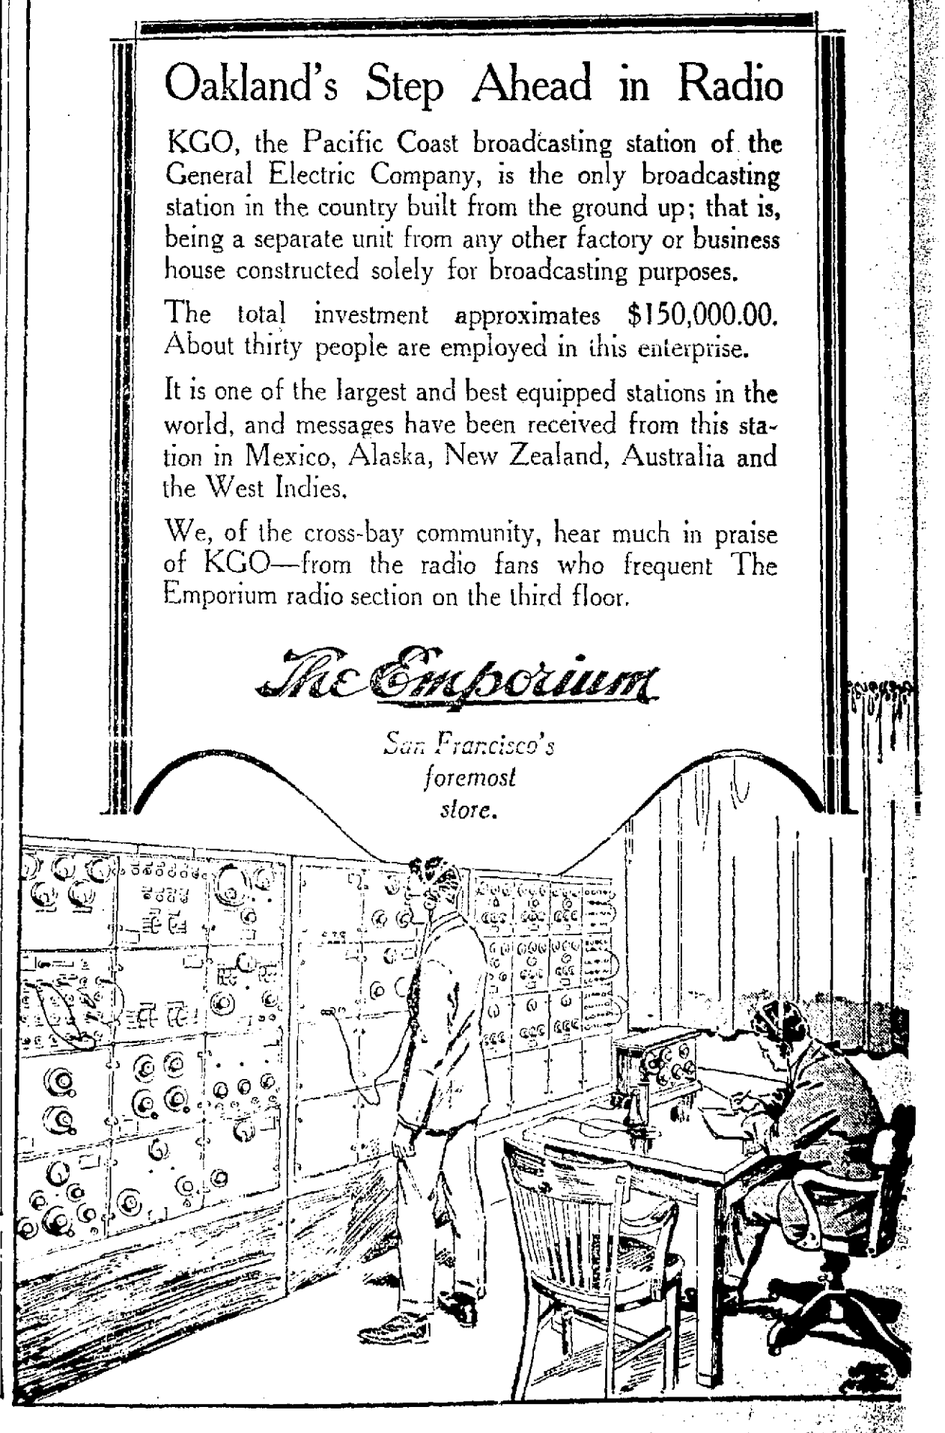

KGO, the Pacific Coast broadcasting station of the General Electric Company, is the only broadcasting station in the country built from the ground up; that is, being a separate unit from any other factory or business house constructed solely for broadcasting purposes.

The total investment approximates $150,000.00. About thirty people are employed in this enterprise.

It is one of the largest and best equipped stations in the world, and messages have been received from this station in Mexico, Alaska, New Zealand, Australia and the West Indies.

We, of the cross-bay community, hear much in praise of KGO—from the radio fans who frequent The Emporium radio section on the third floor.

Concrete Pavements Grow Stronger Year After Year

When you vote for a paved road or street, you want to know that you won't be called upon for assessments every now and then to repair or rebuild it.

Built according to present-day high standards, Concrete roads and streets permanently withstand the heaviest pounding and grinding of modern traffic. In fact, they grow stronger year after year.

That is because their definitely proportioned mixture of sand, pebbles or broken stone, and water, is held together by the everlasting grip of that tenacious binder, portland cement.

Concrete Pavements have the repair built out and the maintenance built in. That is why they pay you handsome dividends in satisfaction and service.

Firm, rigid, unyielding, and the last word in paving economy, Concrete Roads and Streets are also skid-proof. And their color is a pleasing, light gray—another very important advantage, especially for night driving.

Watch for advertisements telling about the many other uses of concrete. And remember that the Portland Cement Association has a free personal service to offer you. Whether you use concrete or have it used for you, this service will give you more for your money.

Our booklets R-3 and R-4 tell many interesting things about Concrete Roads and Streets. Which one would you like us to send? There is no charge.

SEE CHALLENGED TO PROVE LIGHT OUT-RACES RADIO

NEW YORK, May 14.—The American Radio Association has challenged Captain T. J. See, professor of mathematics in the United States navy and government astronomer at the Mare Island navy yard, to produce further proof of his discovery, announced last Saturday, that radio waves traveled only 165,000 miles a second and were slower than light waves.

The radio association, through John V. Hogan, recognized expert in the field of radiography, declared that "the conclusions reached by Captain See are not supported by facts, "and that neither of the tests he referred to can be taken as accurate basis for determining the speed of radio waves."

Citing one of the tests upon which Captain See based his computations Hogan said: "In March, this year, when a wireless signal was sent from a station near New York to Warsaw, Poland, and reflected back in .054 of a second, two relays were involved—one in transferring the radio signal to a wire which connected the receiver [illegible] in Poland, and the other in connecting the Polish transmitter to this wireline. The time lag caused by these two relays and the line connecting them could easily increase the time for the radio impulse from .046, the round trip time of a light wave, to .054 of a second, the recorded time of the [illegible]."

Professing concern over Captain See's announcement because it "desires to see only authoritative and trustworthy information given to the radio public," the association quotes Hogan as saying:

"If and when any change in the velocity of radio waves is demonstrated to be a fact, all the wave length ratings of broadcasting stations will have to be changed to conform with the new figure for radio wave sneed. So fundamental a proposition should not be announced without adequate experimental proofs."

Tuberculosis

Miraculous Results Are Testified to By Tubercular Sufferers Who Have Used the "Haelan" Treatment at Home

Dr. E. M. Davis, a prominent Denver physician, says: "I have personally treated a large number of pulmonary tubercular cases with 'Haelan.' Cases of the chronic type where a continual loss of weight had been recorded responded by a gradual gain in weight, a cessation of coughing, elimination of the blood streaked sputum, renewed vigor and stamina, restored appetite, a ruddy complexion, warm hands and feet, clear eyes and a general robustness of constitution which surprised most of all the patients themselves."

Similar reports from tubercular patients thruout America have convinced us that pulmonary tuberculosis can be overcome with "HAELAN" without leaving the home and without the inconvenience and enormous expense of traveling to distant climates.

Therefore, we offer "Haelan" to the public anywhere at very nominal cost on a rigid GUARANTEE TO PRODUCE SATISFACTORY RESULTS, or its full purchase price will be refunded. This guarantee is backed by a deposit of $1,000.00 in a large Denver bank.

Full particulars, testimonials, prices and a book on "The Modern Treatment for Tuberculosis" will be mailed free on request. Write today. The General Remedies Co., Dept. P-8, Loop Building, Denver, Colorado.—Advertisement.

ADVERTISING MEN REVIVE PLAN FOR NEW COURTHOUSE

Planned to Have Question Placed on Ballot in November.

Another attempt will be made to have a new Alameda county courthouse building, it was decided at the luncheon of the Advertising Club at the Hotel Oakland

Rudolph C Bitterman president of the club announced that he would seek the permission of the organization's board of directors to appear before the Community Council as an official representative of the club and ask that some steps be taken to bring up the subject again in an effort to put over the defeated bond issue

MEANS APPROVAL

It is understood that Bitterman will suggest that the proposition be placed on the ballot in the fall election The Community Council is an organization composed of heads of all business men's and civic improvement bodies in Oakland The proposal by Bitterman was generally acclaimed by the advertising men.

Bitterman expressed regret that the courthouse proposition was defeated He declared that the general sentiment among those who had worked for the success of the issue is that the measure would have been carried had it not been placed on a ballot at the same time as another large bond proposal

URGES EARLY FIGHT

"Let us start the fight now and get again for a courthouse that will be a credit rather than a disgrace to a county as large and prosperous as Alameda" he said We are all delighted of course at the success of the Highland Hospital bond issue and I feel assured that the voters of Alameda county will approve the issuance of bonds for a new courthouse if the matter can be brought up again

J. M Budd sales manager of the Pacific Railways Advertising Company was the speaker and explained preliminary research work carried on in the field of railroad advertising before the "copy" is conceived written and placed in circulation

The musical feature of the program was furnished by W H Hancock baritone entertainment manager at Yosemite Lodge He was secured through the efforts of Miss Zanette W Potter, chairman of the club's entertainment committee

Nurse Stacey's Suggestions to Middle Aged Women

MRS H STACEY
COLLINSVILLE ILLINOIS

ALMOST trying period of a woman's life is that of middle age, fraught with danger to some extent, and invariably with most annoying symptoms, such as hot-flashes, smothering spells, nervous troubles, irregularities and fainting spells.

When a woman like Nurse Stacey after many years of caring for the sick writes a letter of praise for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound like the following, it should influence other women who are passing through the Change of Life to try it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a root and herb medicine especially adapted to act upon the feminine system. It helps nature to build up the weakened, nervous system, and enables women to pass this trying period with the least possible annoying symptoms.

Nurse Stacey's Letter Follows:

COLLINSVILLE, ILL.—"I could almost write a book in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound In the first place my husband induced me to try it and I have continued taking it off and on for years I have become a well woman from its use and am now taking it through the Change of Life just to be on the safe side I first took it for backache and a weak condition of the whole system and I think it saved my life and my baby. She is now a mother and takes it herself and I think I can count as high as a hundred women I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to, as I am a practical nurse. Use my letter in any way you see fit for I will stand by what I write"—Mrs. H. STACEY, Collinsville, Illinois.

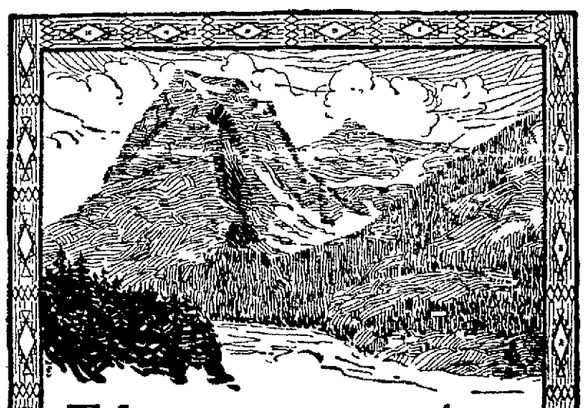

Another Woman's Similar Experience

"During the Change of Life I was always tired and weak, could hardly do my work and did not care to go anywhere or talk to people After I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I noticed a change and before I had taken four bottles of it I felt like a new person. I can and always will recommend it in cases like mine."—Mrs. JOS. WARISH, 1315 S. 14th St., Manitowoc, Wisconsin.

Take Mrs. Stacey's advice and try

Your laundry washed, dried and ironed in one day

THE woman who is so fortunate as to have an all-electric laundry is never "all tired out" when the ironing is over.

If she likes to "do up" the things herself, the Electric Washing Machine, Drier, Ironer, and other laundry appliances take all the rubbing and scrubbing—all the backaching manual labor out of wash day. The Electric Drier makes it possible to dry the whole wash the same day it is laundered.

Call on your electrical dealer for estimates on the complete wiring and installation of these labor saving appliances in your laundry.

Pageantry Marks Rites in Great Bowl: Officers Get Commissions.

offer which your fellow citizens want. In the past others have served you; in the future you must serve others. In the past you have received; in the future you will give."

Marion Janet Harron, college debater and co-ed leader, registered from San Francisco, and Jack Lisgar Merrill of Berkeley, winner of the Rhodes scholarship for the coming year, were chosen from their classmates as student speakers on the commencement program.

COED URGES IDEALS IN SALESMANSHIP.

"When Half-Gods Go," was Miss Harron's subject. She made a plea against over-commercialism as emphasized in modern salesmanship and urged that ideals count more than monetary values.

"False gods of the market place lower the moral currency of the nation," she said. "They breed all the forms of political and economic graft and are responsible for some of our most unsavory episodes. They make democratic government despisable with undemocratic graft."

High ideals of service were asked by Merrill, a student in the college of mechanics, who drew upon John Muir, Franklin K. Lane, John and Joseph Le Conte and others prominent in western annals as men who gave 'their all' in their various diversified careers.

Merrill summed the desired goal of college graduates in these words:

"To use such talents and such skill as we have for the betterment of those about us and to exemplify by our conduct and in our ambitions the ideal of service."

COMMISSIONS PRESENTED STUDENT OFFICERS.

Today's commencement program was opened by the processional march of the university orchestra with the national anthem following. Dr. Oswald W. S. McCall pronounced invocation as the big audience and candidates stood with heads bowed. "America" was then sung and at its closing strains Miss Harron stepped forward to deliver her address, followed by Merrill.

The impressive ceremony of delivering military commissions next occupied the stage. General C. G. Morton, U. S. A., commanding the ninth corps area, presented commissions to students taking places in the Officers' Reserve Corps, while Governor Friend W. Richardson performed a similar task for officers in the students' cadet organization.

CAMPBELL PERSONALLY HANDS OUT SHEEPSKINS.

Hearty applause greeted Dr. Campbell as he stepped forward to deliver his parting words to his first graduating class. Followed then the conferring of degrees—first the long procession of members of the senior class receiving their sheepskins and then the winners of higher degrees and honors.

Following a system perfected by university officials candidates appeared alphabetically to receive their diplomas which were arranged in large "cages" wheeled on to the stage as the presentations were begun.

At the conclusion of the program the university hymn was sung, followed by benediction and therecessional march.

HUNDREDS RETURN TO AMA MATER.

Hundreds of graduates returned to the campus of their alma mater for today's exercises and marched bearing the banners of their classes in the academic procession. Prof. Charles Gilman Hyde, as master of ceremonies, led the long procession into the stadium, Dr. Campbell Governor Richardson, the regents and distinguished guests marching through a lane of black-gowned men and women of the faculty to their places on the stage.

Following the commencement program the annual alumni luncheon was held in Stephens Union, with covers for more than 400 former students.

GOVERNOR MAKES SHORTEST SPEECH.

In probably the shortest speech ever made in a commencement program Governor Richardson addressed the candidates for military commissions. Here is his entire address:

"I am glad to take part in this ceremony and present commissions to the splendid young men you see before you."

Although the immense size of the California bowl prevented any congestion, the temperature within the concrete shell was found uncomfortably high, particularly by the older persons who were present. There were three prostrations during the exercises, but with no serious results.

Commencement Is Featured by Two Weddings

BERKELEY, May 14. — Two commencement brides featured today's graduation at the university.

One, Frances Bernstein, 20, of Hollister, slipped off to Redwood City yesterday and became Mrs. Joe Silverman. Justice of the Peace Ray Griffin united them, just twenty-four hours before the ceremony today which gave the bride her sheepskin. Mrs. Silverman is a member of the Alpha Epsilon Phi Sorority. Silverman received his degree from the university a year ago and is now continuing his law studies on the campus.

Silverman was captain of the varsity boxing team last year and comes from San Francisco. He is a member of the Kappa Nu Fraternity and the Alpha Chi Beta Honor Society.

Tonight at the Tewanh Clubhouse, Miss Hazel Nixon of Red Bluff, will be surrounded by college classmates for her wedding to Ferdinand V. Custer, university graduate and Native Sons traveling fellow. The wedding will be an impressive event attended by a large number of guests.

Tradition Broken By Change of Scene

BERKELEY, May 14.—A tradition of twenty years was broken with today's commencement at the University of California.

For the first time since 1903 the graduation exercises were taken from the Greek theater, impressive scene of former academic assemblages.

The growth of graduating classes in the past five years and the consequently large number of relatives and friends seeking admission to commencements caused the abandonment of the Greek theater for the new stadium. The need of a larger place of assemblage has been keenly felt on the campus for several years. During the past two years hundreds were unable to get into the amphitheater to see their sons and daughters graduate. Today not a person was turned away.

S. F. Clubwomen Guests of College

BERKELEY, May 14.—As special guests of the university officials, a delegation og 36 members of the See and Know San Francisco First Club, composed of prominent clubwomen, attended today's commencement exercises to learn first-hand what the state institution is doing as educational leader of California.

Manufacturers to Have New Directory

Arrangements for the publication of a manufacturers' directory for the Eastbay in connection with a survey of the industrial district were made at a meeting of the manufacturers' committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce in the Hotel Oakland today.

A sub-committee on harbor development also met to discuss further Oakland's harbor development program.

A second meeting of the committee planning for Music week in 1925 was held in the chamber's headquarters this afternoon.

Annual Novena to Be Opened Tonight

Tonight marks the opening of the annual Novena of nine days in honor of St. Rita at St. Mary's Catholic church, Eighth and Jefferson streets, at 8 o'clock. Devotions will consist of masses at 7 and 9 o'clock each morning, and prayers, sermon and benediction at 8 in the evening, until May 22.

The opening sermon will be preached by the Rev. Fr. Cullen, editor of the San Francisco Monitor. Each morning after the 9 o'clock mass there will be benediction of the blessed sacrament. On Friday there will be exposition of the blessed sacrament throughout the day with the Novena devotions in the evening.

Number of Degrees Shows Drop of 161

BERKELEY, May 14.—Degrees conferred today at the University of California show a decrease of 161 from the number awarded last year.

Growth of the southern branch and higher academic standards for students are given as reasons for the decrease in graduates. The 1924 graduating class numbered 1227 students, while 928 higher degrees were given in the various graduate schools, making a total of 2155 degrees.

In addition the university this year granted 111 certificates in non-degree courses, including dental hygiene, public health, farm school and training school for nurses.

Last year's degrees numbered 2316. In 1921-22 there were 1983 degrees conferred; in 1920-21, 1652, and 1919-20, 1291.

Serve Others, Beware of Professional Reformers, Is Message of Campbell

Vote On Public Measures After Deliberation, Is Advice.

BERKELEY, May 14.—Following is the first commencement address to be delivered by President William W. Campbell to a graduating class at the University of California:

"This day is a definite point on the time-line of each of your lives. It marks the termination of one period, and the commencement of another period. For nearly all of you it witnesses a sudden change of status. In the past, your parents, your high school teachers, your university professors, have been lending you their helping hands. Fortunate are you if they have not carried you too often when you should have been learning the better to use your own wings. In the past, others have served you; in the future you must serve others. In the past, you received; in the future you will give; and although your years on the campus will, in general, have been the happiest of your lives, as you yourselves will decide fifty years hence when your days of retrospection arrive, yet you will in due time learn that to give is more blessed than to receive.

MUST SERVE FELLOW MEN.

"A few of you will return to the University next August, for a year, or for two or three years, in preparation for the teaching, the medical, the dental, the legal, or other profession; but the greater number of you will tomorrow be out in the world of affairs. Just as you came to the University with high purpose, so you are now looking forward to and planning for successful careers. To attain that which the world calls success, you must serve your fellow men. You must have that to offer which your fellow citizens want. And you, in supplying it, and those who receive it, must have mutual profit, whether the dividends be expressed in terms of money, or in units of a more ideal nature. You who have resided in the University, and we who are charged with large responsibility for the University's policies, are interested to learn how well you are prepared to render this service. You and we desire to know whether your life on the campus has been lived to good effect. The next few years, for most of you, will be years of employment by others. Are you of strong and fine character? Can your employers absolutely depend upon you? Will your fellow employes learn quickly that your share of the work will be done well and on time? These qualities are fundamental to success. Your four years, more or less, in this idealistic atmosphere, your experiences in classrooms, your associations in student activities, your insistence upon good sportsmanship in all things, your reflections upon the philosophy of life, here taught and exemplified in so many ways, —these should have been efficient in the development of character along wholesome lines.

THINK FOR YOURSELVES.

"The problems of the world are to be solved by those who do the thinking. Next month, and next year, if you will but observe the thousands of people who surround you, you will find that relatively few men and women are physically lazy, but that an unduly large share are mentally lazy, or at least do little thinking. If you, in addition to maintaining and developing character, and to learning how to work, have also learned how to think, your college career will have been a success. If you today lack any one of those credentials, your life in the University will prove to have been at least a partial failure. The chief risk run by the college student is that he will take the [illegible] obligations: that he will let others do his thinking for him.

"It may be said, as a part of the whole truth, that a successful life, in so far as its definite engagements are concerned, consists in the solution of one problem after another, year in and year out. Your special service to the world will consist in problem-solving. How has your University prepared you for this service? Not by putting in your hands the actual solutions of the problems of the future, but by teaching you the fundamental principles which underlie the chief subjects of human activity, and in illustrating those principles by applying them to the problems of the past. The problems of the past, if solved, are problems no longer. The problems of the future are quite certain to be different from those of the past. If you thoroughly comprehend the general principles underlying your subject, if you make certain of this by illustrative applications to the problems of the past, then you have learned not only the solutions of the problems of the future, but how, by giving thought to them, you are to seek for the solutions.

RECOMPENSE IN EXPERIENCE.

"In setting out upon your careers, you will probably find need for humility of spirit. The conditions which at first, and possibly for several years, will continue to surround you, will in general be set by others. The ideal conditions with which you have become familiar will rarely be encountered. Your employers may not at first set so high a value upon your services as you are now anticipating. My advice, is, be modest as to your salary in the first year or two. Let the chance to learn, the opportunity to show what you can do, be a part of your recompense. Industry, sterling character, an imagination under good control, and a fair sense of humor—the possession and exercise of these qualities will in due time win success for you.

"You will live in the midst of people. Many of your neighbors will know that you are university graduates. They will expect much of you. Do not disappoint them. Be interested in the affairs of your community, of your state, of your nation. Do not forget your deep obligations to the State of California, which has offered you great educational opportunity almost without cost. Consider well the many proposals made for community and state betterment before you decide for or against them. Orators will be in evidence with plausible remedies for the ills of the world. Under the impetus of war psychology, many people since 1918 have been trying to make the world a great deal better, all at once, and without regard to cost. In consequence thereof, the tax bills that the farmers and the city dwellers alike are called upon to pay are unduly high, as all will agree except those who do not have to pay any. Only recently have the voters of our nation shown [illegible] voting of bond issues to do this and to do that good thing. Let your own voting and your advocacy of public measures be based upon thought and reason. Be not swayed by professional reformers, by untried experiments and experimentors upon the body politic. Seek to profit by the lessons of history.

KEEP ABREAST OF TIMES.

"During the term of your residence in the University, immersed in its stimulating atmosphere, it has been natural and easy for you to be interested in subjects intellectual. Henceforth, for many members of the class, widely scattered, the intellectual stimulus will be weaker. It would be well to recognize this at once and be on your guard against it. Aim to keep fairly abreast of the times in the intellectual world. Do not fear to be called a man of culture, or a woman of education and refinement, by your friends and fellow citizens.

"Would you do something for your Alma Mater? In the first decade, or while you are establishing yourselves, there may be little of a material and tangible nature that you will be able to do for it. But remember always that you are products of the University of California, and, that you can so live your daily lives, with energy and good judgment, with patience and the saving sense of humor, that your fellow citizens will the better realize the University has something well worth while to offer to those who dwell for a time within its gates. The government of our state has been generous to the University in the matter of appropriations for its development and support. Further, the public spirited men and women of California have made to it thousands of gifts, both great and small, for for construction of several of its finest buildings, for the endowing of professorships, for the equipment and conducting of research, for the meeting of student needs through scholarships, fellowships, and personal loans. But let us not forget that the University's greatest asset consists of the love and affection which the people of California have for it. May you, above all else, be good citizens; dignified, reasonable, temperate, constructive, wise in all things. Speaking for the Alma Mater, I trust that each one of you has now definitely before you a high purpose; and, I wish for each of your the abundant accomplishment of that purpose. May the world be better from your having lived in it!"

Chief's Speech Links College And Life Work

IN his commencement address to the graduating class sat the University of California today, President W. W. Campbell of the university made a number of comments on student life and life when the student days are over. Following is a summary of his address:

"Next month, and next year, if you will but observe the thousands of people who surround you, you will find that relatively few men and women are physically lazy, but that an unduly large share are mentally lazy.

"Your employers may not at first set so high a value upon your services as you are now anticipating. Let the chance to learn, the opportunity to show what you can do, be a part of your recompense. 25,000 Attend Exercises, Doubling Previous Record

Approximately 25,000 persons, the largest crowd ever assembled at a campus function, are estimated to have joined in today's commencement exercises at the University of California.

James K. Fisk, assistant recorder of the faculties, announced yesterday that 21,000 tickets had been distributed to relatives and friends of graduates as well as to others requesting them. Every ticket, with the exception of those reserved for distinguished guests, was gone yesterday morning.

Added to the 21,000 persons in the audience were approximately 2500 students receiving degrees as well as faculty members, alumni, regents and honored visitors. Although more than 400 covers were laid, many graduates returning to the campus were turned away from today's annual alumni luncheon which followed the commencement program in Stephens Union. Reservations for the luncheon were exhausted several days ago.

The number of persons in today's audience was twice that ever witnessing any commencement on the campus, the Greek theater, scene of previous exercises, accommodating 10,000 at the utmost.

FOUR-ROUNDERS BOX AT OAKLAND AUDITORIUM TONIGHT

WILLIE HOPPE AND JAKE SCHAEFER WILL GIVE OAKLAND BILLIARD EXHIBITION THIS WEEK

HEAVYWEIGHTS WILL FURNISH THREE BOUTS ON TONIGHT'S PROGRAM

Jimmy McLarnin Will Meet Stubborn Opposition in Abie Gordon; New York Lightweight to Tackle Teddy O'Hara; McLean Meets De Pinto.

By BOB SHAND.

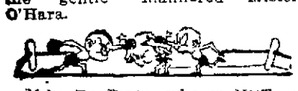

Figuring that with three heavyweight bouts on the program, two of them between verdant maulers, the show will be over quickly, Promoter T. J. Simpson is offering eight battles at the Auditorium this evening instead of the customary seven. The Glotzbach-Farrell and O'Dair-Thompson affairs should terminate in jig time as all the big fellows know is to swing, and one good swing ends these kind of arguments. Mr. Glotzbach did himself proud at San Jose last evening when in his first appearance in any ring he goaled a gent named Danny Gallagher in one wallop. The men walked to the center of the ring. Goltzbach shoved out his right hand and walked back again while kind friends bore Mr. Gallagher from the scene of carnage. Then we have with us also Franal Ruffles and Fred Sullivan who promise to be real ferocious. Last time out Ruffles forgot all about blocking and took a fine lacing from the John Burdick entry. Sullivan stopped Franal's winning streak so the Hanford Sunday School teacher is out for revenge tonight.

Light-heavyweights Jack Reeves and Ray Pelkey will do their stuff in the main event and the bout promises to be a repetition of their last meeting which ended in a draw. Pelkey boxed rings around his man in the first two rounds but Reeves, as usual, came back in the last two and chased Ray all around the ring. Eddie "Hats" Parker, Pelkey's adviser has told Ray to lay off the early pace tonight and save something for the finish. Keeping away from Reeves when Jack gets thoroughly warmed up is some considerable job for any fighter, but Pelkey thinks he can do it.

Jimmy McLarnin should be extended tonight when he meets Abie Gordon. Jimmy has been winning under wraps in his last few starts but this Gordon boy is experienced in the four round game and may give Jimmy trouble.

Archie Walker, former amateur lightweight champion of New York, will start here against Teddy O'Hara, the noted roiler. Archie won a close decision over Eddie White in San Francisco recently but he did not set the woods on fire. He is a slugger, however, and should get along very nicely with the gentle mannered Mister O'Hara.

Mike De Pinto, who is NOT a pony, will tangle with Stewart McLean. Mike's principal claim to fame is a victory over Joe Gorman by the decision route. He is fast and aggressive and has shown up well in the gymnasium.

Billy Harold will help Trench King open the show.

No Chance for Harry Wills to Get Any Action

Politicians Afraid of Colored Boy Getting Too Prominent.

BY DAVID J. WALSH
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, May 14.—Following the virtual elimination of the Wills-Madden transaction by the fire department's order that Queensboro stadium, proposed scene of the affair, be demolished, came the tip today that Harry Wills would not be allowed to box with Jack Dempsey September 7 or any other time, in spite of Tex Rickard's announcement to that effect. The tip which was advanced by several men who might be said to be on the inside contained the intimation that Wills was being made the victim of persecution because of his color.

It was declared that the quashing of the Wills-Madden enterprise was merely the preface of what would happen should the colored man attempt to proceed with the Dempsey bout. Fear of the consequences is said to have moved those high in political affairs to take this attitude.

It was even insinuated that Rickard wasn't entirely sincere in lining up Wills for Dempsey, the good word being that the promoter did so in a moment of pique at Firpo, the furious, who was and is giving him the run around. It is said he believed he could "bring Firpo to his senses" by announcing a date for Dempsey and Wills.

RICKARD WOULD LOSE.

The argument advanced in support of this belief is that neither Dempsey nor Wills would be the loser. The only real decision to be lost would be suffered by none other than Tex Rickard, they say. His gate, they pointed out, would not gross more than $1,200,000 if the bout were to be conducted at Boyle's Thirty Acres. Of this Dempsey would get at least $600,000 and Wills $200,000. This would leave $400,000 for Rickard before expenses were paid, provided New Jersey was that kind of a place. In reality there would be nothing left for Rickard. If the matter was left entirely to his preference he would highly esteem matching Firpo and Wills for early in the summer with the winner taking on Dempsey in the fall.

Rickard happens to think that no man in the world, with the exception of Dempsey, can beat Firpo. Therefore it is his idea that in this way he could get rid of Wills at a profit.

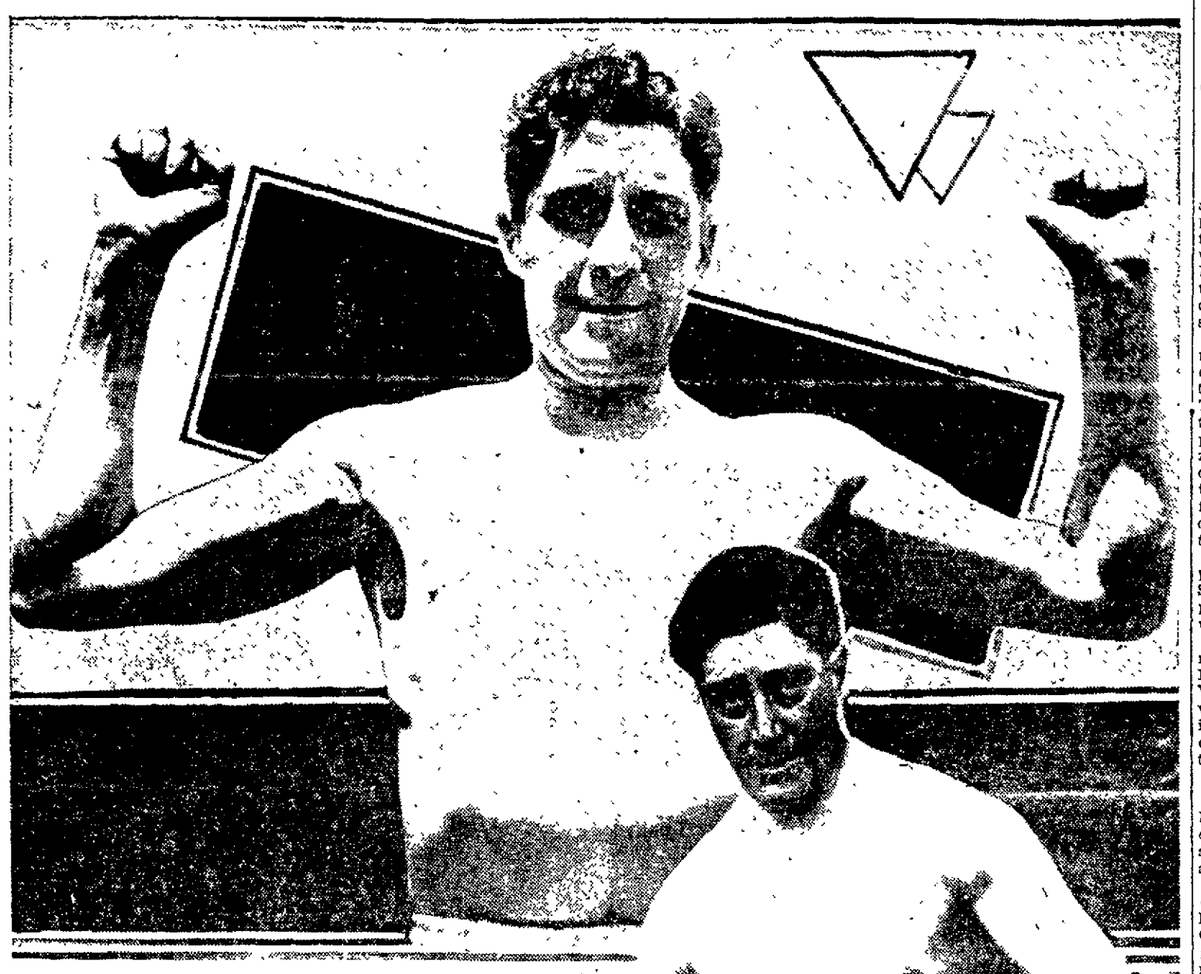

TO SAVE BOXING

It is also said there would not be any political antipathy toward a Wills-Firpo bout. There would have been none, they say, to the Wills-Madden affair had it not been for the fact that a quick knockout for the colored man would have placed him in a position where a championship meeting would have been difficult to avoid.

That is a condition that leaders of both political faiths are anxious to prevent. They care nothing for Dempsey, it is said, but only for the future boxing. What they really fear, according to gossip, is that Wills may work himself to such a position in public favor that a match with Dempsey would be inevitable. In that case, they say, it would be necessary to have the bout killed and in so doing might kill boxing also.

Matzenauer's Former Hubby Turns Fighter

Last time FLOYD GLOTZBACH'S picture appeared in the paper it was as a humble chauffeur who had married Madame Margaret Matzenauer, the famous opera singer. Yesterday Glotzbach called at The TRIBUNE office to be photographed as a boxer. Tonight he meets another green heavyweight, Billy Farrell, at the Auditorium.

Tanforan Notes

Saturday's feature race for approved gentlemen riders is expected to fill today. Among those who are expected to accept mounts are Archie Johnson, Ritchie and Lee Roberts, Lawrence Kelly, Will Tevis, Harry Hastings and H. J. Marsh.

Tanforan racing owners have been asked to nominate their entries in Saturday's race for gentlemen today. A reward of $20 will be given to the caretaker of the best dressed horse in this race.

Ladies will be admitted free to the grounds and grandstand on Tuesdays and Fridays. Yesterday there was a notable gathering of sportsmen from San Francisco and Oakland.

Detectives Galvin and McConnell, who have been on the track daily until yesterday, were detailed in town. Details of police were placed in front of places where bookmaking was suspected in San Francisco, hence the flight down the peninsula.

Starter Marsh Cassidy has received offers from Thorncliff and Devonshire. Thus far during the meeting Cassidy's starts have been pronounced good with one exception, and that was in the fifth race yesterday afternoon, when Faber skittled about.

Spread Eagle, with 117; Combustor, 109, Kaula, 105, and Tracer, 103, with apprentice allowance claimed, are the four who are due to start in the third race this afternoon, a mile and 70 yards. Combuster and Spread Eagle have won at Tanforan, and Kaula and Tracer have also made commendable showings. This promises to be one of the most watchful numbers carded this afternoon.

Both Jockeys Abel and Frey added to their list of winnings yesterday, each having ridden two winners. Frey continues to lead the list. Last year Abel was a stable boy. At this meeting practically every owner on the track is seeking the lads services from the Nancolas family.

Next Sunday afternoon the Tanforan race track will be "location" for a motion picture company, headed by Patsy Ruth Miller. Action pictures will be taken from noon up to the time of the start of the races, and during the afternoon the cameras will be kept busy on atmosphere stuff. With Patsy are Lucy Fox and Matt Moore, among others.

Eddie Taplan, Oakland boy, who rode many a winner in the days of Emeryville, is an attache of the office on the grounds. Eddie is still on crutches as a result of his accident while taking Combustor to the post last November. Combustor also broke up Metcalf.

Tom Sharkey wants to know if an Oakland referee of note will take a day off and come over here and do his stuff. Alex Greggains, Johnny Hergert, Sam Berger and Al Naughton, says Tom has threatened him and the ex-heavyweight deep sea sailor announces to the world that a battle royal will suit him. The quartet gave Tom a merry time yesterday and so did Jim Griffin. Tom told Jim he would not do, as he might add to the occasion by setting off firecrackers.

Purse Raised to Help Sam Langford

LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—Sam Langford, one of the greatest boxers that ever lived, will go east within a few days to undergo an operation to save the sight of one eye.

Following an appeal by Charles Murry, Vernon boxing fans raised a purse of $1130.95 at the ringside last night. The money will be used to defray Sam's expenses to New York, where a specialist will operate on his eye. The sight of the other eye is already gone.

Local Players in Sacramento Tournament

Central California Lawn Tennis Championships May 30.

Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and all East Bay tennis enthusiasts are pointing to the annual Central California Lawn Tennis Championships, which will be held in Sacramento, May 30, 31 and June 1. Indications are that there will be a record-breaking entry list from this section.

At the Berkeley Club, there is a movement on foot to send a big delegation of racquet enthusiasts to the Capital City's big netfest. The Sacramentans have a reputation for hospitality. The stag parties of the Sacramento "Wuzzers" have become famous with court athletes, and it is noted that this year's program announces that festivities will start off with one of these much talked-of social functions.

The Sacramento event is always productive of some high class sport. Some of the country's greatest exponents of the game have been cup winners in the Central California.

William M. Johnston, who by reason of his successful invasion of Europe last year and his victory at Wimbledon, brought home the world's title when he arrived back in San Francisco, has twice been crowned men's single champion in the Central California event.

MANY FAMOUS PLAYERS

Clarence J. Griffen, also of San Francisco and formerly national doubles champion with Johnston also holds a cup for having won the annual Central California classic.

Roland Roberts of San Francisco, erstwhile national clay court title holder and for many years Pacific Coast champion, has won the singles honors in the Sacramento racquet event on two different occasions.

The doubles championships for men have likewise fallen to tennisers of International or National fame, including Johnston and Griffin, Roberts and Willis Davis, Robert and Howard Kinsey, and Wallace Bates and Philip Bettens.

Women players of prominence also have figured in the finals of the Central California tournament in previous years. Helen Baker, for many years conceded to be the best of the women stars on the Pacific Coast, Marjorie Thorne, Sarita Van Vliet Wood and Avery Follett are some of the Coast celebrities who have carried home cups for having won the singles finals.

WOMEN PARTICIPANTS

Doubles trophies for women have been shared by Helen Baker and Mrs. Ream Leachman, Helen Baker and Helen Wills, who in now on her way to battle for the world's title in France. Lucille Murphy and Loretta Vennon, and Carolyn Swartz and Avery Follett.

Joe I. Brunschwiler, director general of the tournament, stated this morning that he had obtained the most valuable list of prizes ever offered for any tennis event yet held west of the Rockies.

J. Schaefer to Meet Hoppe in Two-Day Play

Champion Billiardist and Ex-Champion to Perform Tomorrow and Friday.

Willie Hoppe and Jake Schaefer who have been entertaining billiard fans in San Francisco the past few days, will make their appearance in Oakland tomorrow afternoon for the first time in exhibition play at Wright's Billiard parlor at 3 o'clock.

The champion and ex-champion will hold forth in four sessions during their stay of two days in Oakland, playing matches at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and 8 o'clock in the evening both tomorrow and Friday.

Schaefer and Hoppe have been on their present tour since January 24, during which time Schaefer has amassed a lead of 2500 points over his rival. The tour is scheduled to be concluded in Los Angeles the latter part of May.

Willie Hoppe has held the championship over a period of seventeen years, broken only by a period of sixteen months during which Schaefer held sway. The two provided the keenest possible competition in billiard play and their 1600 point match in Oakland, divided into four blocks of 400, should afford local billiard enthusiasts a real treat.

William F. Hoppe, with the single exception of 1921, has been 18.2 balk line billiard champion since 1906, a record never beaten by any other billiardist for continuous holding of a championship.

His right to the championship over such a period cannot be disputed for he has defended his title every year and was successful until Schaefer tied Hoppe in the Chicago tournament in 1921 by crushing Hoppe 400 to 26 and winning the playoff the following night.

Last night in San Francisco Hoppe overcame a lead of 81 held by Schaefer in the evening play after Schaefer had won the afternoon block of 400. Hoppe won last night with an unfinished run of 82 and leads on the two days of play, 1600 to 1505.

Another 400 block will be played this afternoon and the final 400 of the San Francisco match will be played tonight.

OAKS HAVE HARD FIGHT TO KEEP IN FIRST DIVISION

BERKELEY HIGH NINE DEFEATS ALAMEDA AND WILL MEET ANALY FOR NORTH COAST TITLE

Oaks Unable To Win With Four Hurlers

Earl Baldwin's Home Run With Bags Loaded Puts Ball Game on Ice.

By EDDIE MURPHY.

The San Francisco Seals pulled ahead another notch yesterday in the race for the Coast League pennant, but the interest is just as keen as ever in the race. The Seals, Bees and Tigers look safe to hold the first three positions on the ladder for the remainder of the week, but there is a keen fight on for the fourth position which the Oaks now hold by one point. The Oaks passed up a chance to tighten their hold on the position yesterday when they allowed the Seattle Indians to give them a 11 to 4 drubbing in the opening game of the series on the home diamond. It was the poorest showing of the local team on the home lot this season, but probably one of these off-days that every team has now and then.

Battling the Oaks for the fourth position are the Beavers and Seattle Indians, both with the same average. The Beavers did not open their series with the Angels yesterday so there was no chance for them to win and step ahead of the Oaks, or to lose and slip back.

HARRY KRAUSE FAILED.

Manager Ivan Howard picked Harry Krause to pitch the first game against the Indians, and Harry had his first bad day in a long time, the Indians nicking him for a pair of runs on three hits in the first inning and getting another off him on two hits in the second before Harry Seibold was sent in to retire two batters and the side of strikes.

But, as usual, Seibold did not last long and the third inning was enough for him, as he issued two walks, and a fielder's choice filled the bases, after which Earl Baldwin hammered a ball over the left field fence for a home run.

George Foster pitched a couple of good innings, but like Seibold he could not go the route, and was lifted after the seventh inning. In fact, fans demanded that both he and Seibold be lifted. When Manager Howard sent young Grant Harris to the mound for his Coast League debut, the fans applauded loudly and the chances are that the kid will be given a chance to start a game in the near future, or be used oftener as a relief hurler. He did very well, although a run was made off him in the ninth.

Manager Ivan Howard protested to Umpire Bill Phyle that Vean Gregg, the slender Seattle southpaw hurler, was throwing a "spitball," and Howard claims that Phyle said Gregg had special permission to use it. But if Billy will read over the last letter sent out by President Harry Williams, he will learn that it included a list of spitball pitchers allowed to pitch in the Coast League, and that the Seattle Club has not a single one on its list. Still Gregg always had the Indian Sign on the Oaks and he pitched a great game yesterday. He did not extend himself much after getting a safe lead. The Oaks got ten hits off him, Pete Read getting three of them.

Helen Wills Sails; Is Silent About Chances

NEW YORK, May 14.—Carrying the hopes of America for victory in the English championships and Olympic games, Helen Wills, California school girl and national tennis champion, sailed early today on the Berengaria with her mother.

Before leaving the champion worked in final practice on the courts of West Side Tennis club. Observers were impressed by the noticeable improvement in her volleying.

"I just do not know what to think," was the girl's answer to the question of her ability to beat Mlle. Lenglen. The meeting of the French woman and of America's plucky little girl overshadows even the marathon race of the Olympic games in interest.

Tilden May Yet Be Saved To Davis Cup

Action of U. S. L. T. A. Will Give Tennis Star Chance to Compete.

NEW YORK, May 14.—Speedy solution of the tennis player-writer issue that has revolved for the past few weeks about the racquet and pen of America's national champion William T. Tilden, was predicted last night by both sides to the controversy.

The feeling of satisfaction in both camps followed the action of President George W. Wightman in paving the way for a special meeting of the United States Lawn Tennis Association to reconsider the whole play-writer question. This step preceded publication of a statement by Tilden asserting his readiness to abide by the decision of such a special meeting and adding that, on the day it is called he will withdraw his resignation from the American Davis cup team.

Tilden's friends hailed President Wightman's action as the first step toward victory for their viewpoint. Some asserted advance knowledge of Tilden's statement promoted the apparently hasty decision of association officials and confidently expressed the belief that sentiment, crystallizing in favor of Tilden, would result in rescinding or radically revising the player-writer rule at the proposed special meeting.

The date of the proposed meeting is at present indefinite, but it was possible that the necessary machinery for it could not be set up before probably July 1.

Local Women Golfers Lose By Lone Point

Claremont Club Defeated by Olympic Players on Local Links.

By W. D. NICOLL.

At Claremont yesterday the local women golfers playing the opening half of their home and home contest with the Olympic team lost by one point. The contest was played under handicap strokes at holes and only in one instance did the visitors have to concede the local players a handicap. Mrs. Robt. A. Roos, the Northern State champion, conceding Mrs. H. A. Prole 2 strokes, finished all even. Mrs. Prole has on many occasions won matches from opponents conceded to be superior, but yesterday's tie must be classed as one of her best efforts as the champion is just about at the top of her game at present.

Miss Alice Knowles playing No. 2 with Mrs. W. G. Gilmore, the club champion, was conceding 3 strokes to the Olympic representative. This match was also halved, Miss Knowles succeeding in regaining her handicap, but just failing to attain victory in a contest that featured many thrilling plays.

MRS. McMULLIN SCORES

Mrs. G. H. McMullin was the first of the visitors to score points, Mrs. R. R. Yates was conceding her 3 strokes, a handicap she was unable to recover, and the visitor secured three valuable points from one of Claremont's most consistent winners. Mrs. M. Milton had to score a brilliant 91 to win 3 points from Mrs. G. W. Acton, to whom she was conceding 3 points handicap. Mrs. J. C. Cushing put the local team ahead when she scored the maximum points in her game with Mrs. M. B. Wentz, who was in receipt of 3 strokes from the local player, Mrs. Cushing playing brilliantly, medaling the course in 88.

Mrs. B. P. Legare won all three points from Mrs. Karl Anderson. The Olympic player found the Claremont course difficult to negotiate and her opponent gave her few chances to score. Mrs. F. A. Kales was not playing up to her regular club form and could not concede her opponent a 3 stroke allowance, Mrs. J. F. Toule scoring 2 points.

A THRILLING BATTLE.

Mrs. H. H. Sherwood and Mrs. C. Davis had a thrilling battle to the home green when the visitor with her one stroke allowance just gained the verdict by one point. Mrs. H. H. Brunn and Mrs. A. B. Harrison scored victories over the local players, Miss Violet Whitney and Mrs. Clyde Waterman, by 3 and 2 points, respectively, the margin in each case representing the strokes allowance the Claremonters were conceding their opponents.

Belgium Eliminated In Cup Competition

TORQUAY, England, May 14.—Great Britain today eliminated Belgium from the 1924 Davis Cup competition, winning three out of the five matches which made up the first round contest between these countries. As a result the British will play Spain in the second round.

Last Night's fight results

SAN JOSE, May 14.—Floyd Glotzbach, Mme. Matzenauer's former "wild mustard" chauffeur-husband, last night demonstrated that "he can fight" when he disposed of Danny Gallagher of Oakland in the record time of two seconds in the feature bout at the East Side arena of the Alum Rock Athletic club. Feinting with his left Glotzbach caused Gallagher to drop his guard, shooting over a perfect right to the chin that ended the encounter.

Of the seven events on the card five ended in knockouts. Two of the main events, however, terminated without a decision. Young Hank Roberts of San Jose and Tim Callahan of Portland were evenly matched as were Mason Griffin and Gene Cline.

Eddie St. Clair of Oakland was given a tehcnical knockout in the third round of his battle with Billie Mulcahy of the same city; Buck Sims knocked out Stanley Oday in the second; Happy Carlson put Eddie Garcia away in the second, and Frank Predough put over a knockout in the second session of his go with Al Robinson.

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—Billy Wells, British welterweight, was awarded a decision against Bert Colima, Whittier middleweight, when fouled last night in the second round of a four-round bout at Vernon arena.

ABERDEEN, Wash., May 14.—Travie Davis, Everett welterweight, lost by a technical knockout in the second round to Ted Kreche of Hoquiam in the main event of a boxing card here last night when he turned his ankle.

Yesterday's Doings on the DIAMONDS

Edwin Goebel, new outfielder of the Oaks made his debut before local fans and showed up very well. He gathered one single and drew two walks, but showed up the best in the outfield. He covers lots of ground and is fast on his feet. Several times he went over into Ted Cather's territory to gather in drives. He made a running catch of Billy Lane's long drive to left center in the third, and in the ninth he made the best fielding play of the game when he raced almost to the clubhouse and robbed Osborne of a home run. Another time he raced after a ball that Ted Cather should have been under, and dropped it after getting his bare hand on it. He looks like a good find.

Jimmy Welsh, who played with the Oakland K. C. championship team during the winter, celebrated his return to home with the Indians by geting four hits off the Oakland pitchers. One was a double. He drove in three runs.

Billy Lane looks as good in the outfield for the Indians as the first day he broke into the league as a member of the Oaks.

The customers enjoyed a good laugh when Vean Gregg stole third and Billy Lane second, while Seibold held the ball.

Spencer Adams failed to get a hit in five attempts yesterday. It is seldom that Adams goes without a hit.

Goebel opened the fifth with a hit, but died on first when Gregg fanned Read, Maderas and Foster in a row.

Louie Guisto was out of the lineup again, due to being spiked in the last game at Los Angeles Sunday. Louie is also bothered with his elbow which was hit a couple of times by pitched balls.

There was no doubt about the ball going over the fence the moment it left the bat of Earl Baldwin in the third inning when the bags were loaded. Earl is another Oakland sand-lot product, so these Oakland boys beat the locals almost single handed.

Hendricks stole home, and Bert Ellison second with the winning run in a twelve inning game between the Seals and Senators at Sacramento.

Five home runs were made at Salt Lake when the Bees defeated the Vernon Tigers 9 to 7. The Tigers made all their runs in the fourth inning.

Howard Lindimore hit two of the homers for the Bees. McDowell, Pete Schneider and Danny Murphy hit homers for the Tigers.

George Murchio, Oakland pitcher, was not in uniform yesterday. Instead he was in a hospital undergoing treatment for several boils, one of them caused a bad swelling on the elbow of his pitching arm and the doctor feared infection and ordered him to the hospital.

Julius (Dutch) Kaiser, the young pitcher farmed by the Oaks to Pendleton, Oregon, and who returned a couple of weeks ago after winning his first three starts, was out to see Ivan and Del Howard yesterday. The young fellow wants to be placed elsewhere.

Del Howard is anxious to know what Carl Tuma is doing at Baker, Oregon, where he was farmed. Del thinks he is going to be a great pitcher some day. Tuma lost his first start a couple of weeks ago, but the players behind him made many errors.

Paul Strand had another hitless game for the Athletics who lost 3 to 2 to the Indians. Paul is having a hard time getting base hits in the big tent.

Schikat Is Winner In Straight Falls

Richard Schikat took two straight falls from Dr. Stejke in San Francisco last night. The first fall was gained after an hour and a half. Stejke was dazed and succumbed to a toe hold in three seconds for the final flop. Santel was advertised to wrestle but did not do his stuff.

COTTAGE GROVE, Ore., May 14.—Ralph Hand will wrestle Ira Dern of Salt Lake City here next Tuesday night. Dern recently wrestled Billy Edwards to two draws.

Pitchers Are Wild in Final A.C.A.L. Game

Berkeley Scores All Runs in Two Innings for a 9 to 2 Victory.

Berkeley High School defeated Coach Ritter's Alameda High baseball team 9-2 yesterday at St Mary's and won the Alameda County championship. The Yellowjackets and Alamed had each won a game and were in a tie for first place honors previous to the game yesterday. Coach Jennings selected Grimshaw to do the mound work for the Berkeley aggregation and the big chucker held the Encinal lads to eight scattered hits and fanned nine. As Berkeley has five left-handed hitters in her line-up, Coach Ritter started Martin, a southpaw chucker, on the hill, but he failed to locate the plate and had to be relieved in the second inning. In the second innings the Redshirts scored seven runs off Martin and Fayen on three hits, five walks and a hit by pitcher.

Fayen was touched for a bevy of four hits and two runs in the second inning and gave way to Thornton when he also became wild. Thornton pitched fair ball and held the Berkeleyites scoreless for the remainder of the contest.

At the start of the contest Martin got out of a tight hole when with Anderson on second and Gilmore on third with one out, Blanchard speared Wyatt's line drive and doubled Anderson off of second with a fast throw. This play prevented Gilmore from scoring, as it retired the side.

Berkeley High will play Analy High school of Sebastopol, on either Friday or Saturday at Berkeley for the North Coast championship. The Sebastopol team has defeated Santa Rosa, Petalumia, Healdsburg and Sonoma for the privilege of meeting the A. C. A. L. champions.

Fremont High Takes Lead in Local League

Fremont high pulled ahead of Technical in the O. A. L. baseball standings when they defeated University high, 8-2, at Bayview yesterday while Tech was idle. Both teams got six hits, but the Cubs made eight errors behind Selmad to hoot the contest away. In the first inning the Green and Gold team made four runs on five University errors without getting a single hit. Fremont again tallied in the last inning when they bunched four of their hits for four runs.

Besides twirling a good game for the Tigers, Wosnack banged out three hits, one of them going for two sacks. The score:

Eastbay High Gridiron Men Start Practice

Spring football practice has started at many of the Eastbay schools in preparation for next fall's teams. Berkeley High started Monday with a big turnout, including eleven veterans, and will spend three weeks in going through the fundamentals of the game and trying to develop new material.

Piedmont started the spring grind with five veterans from the last year's first eleven to act as a foundation and plenty of new material for Coach Moyer to choose from. Tackling, blocking and signal practice will constitute the main events in the three weeks of scheduld practice, with a game looming on the horizon with the alumni eleven for the last week.

Technical high once more is surrounded by athletes donned in the well known mole skins, all ready to go when the gun sounds next fall.

Greek Athlete Meets Russian In Main Event

Husky Grapplers Ready to Do Their Stuff Tomorrow Night.

Gus Alex one of the many heavyweight wrestling champions of modern Greece will do his stuff at the Armory, 23rd and Grove streets tomorrow night with Al Karasick, of Russia on the other end of the bout. The Greek representative comes heralded as a real tough gent to do business with on the mat and the coffee houses down around the Point will send a big delegation to cheer for the visitor. Alex weighs a trifle of 190 pounds when in condition and he is a bit overweight at present.

Karasick has not been doing so well of late having dropped a pair to Mike Yokel but he hopes to redeem himself tomorrow. Al is a mighty competent grappler when in shape but he appeared stale in his last two starts. He has had a week's rest and says he is ready to flop 'em all again.

Pete Ainsbrener, the champion of Crockett and way points is advertised to wrestle J. Yermakof, a 165 pound Russian grappler who has not started here before.

The main event is scheduled to go two falls out of three with a two-hour limit prevailing.

"There's something about them you'll like"

Herbert Tareyton CIGARETTES

THE CONGRESSIONAL SLOGAN

"It Pays to Exercise."

The constituents of our congressmen will doubtless be surprised to know that in the basement of the House Office Building at Washington there is a perfectly appointed gymnasium. And here our athletic lawmakers keep themselves fit.

An unprecedented investigation, made a few years ago, showed that our federal congressmen were more subject to sickness and death than any other group of men engaged in sedentary occupation. Shortly after the World War broke out, Walter Camp came to Washington to help out by building up the physiques of our governing and managing champions. Pre-breakfast classes of from two dozen to a hundred of our dignified and corpulent officials twisted and grunted daily on the lawns of some of the cabinet members. The effects were soon noticeable in glowing cheeks, alert steps, and no more nervous, sleepless nights.

After the cessation of hostilities the congressmen, who had so greatly benefited from this regular exercise, saw the necessity of a plan for the continuance of it. Representative Fred D Britten, a former amateur boxing champion, and Congressman Daniel Reed, one of the best all around athletes Cornell has ever produced, fathered the congressional gymnasium. They signed up 125 other federal lawmakers, and by private subscription raised enough funds to buy equipment and hire instructors.

Uncle Sam donated a large store room, readily accesible to lockers and showers, and here, daily, the thud of the punching bag, the swish of the jumping rope, the creak of the weight and rowing machines, may be heard. Never be surprised if you are a constituent of one of these gym enthusiasts, and call at his office late one afternoon, to hear that he is taking his exercise.

There are enough of our federal representatives interested in this scheme now so that an annual tax of $1 per head serves to pay for the upkeep and the salary of the instructor.

HOLES IN ONE.

Phenomenon Seems to Favor Dubs and Champions Alike.

There seems to be no doubt among golfers that a hole in one is more or less of a fluke. In fact, statistics prove that the "god of the hole in one" more generally bestows this supreme favor on the dub.

The sad part about "ones" is that they seldom happen when they are needed badly. In crucial medal rounds when they would throw the tide of battle in the fortunate player's favor, they are conspicuous by their absence. Yet, there are instances of vitally important "ones."

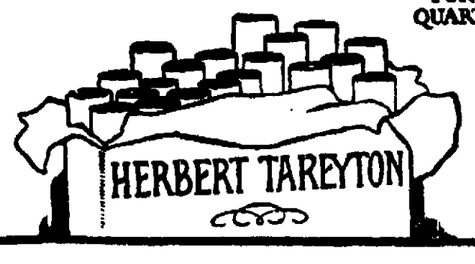

Perhaps the most recent is that of Jock Hutchinson's in 1921, at the eighth hole of St. Andrews. It undoubtedly won him that Open Championship. That is, it did not merely make the difference of a single shot and enable him to tie with Mr. Wethered and so beat him in the playoff, but it did come at the right moment to buck him up when he needed bucking. He started poorly and was having a rotten time of it until he made that "one" at the eighth. With that behind him he brightened and came within a very few inches of repeating the performance at the ninth again, and this time a drive of 270 yards!

It is curious, this hole in one business. Sandy Herd did his seventeenth the other day while Vardon did his first years ago and has never repeated it. Among amateurs, Mr. Herbert Fowler has done eight. Miss Joyce Wethered holed in one with a mashie at Worplesdon a few months ago, rather a unique performance.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 14, 1924.

COMMENCEMENT.

Two institutions of higher education, each a leader in its field, awarded diplomas to graduates this week.

Today at the University of California two thousand young men and women, more than the total enrollment of many colleges stood in their caps and gowns in the newly erected stadium at Berkeley and there, with ceremony, celebrated the end of their undergraduate days. A thing which had been predicted took place—the commencement throngs at the University of California were too large for the Greek theater.

Ninety young women were graduated from Mills College. They came to California for an education from eleven states and four nations and most of them will return carrying with them the story of the opportunities and splendors that are here.

Without a rival, Mills College is the greatest college for women west of the Mississippi. It ranks with the best of those similar institutions in the East. The University of California, for some years known as one of the largest and then the largest university in the world, is increasing its prestige in the more enviable fields of scholarship and research in a way to attract a wondering attention from the educators of the civilized nations. What the University has done in the past year in increasing knowledge concerning certain vitamines, for paleontology, for astronomy, and historical research, for instance, has furnished theme for a wide discussion.

This community which is in the habit of boasting youth, possesses two colleges which have been graduating classes for more than a half century, and each of those colleges is a recognized leader. While the students, faculties, and friends and families of the graduates are giving admiring and somewhat excited attention to the ceremonies, it might be well for the Eastbay to consider how much it is indebted to the University of California and Mills College.

SOME ADVICE TO GRADUATES.

"A hen cannot help laying an egg, and a genius cannot help making a success of life, but the majority of you who are leaving today will find that success is attained only after a hard battle, and that it is just as hard to hold success after getting it as it is to attain it."

With this homely expression Dean Probert prefaced his address to the graduating class at the University of California. There is a whole speech in the single sentence and those of the class who remember the words in years to come will have occasion to reflect upon their truth.

"It is just as hard to hold success after getting it as it is to attain it." The difficulties come when success threatens to turn heads and alter characters. They are also to be met when one would formulate the definition for success.

When Dean Probert said that the genius cannot help but make a success of life he did not mean that every genius becomes rich; he had in mind another definition.

In other words, Dr. Heber Reece Harper, said something to the same effect to the students at Mills:

"Through the centuries there have been those who have had peculiar advantages. Many have interpreted these advantages as entitling them to unusual and special privileges. This is a false equation."

America puts faith in that great number who accept, with understanding, the responsibilities their advantages place upon them. As one of the speakers said: "It is the youth of today who must shoulder the responsibilities for the battles of today.

SOME "MINOR" PRODUCTS.

Of the 609 troy ounces of crude platinum produced in the United States last year, 578 came from California. Here is an industry which is given little attention and yet is of considerable importance because of the value of the product and the special and technical uses to which it is put.

Platinum metals, recovered from crude platinum by refiners in this country include palladium, iridium, osmiridium and others. The Department of Mines has recently called attention to the activities in the platinum industry and in others aside from gold and silver and, in each case, this state is given prominent mention.

For instance, the output of 39,029 short tons of potash comes from eight companies operating twelve plants in California, Indiana, Maryland, Nevada and Pennsylvania. The production of natural sodium compounds and borates, in value close to a million and a quarter dollars, owes much to Kern, San Bernardino, and Inyo counties in this state.

In the aggregate the value of these products is in the millions.

POSTAL CLERKS' BILL.

Postal carriers and clerks the country over are waiting anxiously for passage of House Bill 9035 which will give them an increase in wages. If the bill is brought up it will have to be on special order and there are indications of an effort to postpone action until after the recess which will mean, in all probability, that no results will be obtained this session.

The maximum wage of a mail carrier is $1800 and he must work a long time and walk some thousands of miles before he secures that. The same government which gives him his check has estimated the lowest living wage for men of family to be $2100.

If a man is to hold his job as a railway mail clerk he must keep in his mind some 6000 facts and be ready to stand an examination at any time as to his knowledge. Those on the California runs, for instance must know every postoffice in the state, the postoffices in neighboring states, train schedules, and the differences in connections in summer and winter. They must be able to take into account the fact that horse drawn vehicles carry mail in rural sections in the winter and that faster moving automobiles do the same in summer. If the train is late they are expected to know with what trains they will make connections. They must even know the facts concerning the larger cities in their state and have their general map in mind. After working a number of years in this highly specialized occupation they reach the maximum salary which is $2300. With the other postal clerks the situation is the same. They must know that the most they can get for their work is what was regarded as living wages fifteen years ago and what Uncle Sam and the household budget, now say is not sufficient.

These are the reasons behind the requests for immediate action upon the bill before Congress. The clerks are not proposing any method for raising the money which will be necessary; they are calling attention to a schedule which is admittedly too low.

ANOTHER PEACE VOTE.

That widespread interest for the maintenance of peace which was reflected in the United States with the response in participation and discussion of the Bok Award is evidenced again with the attention being given to the peace proposal of the Christian Science Monitor. As this proposal, recently published in the Tribune, has no compensative features and carries with it no reward there is perhaps more significance in the fact that the response should be so general.

As the plan is being submitted to a vote of more than a million and a half persons it is bound to be even more widely discussed. An indication of its origin and scope may be gained from the following:

In offering this suggestion for the consideration of the American people, the Monitor lays no claim to its exclusive authorship. The proposition that labor should be conscripted equally with military service, and that there should be a conscription and mobilization of capital for the needs of the Nation in time of war, has been made time and again. It was bruited in the Cabinet of President Wilson during the recent war, but never came to practical adoption. Nevertheless, the Wilson Administration was well on its way to adopt this system through the activities of the War Industries Board when the conflict ended. Indeed, very eminent constitutional authorities declare that the powers which The Christian Science Monitor would have enumerated in a constitutional amendment are in fact now possessed by the President and Congress. Be this as it may, these powers never have been exercised, and it is the suggestion of the Monitor that their employment should be made mandatory upon the Administration in time of war.

We do not hold that this plan would be an absolute assurance against war. There are other causes of war than the cupidity of those classes whom war invariably enriches. But this plan, put into effect, would be a great deterrent to war, because it would at once remove the incentive to warlike intrigue by those who have found profit in war, and it would furthermore, more nearly equalize the heavy burdens and the cruel sacrifices which armed conflict entails upon all classes in the community. It is not to be thought that any form of legislation, any kind of government action, can make equal the sacrifice of the man who is called upon to give up some portion of his wealth to the service of the state, and that of the boy who gives his life amid the horrors of No Man's Land, or the parents who sacrifice their children to the war-time Moloch. But at least the plan set forth by the Monitor does do away with the glaring injustice which exacts the last and most cruel of all sacrifices from youth and from parenthood and yet treats the accumulations of the capitalist as something sacred, not to be seized for national uses.

The Monitor does not offer this suggestion as in any sense a substitute for international agreements, a league of nations, a permanent court of international justice, or anything of that character. It is offered merely as something which the United States can do alone, without the necessity of engaging in dilatory negotiations with foreign nations for international action. We believe that if adopted by the United States the plan would be promptly imitated by other civilized peoples, and its incorporation into the law of that or any other nation need have no bearing whatsoever upon the question of the value of international associations for the maintenance of peace.

Third-rate parody is painful, and there appears to be a great demand for it. Certainly a lot of it has been printed recently. It is like pretty fair violin-playing; inexcusable, and no fun for anybody but the performer.

According to the Fourth Estate, the Milwaukee Press club has been presented with "an old lithograph, splendidly preserved, though brought to Milwaukee over three centuries ago." Ah, yes! Can one ever forget the day John Alden caught the 2:10 from Plymouth, and carried the lithograph out to Milwaukee? And the lunch of welcome the Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce gave him that spring day in 1621?

The craze for organization is limitless. Here comes a rumor of the formation of the Society of Descendants of Little Girls and Little Boys Who Never Were Able to Keep Awake All Through the Bedtime Story.

If, Ellen Orr suggests, you must walk a mile for a cigaret, somebody's rubber heels will make the walk a pleasure.

1. Lots of cowboys here but, not being under the influence of the movies, they wear overalls, boots and unbecoming Stetsons.

2. When it rains—as it has been doing all day—you can't go out of doors at all, because the roads entirely disappear.

3. Central knows the names and numbers of all subscribers and, if treated with fair kindness, will give you the gossip of the day. Any place over five miles away is long distance.

4. Ten o'clock at night is pretty late, and, if you haven't had your breakfast before seven, your life needs looking into.

5. The trains switch just outside my bedroom window, and when I complain of the noise I'm met with, "Ain't you funny! You're from the city and you say Sallisaw is noisy!"

F. P. A.

THE GRADUATE.

THE NATIONAL PRESS

Portland Oregonian: "Suppose bread still is up and wheat down. That is not the whole story. Time was when the dealer wrapped a loaf in butcher paper and the customer took it home. Now the loaf is "sanitary," wrapped in particular paper with the baker's brand printed thereon and sealed almost hermetically. That makes more handling and all forms of labor are now more highly paid. We do not hear of bakers going into bankruptcy, however. They might, for the price, improve the quality or texture, or whatever it is, so that when one cares for a bowl of bread and milk he will get something much different."

Philadelphia Ledger: "Poison gas, compounded of malice and lies and secretly designed and spread to destroy the morale of the police and to defeat the purpose of Mayor Kendrick and Director Butler to clean up this city and to take the police out of politics, has been utterly blown away by the explicit announcement by the Secretary of the Navy. In a statement to this newspaper Secretary Wilbur declares not only that the Navy Department has no intention of removing General Butler from Philadelphia, but that it views with pride his accomplishments here in reducing crime and 'in fighting a good fight.'"

Philadelphia Ledger: "Children ask many questions of their elders, and sometimes they exhaust parental patience thereby. But there is something the matter with a child that does not want to know and is incurious about the world, 'so full of a number of things.' To ask one who knows (and it is assumed that father and mother are omniscient) is more satisfactory than to hunt in the pages of a book. But the parent who doesn't know and pretends to be wise when ignorant is soon detected and brought to shame in the clear, grave eyes of children."

New Orleans Item: "Lots of our credulous contemporaries are seasonably agitated by some astonishly provocative language attributed to the redoubtable Trotzky, in Moscow, as the Russian commissioners sit in council with the British government, in London. We naturally take it for granted that Trotzky 'never said nothing of the kind,' since the saying would be entirely needless and sublimely stupid. Trotzky is not nearly as stupid as many of his most respectable critics."

St. Louis Post Despatch: "The British Labor government's shaky tenure of power, which a few days ago seemed about to collapse, has been greatly strengthened by the Snowden budget. Asquith has approved it unreservedly and his attitude implies a solidarity of Liberal support which the government had not previously had. The reception by the press is favorable, while to the public the schedules fulfill the promises made in the election when protection as an issue forced by Baldwin was decisively repudiated."

Kansas City Star: "'Nothing in sight to break the deadlock,' writes the political scribe. All right 'Democratic convention may last weeks,' he adds. Very good. Our own notion is, however, that the convention will last as long as the delegates last and no longer. The deadlock will break when the delegates are broke. When that time comes the convention will nominate somebody and inquire his name afterwards."

Memphis Commercial Appeal: "If this serum to make people tell the truth proves a success, we should not be surprised to learn that some congressman had introduced a bill forbidding its use and that party lines were ignored in passing it unanimously."

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

There is one good thing to be said in favor of the investigational furore that has held Washington in its grasp during the past several months. It is this: There are certain things that ought to be investigated, that deserve investigation, and whose investigation may prove generally valuable. The constant emphasis on investigation will gradually bring these things into the spotlight. Sooner or later, we may expect news of investigations that are really worth while. For instance, the commerce department is now investigating the reasons why underwear shrinks in laundering.—San Diego Union.

Well, with the vexatious first issue out of the way the deck is cleared now to give the people of this community a bang-up newspaper. This is no brickbat cast in the direction of the previous management. Every editor has his hobbies and I am no exception to the rule. I like a good spicey newspaper, check full of live news about people. Now this can be easily brought about if the readers themselves will lend a helping hand and telephone in or give in items of local interest.—Cloverdale Reveille.

Vallejo people were immensely gratified over the announcement that another factory intends to locate here. The coming of the Interstate Textile company with an initial building unit amounting to $1,500,000 is one of the greatest achievements accomplished here in many years. That the Interstate people mean business is shown by their deposit of $600,000 as a guarantee of good faith.—Vallejo Chronicle.

Confirming evidence of the statement often heard that bootlegging is all too common in San Mateo county is afforded in the incident of Tuesday afternoon when two federal squads of enforcement officers were able to make eleven arrests in seven raids conducted in Redwood City and other parts of the county.—Palo Alto Times.

Sixty per cent of state motorists are driving with lights improperly adjusted, and 90 per cent of violators arrested are found to have glaring headlights. Spotlights also are found attached to fenders, axles and such other places as make it impossible to comply with the law.—Vallejo Chronicle.

Reports of the passing of bobbed hair and the return of long tresses for women have been as persistent as of the fall of the Russian soviet and as groundless. It is apparent that the women are cutting their hair shorter and shorter with the end not yet in sight.—San Bernardino Sun.

SELF-RESPECT.

It little matters that I win or lose,
Or whether distant strangers think me great;
The main is to go there are and one to choose—
God help me never to desert the straight!

Fame may entice me and success allure,
But what shall follow when the wrong is done?
Is there for guilty knowledge any cure?
Can one be proud of glory falsely won?

What if I hear men cheer, and take the prize?
Shall I rejoice if I have played the cheat?
Shall not that symbol stand before my eyes,
A shining token of my own deceit?

God help me, when the choice is mine to make,
Beyond the glamor of the lure to see;
Let me not stain my crest for victory's sake,
Nor sell my self-respect for any fee.

PERSONAL HEALTH SERVICE

By WILLIAM A. BRADY

THE M. I. K. SIGN.

In the household of an American professional man, whose family consists of three adults and four growing children, the money spent for food is distributed about as follows:

Meats, poultry and fish	12½ per cent
Eggs	6 per cent
Milk	27½ per cent
Cheese	2½ per cent
Butter and other fats	11 per cent
Bread, cereals and other grain products	13½ per cent
Sugar, molasses, syrups	3 per cent
Vegetables and fruits	16½ per cent

That leaves a nice little surplus of.. 7½ per cent which I would respectfully advise the professor to blow on good candy and nuts to garnish the fruit bowl on the buffet.

I must say this much for Professor Sherman, however stingy he may be with sweets for the kids, he puts out a book on the chemistry of food and nutrition that contains not less than 99.44 per cent of solid meat which is distributed as follows:

Science	49.86 per cent
Common sense	38.20 per cent
Interesting speculation	11.38 per cent

Compare the food budget of the professional man's household with that of 92 New York families, some poor, some in fair circumstances. The average distribution of food expense in the 92 families was as follows: per centum.

Meat, poultry and fish	33.19
Eggs	5.55
Milk (and cream if used)	9.08
Cheese	1.13
Butter and other fats	8.14
Bread, cereals and other grain products	17.65
Sugar, molasses and syrups	3.80
Vegetables	9.12
Fruit	6 03
Nuts	0 35
Foolish, unnecessary or harmful beverages, condiments, etc.	5.76

Now, then, for the sake of your health, wealth and efficiency, notice particularly the striking difference in the first item. The professor, being a nutrition expert, knows that a reasonable amount of meat (which includes poultry, fish and shell fish) is desirable: the 92 average New York families apparently imagine it is the important part of the diet. You know how that is—the average layman still harbors that long since exploded fancy that meat furnishes more energy or strength or working power or something than milk, cheese, beans or nuts, and the delusion costs him a pretty penny financially, at least.

Next cast your eye upon the striking difference in the expenditures for milk in the household budget of the food expert and that of the average layman. The proteins of milk (casein and lactalbumin) are superior to the proteins of meat, poultry or fish in biological value, in the nutrition of the young, for growth and vigor. What proportion of your own food budget is expended for milk? And what do you get for what you spend on that item?

Wherever young people live there should be a pitcher of fresh milk on the table, with an M. I. K. sign on the handle. It helps keep the doctor away, aye, it would send him scouting in the kitchen if I were he.

QUESTIONS SPECTACLE AS FIT FOR CHILDREN.

Editor of The Tribune:

Would it be out of place for a woman who is the mother of four children and the grandmother of four and who has had some opportunity to observe young children to protest against the admission of young children to witness the showing of the motion picture of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame?"

It is a wonderful motion picture and parts of it are beautiful, and the intention of the expert who arranged Victor Hugo's powerful story for the screen was evidently to show the struggle of what was beautiful in the soul of the poor, misshapen wreck of a human being to express itself toward the few who had shown him kindness but little children can neither see nor understand this and I fear poor Quasimodo is all horror to them. Really, I think the poor cripple should have continued to dwell in the shadows through the film story and not had the strong light thrown on his physical hideousness even for an adult contemplation, and how much more care should be taken not to shock a little child's sensitiveness by continuing to illuminate and accentuate the sight of a mouthing, gibbering, repulsive deformity!

A child either shudders and is repulsed by such a sight or else laughs and his sensibility to sympathy for such poor unfortunates is dulled thereby.

Also the witnessing of the torture of the unmentioned man and the lovely Esmeralda made even me, who have lived for half a century, cringe and close my eyes to the sight. It has supplied me with a needless unpleasant impression to be struggled with and to be blotted from my thoughts and dreams. Can you imagine how much worse must be the impression made on the mind of a young child? And Sunday evening the theater was full of them all the way from babies, and three and four years old, to children of grammar school age.

If parents have not the necessary wisdom to keep young children from such a spectacle the theater should not permit their admission.

DOLLAR DAY MAGNET FOR BIG CROWDS

Police Reserves and Firemen Aid in Breaking Downtown Traffic Jam; the Buyers Begin Assembling Early

Taking advantage of the unusual bargains offered today by Oakland merchants in keeping with the annual "Dollar Da thousands of eager shoppers already packed the streets of the city's downtown business district from early this morning until late this afternoon

So dense were the crowds that traffic, both automobile and street car, was frequently tied up and police reserves had to be summoned to take charge of the situation Every available patrolman and special officer was drafted into service upon orders of Police Captain J Frank Lynch who had charge of the handling of the crowds while detectives circulated about on watch for pick pockets.

There were few accidents or thefts reported due to the efficient police supervision The authorities estimated that unique offers of the various stores acted as a magnet for more than 10 000 persons, men, women and children. Firemen were also detailed to handle the crowds by Fire Chief Sam Short The buyers began gathering in front of stores this morning before they opened, and by 10 o clock the streets were jammed.

Merchants declared that today was the most successful "Dollar Day" in the history of the city

WASHINGTON —The Canadian government is unalterably opposed to diversion of additional water from the Great Lakes via the Chicago Drainage Canal on the ground that it would be highly detrimental to navigation from Sault Ste Marie to tidewater.

On account of diversion that has already taken place harbors on which millions have been spent in deepening operations have been seriously affected. It also affects the locksills of the Sault Ste Marie canals The Welland canal and the St. Lawrence canals and has had a most injurious effect upon the ocean shipping channel between Montreal and the sea.

The views of the Canadian Government are set forth in a note addressed to Secretary of State Hughes under date of February 13 and made public tonight by the State Department along with other communications exchanged on the subject.

ORDER STOPS MILK SALES BY 2 DAIRIES

Inspector Wing Revokes Permits in Line With Order of Commissioner Colbourn For Closer Supervision

In line with an order from Commissioner Frank Colbourn to "tighten up on the milk inspection for the whole summer," City Milk Inspector C C. Wing today revoked the Oakland selling permits to Frank Vaz of Holt and John S Machado of Manteca, both dairies being charged with having too high a bacteria count in their milk.

The revocation bars both dairies from the other bay cities.

Wing asserts that the milk inspection this year will be more stringent than usual, owing to unusual conditions in the grazing lands and in the dairy industry generally.

LOAN OF $685,000 MADE FOR NEW OFFICE BUILDING

Huge Structure of 10 Stories Will Be Started on Upper Broadway.

Immediate construction of a new business structure on Broadway, the Ray Office Building, is assured by an announcement made today by S. W. Straus & Co., that a bond issue of $685,000 for this purpose has been underwritten by that investment banking house. The new building will represent an investment of $1,125,000. It is the property of Fisk M. Ray, president of the Up-Town Association and well known in Oakland's business circles.

The new building will front 93 feet on the east side of Broadway immediately north of the Tapscott building at Nineteenth street and will rise ten stories high. Adjoining on the north is the site of the new Orpheum Theater and next beyond is the Broadway and Twentieth street corner soon to be occupied by the new Elks Club building. The Ray Office building site is 200 feet deep and includes a 25 foot frontage, 100 feet deep, on Franklin street.

SPACE APPLIED FOR.

With stores occupying the street floor frontage, a portion of this and the mezzanine floor and the nine upper stories will be devoted to offices. Oakland's rapid commercial development has created a demand for more office space which has long been insistent and more than one-fourth of the floor space of the building has already been reserved and it is expected that the entire area will be absorbed by current demand by the time the building is ready for occupancy. It has been designed by Willis Lowe, architect, and Clinton & Palmer will superintend construction. Parking space in the rear and a basement garage, reached through the Franklin street frontage, will accommodate tenants and visitors. This new structure will be the seventeenth business building to be erected in this north of Fourteenth street since 1921. It is estimated that more than $6,000,000 has been invested in this area in new construction in the past two years.

Among the buildings which have already been built in this vicinity are: Roos Bros.' building, Golden State building, Fox Theater, Reich & Lievre building, Smith Bros.' building, Lyons building, Tapscott building, Hassler building, Thos. Day building, Heron building, Dorsch building, Whitehead building, Press Club building, Oakland Examiner building, and the Medical Arts building; the latter is security for an S. W. Straus & Co. bond issue of $375,000.

BIG STRUCTURES.

The Elks Club building and the Orpheum Theater are estimated to cost $1,000,000 each and several other new structures are projected or under construction in this newer uptown business district among them being the Wakefield building now under construction on Seventeenth street between Broadway and Franklin street, Connolly building on Nineteenth street between Broadway and Franklin street, a new hotel at Nineteenth and Franklin streets, a studio building on Broadway north of Seventeenth street, two buildings projected by the Owl Drug Company at Telegraph and Sixteenth street and on Fifteenth between Broadway and Franklin street and the Builders Exchange building at the northwest corner of Webster and Hobart streets.

A recent survey of office accommodations in Oakland conducted by the Up-Town Association discloses a current demand for desirable office accommodations amounting to twice the available floor space, although a large area of office space has been opened within the past few months. Daily increasing volume of newcomer commercial and manufacturing concerns is promptly absorbing such accommodations as fast as they are created.

This is the thirty-ninth building of major type on the Pacific coast and the third in Oakland to be financed by S. W. Straus & Co., the others being the Regillus Apartments and the Medical Arts building. Several other building projects of importance in this city are now under investigation of which announcement will probably soon be made.

Three Billions Stole by Sale of Wildcat Stock

NEW YORK, May 14.—More than three billion dollars have been stolen from the American people since the war through the sale of spurious securities. District Attorney J. H. Banton declared at the annual meeting of the New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants tonight. Banton said he derived his authority from this statement from the Department of Justice.

"Complaints in my office show that so-called reputable brokers in Wall street manipulated the prices of the securities of one corporation so that they were able to unload upon the gullible public to the tune of $14,000,000," the district attorney asserted.

The business [illegible] bags of Cubans for prompt shipment at 5.16 and 1600 bags for June at 5.53. The issuance of May notices caused an early decline of 6 points in that delivery but they were promptly stopped and the loss recovered. BUSINESS and FINANCE

By H. S. SCOTT.

The stock market both in San Francisco and New York continued reactionary today. In San Francisco the business was scarcely worth recording, while in New York about 700,000 shares changed hands. All the California oils were weak and transactions were a point lower than yesterday's closing in most cases. Further declines in the price of raw sugar in New York was reflected in fractional declines by many of the Hawaiian sugars. The outstanding feature of the local market was a jump of Best Tractor preferred just before noon to above 110. Eastbay Water preferred gained a point and all utilities were firm.

More than a score issues sagged to new low prices for the year in New York. Baldwin headed the downward movement, reaching new low ground for the year, while new lows on the movement were reached by Steel, American Can and similar speculative favorites. On the other hand, distinct strength was shown by some of the representative rails under the leadership of Atlantic Coast line, while P. and R. Coal and Iron had a substantial run up of five points on heavy transactions. These demonstrations proved unavailing, however, in the face of the persistent professional attempts to mark the industrial stocks down. Losses of approximately a point reach were registered by Punta Allegre, Cuban American and Cuban Cane Sugars, the first named touching a new 1924 low at 52lb. Dupont broke nearly three points to a new low at 115lb. Foreign exchanges opened firm.

Indicative of a strong demand for sound investment securities, public sales of electric light and power securities to the value of $92,950,000 were offered by investment houses during the month of April, according to Electrical World.

The figure is the highest reached during any month of the year and represents an increase of more than $27,000,000 over that recorded for April, 1923. The rate of return yielded the investor, which has been on the decrease since February, took an upward turn during the last month, reaching the 6.37 point.

Long term securities continue to predominate, and the largest individual offering was the issue of 12,500,000 in gold bonds of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, offered at 96 and yielding 5.78.

C. L. Best Tractor Co. 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock continued to attract the lion's share of attention on the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange yesterday. During the afternoon session 80 shares sold at 106, 30 shares at 107, and 25 shares at 107½. The [illegible] offered. The stock has been called as of June 1 at par but carries with it the privilege of exchanging into Best capital stock, one share of preferred for two shares ($50 par value) of capital stock. The capital stock is now on a 10 per cent annual dividend basis and sales on the exchange reflect a growing appreciation of the exchange privilege carried by the preferred. Holders of the preferred are now depositing their stock for exchange at the Bank of California, N. A. The privilege of exchange expires June 1, 1924.

The major oil pools are declining and unless a new pool is brought into production this year, drafts will have to be made on storage, E. W. Marland, president of Marland Oil, told stockholders at their annual meeting today. Production and consumption were now on a balance and the industry had not entirely recovered its earning power, he asserted. Net income of the company and its subsidiaries in the first quarter was $2,892,837 after deducting $737,237 for depreciation, depletion and abandoned wells and leases, equal to $1.86 a share on the capital stock.

Reports that the Mexican government might find it necessary to suspend interest payments temporarily on the bonds involved in the debt agreement unless granted a new loan, elicited no comment from the international committee of bankers on Mexico. Mexican government 5's were lower, presumably in reflection of the reports.

Arrangements recently concluded for a short term credit of $10,000,000 for the Swedish government, may be followed by an offering of long term bonds, exceeding the amount of the temporary loan. Strength of Swedish exchange supported the view that that government might enter the market at an early date.

Speculators found a vulnerable spot yesterday among the rubber companies and Kelly Springfield common got down to a new low as there were revived intimations of some new financing. Lee Rubber and Tire also got down to a new low for the year and incentive for pressure against this issue was found in the unsatisfactory statement of earnings.

Even at this early date estimates are being made on the steel corporation's probable statement of earnings for the June 30 quarter and they indicate between $45,000,000 and $48,000,000 as likely to be shown for net. That the extra dividend is safe seemed to be good opinion among persons closely following the affairs of the big industrial.

The cancellation of steel orders to the extent of 150,000 tons was regarded as the dominating factor through which all prestatement forecasts were far wrong on the April showing of tonnage conditions.

General Asphalt's net earnings in the first quarter of 1924 were $115,000 compared with a deficit of $106,000 in the corresponding quarter of 1923. It was announced the company intends to retire all of the $872,000 6 per cent debentures outstanding on or before maturity April 1, 1925, out of current assets.

Orders for the purchase of 200,000 barrels of gasoline for spot delivery are being placed among midcontinent refiners by the Standard Oil Company of Louisiana, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. An order of this volume is expected to relieve the pressure on small refiners who have had to store excess gasoline through retarding sales caused by weather conditions.

J. E. Davey and Hobart Porter have been elected directors of the Missouri Pacific railroad to replace Edgar L. Marston and Harry Bronner. Others directors were re-elected.

As Famous Players announced maintenance of its full dividend rate, short covering developed in the shares but price at which this $8 stock sold was held to be out of line with other industrial issues. The yield was figured at about 11 per cent, which, for investment purposes, was considered too high. Thoughts similar to those now prevalent have been heard for the past year or more, yet the management has continued its disbursements which, however, have not had much influence on the stock itself.

The fact that Mack Truck had greater orders and deliveries than a year ago was officially made known and from this brief statement the street found some encouragement to offset unfavorable observations to which it had been listening in regard to the automobile industry in general.

Establishment of Glen Alden Coal on a $7 dividend basis gave heart to commission houses which have been advocating for study other coal properties lately divorced from railroad affiliations. Reading and Lehigh Valley were foremost in this consideration and again the potential dividend worth of these companies was discussed.

All directors of the St. Louis-San Francisco Company were re-elected at the stockholders' meeting today. The directors will elect officers in New York in about ten days.

Stewart Warner Speedometer Corporation reports net profit of $1,496,700 for the first quarter of 1924, equal to $3.15 a share on its no par value stock, against $1,827,973, or $3.84 a share a year ago. Profit and loss surplus was $13,964,319, a gain of more than $1,000,000.

In instructing the French minister of finance to take any necessary measures to protect the franc from further depreciation, the French cabinet was aware that the $100,000,000 Morgan credit was still available for the purpose. Interests close to the Bank of France, however, do not believe this bond has been drawn upon. The unexpectedness of Poincare's defeat, they assert, provided an excuse for selling francs short, but natural conditions soon established the rate.

The Southern Railway system's earnings of $65,311,414 since the first of the year, show a decline of $3,516,828.

Atlantic Sugar Refineries had net earnings of $606,931 in 1923 compared with $127,965 in 1922, but profit and loss surplus was reduced from $5,060,314 to $4,487,840.

FINANCIAL NOTES

The Southern Pacific Company was authorized by the interstate commerce commission today to issue $17,640,000 of equipment trust certificates to be sold at 97.56 per cent of par for equipment purchases.

Pan-American Petroleum Co has awarded contract for twenty-five retail service stations in Southern California. The company is planning to put up 150 such stations this year costing approximately $1,500,000, which, together with the purchase of sites, will represent total investment of more than $6,000,000.

Manila Electric reports for year ended December 31 net income of $1,060,739 after taxes, equal to $15.15 a share on $7,000,000 capital stock outstanding, compared with $1,063,846 or $21.27 a share in 1922.

The San Francisco office of E. H. Rollins & Sons has just received from the New York office of the same firm the earnings statement of the Robert Gair Company for the calendar year 1923 which shows that its net earnings (after operating expenses but before federal taxes and depreciation) were $1,929,677, or over seven times total annual interest on the $2,850,000 par value first mortgage bonds now outstanding. These net earnings show a very great increase over the figures for 1922. As of December 31, 1923, the ratio of the company's current assets amounted to $3,941,954 or more than $1000 for each $1000 par value first mortgage bonds outstanding. The company had no bank loans. This company is the largest manufacturer in the world of paper containers, such as folding boxes, corrugated cartons, etc., and is conducting a business which was established sixty years ago. Its issue of first mortgage 7 per cent bonds was offered to the public in December, 1921.

Cattlemen Urged to Diversified Farm

WINNIPEG, Man., May 14.—Diversified farming was declared to be the only hope for the western cattle raiser by John Clay, president of the Chicago International Livestock Exposition, speaking at the first annual banquet of the Winnipeg Stockers and Feeders Show association here last night.

Attending the function were more than 600 livestock men from all parts of Canada and the United States.

"The cattle business," Clay said, "is in a bad way at present, but there is ground for improvement shortly."

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 14.—Buying by trade interests caused firmness at the opening of the cotton exchange today, options advancing from 13 to 25 points. May opened at 31.40, up 25 points; July at 28.92, up 15 points, and October at 25.05, up 13 points.

SUPPLY OF LEAD BEGINNING TO LAG BEHIND DEMAND

Scramble for Raw Supplies Is Predicted Among Large Producers.

The National Bank of Commerce in New York in the May number of Commerce Monthly refers to the increase in world consumption of lead to a point where output is scarcely adequate to supply the demand. The bank says:

"This is due to the heavy use of lead in pipes and paint in the building industry of this country and in European construction work, to the large amount of lead required for telephone cables and for storage batteries for use in automobiles and, to a less extent, in radio outfits.

SCRAMBLE FOR SUPPLIES.

"The natural outcome of this situation has been considerable competition in world markets for available supplies of lead, with resultant high prices. The United States, Mexico, Spain, Australia and Germany are the principal lead-producing countries of the world. Before the war these countries were responsible for approximately four-fifths of the world's output of lead. During the last ten years, however, there has been a marked change in the relative position of this group. The output of lead in both Spain and Germany has declined greatly and Australian production is also somewhat reduced; the United States has strengthened its position as principal producer and Mexican production has increased greatly.

"The heavy consumption in the United States, shortage of supplies in European markets and the uncertain Mexican situation have combined to raise the price of lead to a point but little below the war-time peak. Prices have recently declined somewhat from this high point.

SMELTERS ACTIVE.

"Under ordinary circumstances a strong and well-sustained demand for a commodity serves to increase the supply of that material. The great activity of the mines and smelters of this country indicates an increasing rate of output of lead and it is probable that the lead industries of other countries are similarly affected. At present, however, consumption in the United States continues to outstrip domestic production, and with the present prospect for continued European demand it seems probable that any increase in world output would only serve partially to make up the discrepancy between supply and demand. Moreover, it seems to be the opinion of some reliable trade authorities that no material increase in world supplies of lead is probable. If this be true, high prices will probably work their own cure by causing consumption to diminish, but it is impossible to judge at just what point this change might occur."

FINANCIAL NOTES

S. W. Straus & Co. have purchased and are offering an issue of $685,000 first mortgage of 6½ per cent serial coupon bonds, secured by the ten-story Ray Office Building, to be erected at 1920 to 1930 Broadway, Oakland, California. These bonds which constitute a direct closed first mortgage on the land and building, are dated April 15, 1924, mature in three to fifteen years and are callable at 103 and interest for the first five years and at 102 and interest thereafter. Federal income tax up to four per cent is paid by the borrower and they are exempt from personal property tax in California. Interest coupons are payable April 15 and October 15 at the offices of S. W. Straus & Co.

The railroad commission has authorized East Bay Water Company to use $980,600 of the proceeds derived from the sale of bonds, and $326,800 derived from the sale of stock, to finance additions and betterments, including the Upper San Leandro project.

Mount Lassen Transit Company has applied to the railroad commission for authority to issue and sell 10,000 shares of its capital stock for $1.00 per share, and to issue 15,000 shares of its stock already subscribed for. The same company has also applied to the commission for a certificate to operate an auto stage line between Red Bluff and Westwood and to acquire all rights now held by Walter Gosmey.

Mount Lassen Transit Company has applied to the railroad commission for authority to issue and sell 10,000 shares of its capital stock at $1.00 per share, and to issue 15,000 shares of its stock already subscribed for. The company also applied for a certificate to operate an auto stage line between Red Bluff and Westwood and to acquire all rights now held by Walter Gosmey.

The National City Company, Mercantile Securities Company, and the Harris Trust and Savings Bank were awarded the $450,000 Eureka high school district 5 per cent bonds, paying a premium of $5826.50. Other bidders were Heller, Bruce & Co., Dean Witter & Co., and the Wells Fargo Bank and Union Trust Company, offering a premium of $5062.50; Bank of Italy, $4078, and Anglo London Paris Company, $2901. The bonds are dated April 15, 1924, and mature serially from April 15, 1925 to 1949.

The Southwestern Utilities Corporation reports, through Freeman, Smith & Camp Co., that net income for the first three months of 1924, available for interest, taxes, dividends and depreciation, totals $138,950—over three times interest on the company's funded debt. The company's business is expanding rapidly, and gross and net earnings show a most satisfactory increase over the same period of 1923.

STUDEBAKER MAY EARN DIVIDEND BY THIRD QUARTER

Production and New Sales Methods Promise Steady Gains in Profits.

Studebaker Corporation's April production was 14,875 cars, or within a few units of the March production and practically the same as April, 1923.

Net sales of $35,603,491, and 29,435 cars were the largest for any first quarter in the history of the corporation, barring 1923, and had net profits been figured on the old basis of sliding-scale discounts they, too, would have been the largest with the exception of last year. These results are all that had been hoped for in this competitive year and so far as profits are concerned succeeding quarters will benefit greatly by the new accounting system which eliminates heavy retroactive charges in the third and fourth periods, according to Barrons Weekly.

"If Studebaker is able to effect the usual gain in sales production the second quarter that has been so marked a feature of its returns for the past two years, the statement for the half year should be stimulating and the $10 dividend covered before the end of the third quarter. In any event, it is interesting to note that on the old accounting system profits first quarter this year of $5,400,000 compare with only $4,855,000 third quarter of last year when sales crossed 40,000 car mark and with $1,863,000 final quarter of 1923 when sales were 22,681 cars. The net for quarter just ended was only 24 per cent less than full second half of the 1923 year.

"Some comment was aroused by the appearance of $4,030,000 bank borrowings, first floating debt to appear in Studebaker balance sheet since March 31, 1921. Cash and sight drafts dropped practically $9,000,000 since January 1 from $20,131,000 to $11,132,000 and inventories jumped 69 per cent from $19,754,000 to $30,414,000. Inventory reflects a carry-over of 9000 finished cars and as these are currently worked off position of balance sheet would be considerably altered."

The following table shows first quarter results for the past five years:

Vehicles Sold.	Net Earnings.
1924—29,435	$3,542,259
1923—38,211	6,170,971
1922—22,801	4,665,849

OAKLAND PRODUCE

The strawberry situation took on new complications today. While the Association, which is composed of growers immediately in the bay region, saw their fruit go to the canneries by the hundreds of baskets at about 35 cents per drawer and still maintained the minimum selling rate to the wholesale men of 75 cents, outsiders from Fresno and Sacramento regions were selling fruit at 60 cents and in some instances less. A big shipment of Sacramento stuff was gathered in by retailers and was offered at 3 baskets for 25 cents, while the cost of Association stuff was 2 for the same price at wholesale.

To add to the confusion a shipment of 150 crates of fine fruit came along clear from Happy Valley in Shasta county, consigned to J. P. Zerikotes & Company. This fruit went on the market at the Association figures, but as it is not in any pool, some of it got away much below these figures.

The first car of Valencia oranges of the year arrived from Lindsay, consigned to Levy & Zentner. It was of the smaller sizes and was quoted at from $2.50 to $3.75 per box. Incidentally the price of oranges fell off 25 cents on all sizes, top sizes dropping to $5.00 for fancy Sunkist.

A novelty in the way of six big watermelons from Imperial Valley was shown by Harris & Company. These are the first of these melons to be seen this year. Regular shipments are not expected for at least two weeks.

Cherries were cheaper today. Royal Annes joined the list of arrivals but they were of only medium quality.

Squash of all varieties fell off 25 cents a crate.

CHICAGO, May 14.—Wheat prices showed firmness early today owing more or less to scattered buying based on unfavorable crop reports from Illinois and adjoining states and on higher quotations at Liverpool. Advices that strikes in Argentina had been renewed tended also to lift values. Besides, selling was restricted by unseasonably cool weather Northwest and the uncertain outlook regarding farm legislation at Washington. Opening prices, which ranged from a shade decline to ¼c advance, with May $1.04⅝ to $1.04⅝@¾, and July $1.06¼ to $1.06¾, were followed by slight gains all around.

Weather too cold for sprouting gave an upward trend to the corn market. After opening at ⅛c off to ⅝c advance, July 76½ to 76⅝c, prices sagged a little and then scored gains.

Oats were firm in sympathy with other grain, starting unchanged to ⅛c lower, July 13⅞ to 44c, but then hardening all around.

SHOES.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 14.—The International Shoe Company is extending the road season of its salesmen in the hope of overcoming unfavorable conditions which have affected sales this spring.

COTTON.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 14.—Trustees of the defunct Shippers Compress Company have asked court permission to sell the properties taken over by the company from the Atlantic Compress company for $1,450,000. The sale will put under the hammer the largest cotton compressing equipment east of the Mississippi.

HARDWARE.

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—Members of the metal branch of the National Hardware Association have decided that there should be standardization of quality in all galvanized roofing to enable dealers to meet competition from other materials.

WOOL.

FORT WORTH, May 14.—After a period of activity which has lasted for three months, contracting for wool on the sheep's back in Texas has suddenly come to a standstill because of the gradual decline in the range market.

SILK.

SEATTLE, May 14.—About $15,000,000 worth of raw silk brought here from Japan this week is now on the way to Eastern markets.

OIL.

ST. PAUL, May 14.—There are twenty co-operative gasoline sales organizations now in operation in Minnesota fighting the high prices of motor fuel and oils. Five of these companies are selling gasoline at 18 cents a gallon, or 3.8 cents below the regular price set by the refiners. The others sell at the 21.8 cents rate but distribute profits back to purchasers at the end of the year.

DENVER, Colo., May 14.—Drilling for oil will start at once on ten parcels of state school land recently leased by the state land board. The leases include the Union Oil of California, the Texas Production company and the California company, a subsidiary of Standard of California.

FRUIT.

WINCHESTER, Va., May 14.—Virginia has shipped 9649 carloads of apples this season as compared with 6734 carloads for the same period last year. Prospects for a fall crop of apples are very bright. The trees of the Valley of Virginia—one million of them from Harrisburg, Pa., to Staunton, Va.—are in full bloom.

FLOUR.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 14.—There has been a general advance of 20 cents a barrel here in prices of domestic flour. The advance, millers say, is due to the scarcity of milling wheat and dry weather in the wheat belt. The new price of patent flour is $6.80 a barrel. There has been no change in export brands.

STEEL.

FARRELL, Pa., May 14.—The Carnegie Steel Company has blown out two of three blast furnaces at this place. The American Sheet and Tin Plate Company has cut production here to about 50 per cent of capacity. Of the 51 independent open-hearth furnaces in the Mahoning valley 23 are scheduled for melting. Fifty-three of the 120 sheet and jobbing mills are active.

Motor Company Exports Increase

Overseas shipments of Oldsmobiles this year have set up some new records, far ahead of those of former years. Total export figures for the first four months of 1924 were 2022 cars, against 420 cars for the corresponding period of 1923, a gain of 381 per cent. By months, the figures and percentages are: January, 1923, 69 cars; January, 1924, 387 cars; increase, 461 per cent; February 1923, 134 cars; February, 1924, 678 cars; increase, 407 per cent; March, 1923, 115 cars; March, 1924 481 cars; increase, 318 per cent; April, 1923, 102 cars April, 1924, 476 cars; increase, 366 per cent.

During the first four months of 1924, the general increase in Oldsmobile business was nearly 300 per cent, while in the export business, as noted, it was close to 400 per cent.

The General Motors Export Co., which handles all foreign trade for General Motors passenger car and truck units, reports that Australia has been the principle foreign consumer of General Motors products thus far this year. South America is also shown as a good market, especially so far as Argentina is concerned. In continental Europe, Sweden is the best consumer, with Spain and occupied Germany close behind. Buying conditions generally in Europe are better than they were a year ago.

COAL.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 14.—Coal continues to drag. A fair demand exists for slack in five, ten and fifteen carload lots and on such sales fair prices are obtained. Some producers have business written in gas slack at $1.75. Others are quoting as low as $1.60, while steam slack is still quotable at $1.25 to $1.40.

AUTOMOBILES.

DETROIT, May 14.—Final figures on Ford distribution in April show 211,410 cars were distributed in the United states, compared with 205,000 in March. Sales of tractors totaled 12,000 and deliveries of Lincoln cars was 762. For two years Ford deliveries have exceeded 100,000 a month and for the last nine months have exceeded 150,000.

First Mortgage 6½% Serial Coupon Bonds
[SAFEGUARDED UNDER THE STRAUS PLAN]

Serial Maturities 3 to 15 years

MORTGAGED PROPERTY: These bonds constitute a direct closed first mortgage on a new ten story office and store building at 1920 to 1930 Broadway, Oakland, and on its site comprising 21,100 square feet of land directly in the path of business district advancement. They are further secured by Straus Plan provisions for monthly payments from current earnings, which, conservatively estimated at $110,893 annually, are nearly two and one half times the greatest annual interest charge.

LOCATION AND DEMAND: This property fronts 93 feet on Broadway, 200 feet deep and includes a Franklin Street frontage of 25 feet, 100 feet deep. It is in the midst of a rapidly developing newer business area of Oakland's uptown district where demand for such accommodations is pressing. Applications already made will absorb more than one-fourth of the floor space.

GUARANTEE OF COMPLETION: Completion of this building in conformity with plans and specifications, free and clear of all prior liens, is unconditionally guaranteed to the bondholders by S. W. Straus & Co.

These bonds are surrounded by all the customary safeguards of the Straus Plan. They are exempt from personal property tax in California and are offered with our unqualified recommendation.

Renamed Steamer Has Sulphur Cargo

The HAMLIN F. McCORMICK, an old friend of the port under a new name, entered the estuary and commenced the delivery of a 5000-ton sulphur cargo yesterday. The steamer was formerly the shipping board steamer Castle Point.

FORMER CASTLE POINT BRINGS BIG SULPHUR CARGO

The Hamlin F. McCormick, an old friend of Oakland under a different name, slipped into the estuary yesterday and commenced the discharge of a 5000-ton cargo of sulphur at the Howard terminal. The vessel was formerly the Castle Point, built for the United States shipping board in 1919 and until early this year operated in the intercoastal service under allocation to another concern.

The cargo is one of the largest shipments of this commodity to enter the estuary, although the outer harbor has received two shipments of 6000 tons within the past six months. The yellow mineral was loaded in Galveston and comes from the Texas sulphur beds, one of the largest deposits in the world. It is consigned to the C. R. McCormick Company and will be distributed to the various chemical and fertilizer plants about the Eastbay.

The Hamlin McCormick occupying the center berth of the Howard terminal, made it necessary to line the Pacific Mail freighter Pallas alongside the quay wall. The steamer brought in a 500-ton cargo of copra from Manila. This was consigned to the Proctor & Gambel Company. The shipment was loaded directly into freight cars from the steamer and was headed east to the reduction plant in Iowa. This is the first large copra cargo to make port in a month.

CO-OPERATION IS SOUGHT AMONG SHIPBUILDERS

Atlantic Coast Assn. Seeks to Unite Yards of the Nation.

PHILADELPHIA, May 13.—Seeking a broader co-operation among shipbuilders for their mutual advantage, the Atlantic Coast Shipbuilders' Association, in annual convention tonight adopted resolutions extending membership in the body to shipyards in any part of the country. Heretofore, membership had been limited to yards, drydocks and marine repair plants along the Atlantic seaboard.

Speakers emphasized that the purpose of the organization was to defend the serious inroads already made, and further threatened through recurring attempts in Congress to divert all government construction and repair work to navy yards and other governmental establishments.

Opposition to the pending trade treaty with Germany, which it was stated would do away with the possibility of tariff and rail rate preference for American flagships; hearty endorsement of efforts for the development of the American merchant marine and requests for a definite maritime policy for the nation were also expressed.

HERBALISTS

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

In reciprocation of the wonderful cure effected through the medium of Dr Wong Him's herbs and his thorough knowledge of every human ailment, I desire to state briefly the terrible sufferings experienced by myself for over thirty years, thus guiding anyone who may desire relief from attacks of any nature:

I had been afflicted with cancer and Bright's Disease, also catarrh of the head for a period of over thirty years Learning of the extraordinary cures resulting from the herb treatments of Dr Wong Him I decided to seek relief if possible through this course, being to some extent skeptical, due to failures of other eminent specialists to effect any amount of relief.

A complete treatment of the above herbs have resulted in relieving me entirely of these afflictions and my head has been cleared of all traces of catarrh Pains in back and headaches have ceased and am again able to enjoy perfect health

The above has been absolutely unsolicited and my only hope is that same may prove of great benefit to all sufferers who may read it.

DROPSY

Oakland, Calif., June 13, 1923.

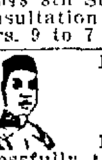

I suffered from a dropsical condition in my sides and in both legs. When I pressed these places with my fingers there were deep depressions. My condition was such that I never expected to be alive at this time this year. As I could get no relief elsewhere, I tried the Fong Wan Herbs. Now, after having taken them for three months although I am in the eighties, I am in fine condition. My address can be attained at the Fong Wan office.

TODAY'S SHORT STORY
by Ad Schuster

AN AWAKENING

THERE is a part of the country in which the crime wave never beats and strange enough, it is that section made famous in literature by Bret Harte and with which is associated bowie knives, gun play, and riotous drinking.

Thieves are unknown in the Mother Lode, men do not lock their doors at night and a man's belongings may be left in his carriage or his automobile in the street to remain there over night. The worst thing that may be said of a resident is that he refused board or lodging to a stranger and, if the accusation is proved, the offender can never live down the evil reputation. What the highways, the automobiles, and the week-end excursions of city-folk will do toward changing the structure of a bulwalk of old-fashioned honesty, remains to be seen.

At Campton lived Minnie Elder, daughter of the mountains and of mining men and, in love with Minnie more seriously than any other swain, was Dolph Twitt. Dolph was a true product of the country, open-hearted, honest, and fearless among men. With women he was as shy and backward as the proverbial country lad of the screen or stage. Thus his courtship was slow, and, on the all important question, silent—too, silent for Minnie.

When Landers Plane, garbed in the fashion of the city, came to spend a summer in the hills, Minnie resolved that he was just the man she needed. She could see that Landers was vain, she didn't like the expression of his eyes or the droop of his mouth, but she welcomed him with what Dolph thought was a little more than was to be expected of mountain hospitality.

Landers had been in town for a [illegible] of the place. Minnie knew that her plan of making Dolph jealous, of stirring him to a declaration, was not succeeding. Dolph looked at the city man critically, judged him by the standards of the hills, and decided that if Minnie could care for this man she should never care for him. He did not give up the fight and admit defeat; instead he bided his time, seeing the girl occasionally and counting upon her good sense to discover the false in Landers.

When the thief visited Campton there was a stir unequalled since the last gold excitement. Constable Tom Eggers, whose main duty had been directing tourist traffic on Sundays and rounding up violators of the game laws, oiled his six-shooter and took to the trail. Men looked for keys which had been misplaced or lost and the whole town was on the alert. From one store and another things were reported missing. Someone stole the gold from Doc Thumble's dental office and the stamps from the post-office. As the Messenger put it, "an unprecedented reign of criminality."

To get into the business section of Campton, residents must take one street which wound down a grade and dipped to the river. All teams, coming or going, had to stir the dust on Tompkins grade and so it was here, naturally, that the bulletins were erected to tell of the next church social, motion picture show, or barbecue.

On a nail on the board one day appeared a gold watch to remain through the morning hours. Only in the Mother Lode could such a prize hang before the public untouched. The watch there meant someone had found it. The owner, after custom, would look to the bulletin board first, claim his property and the whole matter would be settled without waste or work.

Landers Plane approached the bulletin and the watch shone at him in the sun. Without hesitation he stepped forward, took it down, and went his way. Constable Tom Eggers, emerging from behind a bush, watched the departing man with a look of mingled astonishment and triumph.

"The young squirt!" he said to Dolph Twitt, who had left another hiding place to join the arm of the law. "Who'd a-thought it? It all goes to show you can't tell a bird by the feathers he wears."

"I am wondering, Dolph muttered, "how Minnie will take this. She may be all broken up."

When they charged Landers with the theft and found the watch in his pocket, he put up a mighty bluff.

"How do you know it isn't mine?" he asked. "Besides, I might know the owner and maybe I'm intending to return it."

"That watch", said the constable, "is mine and you'll bet your boots you're going to return it."

Dolph tried to break the news gently to Minnie and was surprised how calmly she took it.

"But I thought," he said, "you cared for him, cared for him a lot, more than you do for me."

"I was only trying to make you jealous," she answered. "Isn't it about time, Dolph, you woke up?"

MY HUSBAND'S LOVE
by Adele Garrison

PREPARATORY.

I WASTED no seconds in knocking upon Leila Durkee's door, for I did not wish to give her a chance to refuse me entrance. It was no time to stand upon ceremony, and with only the warning, "It is I, Leida dear, I am coming in" I opened the door and walked into her room.

She had flung herself down full length upon her bed, and from the pillows in which her face was buried came the little quivering breaths which follow a fit of weeping. She looked pitifully slight and fragile and I felt my heart constrict with pity for her. But I had no time to think of her need, and besides I knew that giving way to her nervous fears was the worst possible thing for her own condition, to say nothing of the effect which the knowledge of her breakdown would have upon the elder Mrs. Durkee, battling so bravely with her own nerves.

Going directly to the bed I put a compelling hand upon her shoulder and summoned all my courage.

"Leila, dear," I said gravely, "are you going to be the only one in this house to fail your mother-in-law?"

She twisted sharply up from her pillows and caught at my arm. I had expected a flash of resentment in her eyes, but nothing save terror was mirrored in them.

"Oh, do you mean she has to go to the hospital" she wailed. "Is Dr. Braithwaite—

I caught her fluttering hands and held them firmly, while I looked steadily into her tear-swollen eyes.

"He is going to operate tomorrow morning," I said. "We are taking her to the hospital in an hour. He says that there must be none but cheery faces about her. How about it? Are you going to play the game with the rest of us? Her very life may depend upon you."

I saw the resentment now, flaming, involuntary, but only for an instant. Then her hands clutched mine tighter, and she pulled herself to her feet, swaying, but patently bringing both her physical and mental faculties into subjection to her will.

"I'm all right now," she faltered gamely after a few seconds. "What do you want me to do?"

"Get your eyes and face in shape first," I replied promptly. "Cold compasses, followed by that wash for tired eyes, and a judicious application of powder to your face ought to do the trick. Then as soon as you are sure you won't break down, go in to see Alfred's mother."

"I shan't break down." She lifted her head proudly, and looking at her, I saw that she spoke but the truth. She had herself well in hand, and though the reaction undoubtedly would come, she would be able to go through the coming ordeal without faltering.

"Am I to go with Mother Durkee" she asked, with a worried glance at the little clock upon her dressing table.

"I don't know,, but perhaps we can figure it out." I replied. "Dr. Braithwaite has ordered a heated limousine. Of course he and Katherine must go, and your mother-in-law naturally will want Alfred with her. Without crowding that will leave one extra place. There are three of us left, Mrs. Braithwaite, you and I. I will stay here in any case until I have performed any commissions Mrs. Durkee may have for me, and then I will take a train in. I know Mrs. Braithwaite will stay with me if you wish to go."

"It will be what Mother Durkee wishes, I think," Leila replied with gentle dignity, and I rejoiced at the quiet little snub, for it meant that she was distinctly herself again, ready to assume her place as chatelaine of the distressed household.

"That, of course," I replied cheerily. "Is there anything I can do to help you? No? I'll run down to the kitchen, then, and and start on the dishes, unless Katherine needs me."

"I'll be on hand in ten minutes," she promised, and she was as good as her word, for when within the quarter of an hour I was summoned to Mrs. Durkee's room, I found her daughter-in-law with smiling face and cheery voice helping Katherine to pack a bag. Dr. Braithwaite and Alfred were coming out of the room as I entered, and the surgeon's patient looked like anything but a candidate for a hospital, as with delicately pink cheeks and sparkling eyes she commanded:

"Shut that door, Madge, and then come here. I guess I'll have some little say about what I'm going to do if forty doctors and sons plan differently."

WONDER WHAT PARENTS ARE DOING MEANTIME?

A VISITOR THAT LEAVES HOME CIRCLE DESOLATE

I am going to print a letter that tells of a deplorable condition, but I think that the mothers and fathers who allow it to continue are NEGLIGENT. I realize that in country schools there is a lack of supervision and that Boards of Education are not within walking distance, but THERE IS NO EXCUSE FOR TEACHERS. DESCRIBED IN THIS LETTER, BEING ALLOWED TO HOLD POSITIONS.

There must be more than one mother who knows what is going on, and they should band together TO PROTECT THEIR CHILDREN.

There is no worse torture than humiliating a youngster before his classmates, and no quicker way to break his spirit.

Dear Jerry:—

It is over a year since I have written to you and your prompt answer then was greatly appreciated. In today's paper you remarked that teachers do not whip children in school these days or words to that effect. But, Jerry, I am sorry to say it is true where we live. Just as there are good and bad mothers, so there are good and bad teachers, and next to the mothers, the teacher has the most influence over the growing child, as they are under (his or her) influence, from 9 until 4, five days a week. In the city schools a child has more than one teacher, but in the country there are never more than two, and sometimes only one.

Jerry, it is a fact that the teacher here used a cat-o'-nine-tails on the children for severe punishment and for ordinary punishment struck them over the head or arms or back with a ruler. One time she struck a 12-year-old girl over the head with a ruler and broke the ruler. She also struck a 10-year-old girl over the back with a book, because she asked her for a piece of writing paper, and the child had a black and blue spot on her back for a long time. She also kept scaring the children. One day she would put them back for not knowing their lessons, and her favorites she allowed to skip grades. Because she said she didn't have the time she had a class skip the whole third grade, so it gave her one less grade to teach. She also had the fifth and sixth grades hear the lessons in the first and second grades, so they had no chance to devote to their own lessons.

You would be more than surprised if I had time to tell you all details, but this will give you an idea why some children are no better than they are. Nor was this just a rare case, because one of the teachers we have this year uses the same discipline and tactics. The little tots have adhesive plaster put over their mouths for whispering. One girl, nine, was struck on the chin with a ruler. She is always threatening to put them back. She does not encourage them but is always threatening them.

CHILD IMITATES IN PLAYING SCHOOL.

When my little girl plays school with her dolls and playmates, she exhibits the most savage disposition and threatens to put them righ. back, etc. I said one day: "Why do you act like that? Why don't you teach them? You are is only playing," her playmate replied "That's the way the teacher acts."

She has her favorites, and good or bad they are it, but if she dislikes any of them she makes it plain to the class. One in particular is pointed out as poor in his studies, and if someone makes a mistake she will sarcastically say, "Look out; you will be as poor as Ben," or "What are you trying to do, let Ben catch up with you?" No wonder Ben doesn't want to go to school or takes so little interest in his studies.

Now strange to say, Jerry, both these teachers are married women, and this brings up the old question, can a married woman do justice to two jobs—homemaker and teacher? The first requisite for a teacher besides, of course knowledge, is patience and tact. In both instances the teachers claimed to be overworked and started in to eliminate all the work they could. They are nervous and irritable, and it makes the children nervous. One day a boy favorite made a nasty remark to a little girl and she went up and told the teacher. The teacher told her she must never dare come and tell her such a thing again.

Then she remarked to the school that she hated tattletales. Now I do not mean that all married women make poor teachers, but the art of teaching means more than knowing your subject. It means being able to make your scholars know it and like it.

Excuse this scribble, Jerry, but children are my hobby and some time I am going to write you about the poor children who are born mentally deficient. What to do with them is a problem, and I know of three right in this small neighborhood.

More power to you, Jerry.

A LOVER OF CHILDREN.

The subject as to who makes the best teacher—married or single—is a debatable one, but I can't see that the above letter comes under that discussion. The thing is—why should such a condition exist? Teachers earn their daily bread because the taxpayers pay their salaries. You wouldn't elect a man to office who went around and clipped off children's ears, yet you pay without protest teachers who clip and ruin children's spirits.

THE ACHING VOID IN ONE HEART.

I have a letter here that is going to touch your heart. I know that you won't give up even one precious single, no matter how many you have—but if anyone is seeking a "doorstep" on which to leave a tiny mite of humanity, I'll furnish the address of the woman who wrote as follows:

Dear Jerry:—

I have read the many discussions on babies in your column and thought I would give you my ideas on the subject. I have been married twice; ten years to my first husband (who was killed) and five years this June to my second. I never had a baby in all those years and did not miss it. I have been nearly round the world and that seemed to satisfy me. We did not go for pleasure but for business. Don't think we are wealthy people for we are not, far from it.

Last year I had a baby girl and she was the sweetest thing God ever gave me, and, Jerry, when I knew I was going to have her, I thanked God. You see, deep down in me I must have wanted a baby.

I had her just nine short weeks when she died and we miss her so. I would never have thought it possible to miss a baby so much.

I feel that those who talk against babies should have one. They would never talk about not having babies in the home again.

I do not know if I shall ever have another, as I am 40 years of age, so I should like to adopt one, but the institutions all seem to want you to have property or money. We have neither. All our savings went to doctors, hospitals, special nurse, and funeral expenses.

My husband has a steady position. Has been there two and a half years and is now earning $125 per month and a bonus twice a year. He started there at $80.

Jerry, I wonder if you could help me in this. We don't mind how young the baby is. We would take it from two weeks old.

I don't expect you to publish this letter, but I thought you might put a piece in your page about a baby.

Afraid this letter is a bit disjointed, but it upsets me so to write about my baby. She died three months ago and I am just heartbroken.

You will think this is a long enough letter, so will ring off.

Thanking you, I remain

Your truly,

H. J. W.

I am wondering if there is any way of helping this mother She has found the job of raising a boy too much for one WOMAN She wants a man's advice and help. There is no sentiment, or, as she puts it, "There is no leap year proposal" behind her S. O S. A dad with a wife and a whole family of boys woud be WELCOME!

Dear Jerry:—

WANTED—A MAN, A REAL MAN. WANTED—A DAD, A REAL DAD.

I'm going to tell you my need and am going to put it in plain words. If you can do anything or suggest anything, please do so. Jerry, my heart is sad; it weighs a ton. My beautiful big boy (15 years old) has been naughty, so I'm told. He has been cutting school until they have threatened to be severe with him, and Jerry, I can't let him, if I can help it, go through life with a cloud hanging over him.

If he only had a dad—a real dad, a dad who loves boys, who understands boys; a dad who is enough of a boy to love hunting, fishing and hiking or motoring, I know all would be well, but Jerry, his dad went away almost six years ago. We do not know where he is and I have tried oh, so hard, to be both mother and dad, but Jerry, I can't fill the place in a boy's life that a dad can.

So I'm wondering if there is a man who is big enough, who wants to help. Someone who is a success already and knows and can show my boy his great need of an education; someone who will be a real pal to him.

Now, Jerry, please don't think this is a leap year proposal. IT'S NOT. I'm not thinking of myself at all. My boy is all my concern. You see, he is very large for his age—over 6 feet, and needs a man companion and influence. My life and business are such that I am quite confined, therefore cannot be the companion I would like to be. Do you suppose there is anyone who is willing to be a big brother or dad? If so, God knows we need him.

I do not care if he is married and has a dozen boys of his own—or how old or young he might be—just so he is old enough and young enough to love and understand a boy.

I am quite well known and can give references. If there is any one or any suggestion, address me, Mrs. C. O. Presson, General Delivery, Oakland.

A MOTHER.

I am wondering if you have tried to find out WHY he is cutting school. Have you seen his teacher, or any of his companions? Perhaps there is a puzzling study that he doesn't understand, and he's getting from under. Have you talked to him?

I am not doubting but that a man companion—ONE WHOM HE COULD RESPECT—would help him, but what do YOU know about your boy? In your struggle in a business way, to supply material needs, have you neglected to really get acquainted with your son? I have a feeling that you don't "know" him, and in knowing him lies the cure for his "cutting" school.

An Apron You'll Like.
(No. 2085)

Aprons mean life insurance to your frocks and much labor saved on laundering day. Wouldn't you rather wash a few aprons than have your frocks all spotty and messy-looking across the front?

Here's an apron style you'll like so well that you will cut several out from the same pattern, which cuts in sizes 36, 40, 44 and 48 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 2¾ yards of 36-inch material. Price 15c, in one or two-cent stamps or coin.

For a general workday apron, gingham is suggested. Of cretonne or unbleached muslin with gay bindings, it would serve well and add a decorative note to the housewife, particularly for Sunday night's supper getting. This apron would be nice made of Turkish toweling to wear when giving baby his bath, for it is soft and won't rub his tender skin.

Oakland, Calif. As these are ordered specially from Chicago, a few days should be allowed for delivery.

PLANNING A GARDEN.

"I'll plant another row of lettuce over there," planned Virginia, as she stood looking at the plot of ground her father had given her for her very own to make a garden in.

"What are you going to do now?" asked her neighbor, Betty Cut-out, watching her across the fence. "Plant something more? You've lots of things coming up already!"

"And I'm going to have more," declared Virginia. "I have to water these things now." And she ran in to change her dress.

Here's Virginia in a pretty blue dress and blue hose with orange trimmings. Color her hair with light orange crayon to make it look auburn, make her cheeks pink, and then mount her on lightweight cardboard and cut her out. She'll have a gardening dress tomorrow.

BETTY AND MARY'S EASTER VACATION.

Once upon a time there were two girls who were very good friends. They were Betty and Mary and Mary was one week and one day older than Betty. So Betty used to say they were twins.

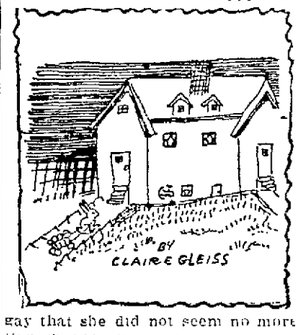

They looked very much alike. One day when Mary and Betty were at school and it was almost time to go home for the rest of the day the teacher said that they would have no more school till the week after next. All the other children were happy, but Betty and Mary were sorry for they loved school.

On their way home from school they were talking about what they would do during vacation.

Mary said: "It makes me feel like crying."

"Me, too," said Betty.

"So it does," said a soft voice behind them Mary turned around and said: "Now look! A little rabbit!" She felt so happy and gay that she did not seem no more like crying than the man in the moon. And the week went by so soon that she hardly knew they were out of school.

HOW JACKIE SAVED THE COUNTRY.

Chapter 1—The Besieged City.

Once upon a time there was a boy named Jackie. Jackie lived in a city which was besieged by a great army. Jackie's father was a soldier and went every day to the walls of the city and helped to defend them.

Jackie's father came home one night and said, "I wish that the war would end and I could stay home."

"Well, why not play a trick on the enemy?" asked Jackie. "Do this. Take everybody away from the private gate and the enemy will not guard it, then in the night we can get out the private gate and attack."

Chapter 2—The Plan.

The next day the mayor at a meeting of the citizens said, "People, we have to surrender; we are all starving."

Just then Jackie came up to the mayor's desk and said, "Play a trick on the enemy, drive everybody away from the private gate and the enemy will not guard it, then in the night we will go to the private gate and get out and attack suddenly." The mayor said, "It is our last chance, let us try it."

Chapter 3—The Attack.

That night Jackie roused the city. As they expected they found the gate unguarded. Quietly they stole out the gate and attacked the enemy. The horses kicked fiercely and most of the enemy were slain and taken prisoners. After that the country lived in peace and Jackie became a soldier like his father.

HOW TOM AND RUTH BECAME POOR.

Tom and Ruth were twins. They were very rich and lived in a mansion. They were 11 years of age. The two asked their parents if they might go up in the hills the next day. Their parents gave them permission so they packed their lunch and went on their way. When they were about to enter the hills they saw a fire engine. They decided to follow it.

They had not gone far when they were exhausted and lay down to rest. A half-hour and they were in the hills again. As they were walking toward the woods a snake met them and they ran into the woods and were lost. After five days of wandering they saw a man pass by. Tom said: "Let's follow him and maybe he will lead us out of here."

Ruth said: "That is a good idea."

So they followed the man. Then they saw a house and went toward it. It happened to be their stingy aunt's house. The sun was setting and everything turned red from the glow of the sun. When they reached their aunt's house she gave them some dry heels of the bread, and they then started for home. When they reached home they saw that their house had been burned. The man that lived next door said: "Your house was burned about a week ago." Their mother and father had died in it. Now Tom and Ruth had to earn some money in order to live and they did not want to live with their aunt (the only aunt). They were to get their father's money, but they did not have the will and did not know what to do so they had to strive for themselves. Now Tom is a paper boy and Ruth is selling matches and they are earning very little money. They don't even live in a house now. They live in the woods as they did the other five days, but now they know their way out.

THE MAGIC WORDS

Once upon a time there were two kings, King Henry and King Arthur. They were cruel to their people. Once these kings got into a quarrel and proclaimed war against each other. They fought for many days and at last King Arthur won. King Henry was very discouraged with his people, and in pretense of calling a grand meeting of the whole kingdom he drove them with whips to a big stone. And then he told them to roll it away. Then he said some magic words to himself. All of a sudden the earth began to shake and a large hole appeared and there was stairs in the opening.

Then he told them to go down the stairs, and no harm would come to them. So they went down and opened the door to the right.

As soon as they had gone in the king said another group of magic words and the hole was filled in again.

After awhile the people in the magic cave tried to get out for it was so smoky they could hardly breathe.

Two or three days later the king, thinking that all the people were suffocated, came to the cave.

He had saved only one servant, and not thinking the servant was his enemy he took him along.

The servant had been trying to get the magic words, and he was glad to get the easy chance of getting near enough to hear them. The king, not noting how close the servant was, said the magic words.

To his surprise the people had dug a hole and so had plenty of fresh air. The people began to come out of the cave and killed the king. Then the people took the body in the cave.

They then chose a true king and all lived happily ever after.

What's in a Name? By Mildred Marshall

CORNELIA.

Fortunate is she who bears the name of Cornelia, which through the centuries has been symbolic of all that is beautiful and reverent in motherhood. Not only has Cornelia a heritage worthy of an empress, co...ing, as she does, from the distinguished old Roman gens of Cornelius but her memory is immortalized by Latin legend, which makes her the mother of the Gracchi and the heroine of one of the most beautiful tributes to motherhood.

Some etymologists endeavor to trace Cornelia back to the two words "cornu belli" meaning "a war horn," but the consensus of opinion is that she had no existence previous to the first woman so called, who was the daughter of Publius Cornelius Scipio Africanus I, and the mother of the Gracchi. She seems to have inherited from her gallant warrior father a spirit of pure, lofty dignity, which made her the highest type of Roman motherhood.

When, according to the legend, the matrons of the most fashionable circle of Roman society were gossipping over the ancient equivalent for tea, and exhibiting their gem collections for the edification and envy of each other, Cornelia alone had no glittering display. But, summoning a slave, she had her twelve beautiful children brought to her, and, laying her hands on the shoulders of the Gracchi, said proudly: "These are my jewels."

The great historians of ancient Rome have carefully recorded the incident making Cornelia superior to all the noble Roman ladies of her time.

Cornelia's popularity as a feminine name throughout Europe is due to the martyred Pope Cornelius, whose relics were brought to Compeign by Charles the Bald. In the Low Countries, Corndlia became Keetje and sometimes Kee. Nelson is a Dutch rendition of Cornelius.

But though Cornelia's jewels may have been her children, she had a talismanic stone, the turquoise. It is said to protect its wearer from the dangers attendant upon travelers, and to bring them good fortune when they see the new moon reflected on its surface. Saturday is her lucky day and 1 her lucky number. Holly, signifying foresight, is her flower.

Uncle Wiggily Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE RED PILL.

"Where are you going, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one day, as she saw the rabbit gentleman hopping down the front walk.

"I am going over to get Sammie and Susie Littletail," answered the bunny uncle.

"Are you going to take them to the circus?" the muskrat lady housekeeper wanted to know.

"Not yet, the circus isn't to be here until next week," said Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. "But, as you know, Nurse Jane, each season I bring Sammie and Susie over to stay with me a few days that I may teach them lessons in what to eat and what not to eat. They are getting to be big rabbit children now, and soon they will wander afar over the fields and through the woods. Unless they are taught what is good to eat and what is harmful they may take something that will make them ill."

"Oh, all right!" squeaked Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "I was thinking it was about time you gave Sammie and Susie some more lessons." For Uncle Wiggily did this each year—several times a year. Of course, Mr. and Mrs. Littletail, the father and mother of Sammie and Susie, could have taught their children what to eat and what not to eat, but they liked better to have Uncle Wiggily do it.

So the old rabbit gentleman, giving his pink nose an extra twinkle, hopped over the fields to the burrow or underground house of Sammie and Susie.

"I am going to take them to live with me a few days," said Mr. Longears to Mrs. Littletail.

"It is vehy kind of you," spoke Mrs. Littletail. "I have some new little rabbits now, and I haven't much time for Sammie and Susie."

The little boy and girl rabbit were very happy to go with Uncle Wiggily, and he was soon hopping with them over the fields and through the woods, pointing out the different weeds and plants that were good to eat.

"Try some of that, Sammie," said Mr. Longears, pointing to a sort of brownish white plant.

"Oh, that's a toadstool and it's poison to eat!" cried Susie. "Don't eat that, Sammie."

"No, that isn't a toadstool," said Uncle Wiggily. "It looks like one, but it's a mushroom. And as it isn't easy to tell toadstools, which are poison, from mushrooms, which aren't poison, it will be best for you not to eat any of them unless I am with you to tell you what is safe."

"All right—we won't," promised Susie. Then she and Sammie ate some mushrooms and liked them very much. Uncle Wiggily showed them the difference between mushrooms and toadstools, but said:

"It will be a long while before you can tell one from the other, so don't eat any unless I am with you."

The rabbit children again promised that they would be careful and then Mr. Longears showed them other good things to eat and bad weeds and plants to keep away from.

It was the next day, and Sammie and Susie were still staying at Uncle Wiggily's house, that the two rabbits started out over the fields to get some sweet red clover.

"Oh, look!" suddenly cried Sammie. "Here are some mushrooms!"

"Don't eat them!" begged Susie. "Maybe they're toadstools, and you know what Uncle Wiggily said!"

Nonsense!" laughed Sammie. "I guess I'm old enough now, to know mushrooms from toadstools. I'm going to eat some!" So he did, and when Susie saw that nothing happened her brother, she, too, ate of the plants.

All went well for a time, but in the middle of the night Sammie and Susie were suddenly awakened by feeling very ill.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! You must go for Dr. Possum!" cried Nurse Jane, when she saw how pale Sammie and Susie were. "They have eaten something wrong. Don't wait to telephone, but get in your auto and bring Dr. Possum at once!"

"I will!" promised the rabbit. "But what did you eat, children?"

"Mushrooms!" sobbed Sammie.

"But I guess they were toadstools!" sighed Susie.

"Dr. Possum will soon cure you," soothed Uncle Wiggily.

He hurried in his auto to Dr. Possum's office and hurried back with Dr. Possum and his bag of medicine. When they were almost at the hollow stump bungalow, the Bob Cat sprang out of the bushes and, standing in the middle of the road in the moonlight, howled:

"Stop!" I want Uncle Wiggily!"

"Let me see your tongue," Mr. Bob Cat!" cried Dr. Possum, and when the Bob Cat stuck out his tongue Dr. Possum said: "You need a red pill to make you feel better." So, before the Bob Cat could stop him, Dr. Possum put a big red pill on the bad chap's tongue.

"Oh, wowchite! wow!" howled the Bob Cat, and, turning a somersault, away he ran, while Uncle Wiggily drove Dr. Possum to the bungalow.

"What was in the red pill, doctor?" asked the rabbit.

"Red pepper!" laughed Dr. Possum. "Though I won't give Sammie and Susie any." And he didn't, though he had to give them bitter medicine to make them better. And after they were well they always waited for Uncle Wiggily to tell them which were mushrooms and which were toadstools.

Now if the eye of the needle doesn't try to read the paper of pins when it ought to be looking to see if the lollypop has lost its stick, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the hay bird.

Gold Discovered in 1840.

According to Captain William Heath Davis' "Sixty years in California" gold was first discovered in this State at San Fernando, near Los Angeles in 1840.

"It was discovered," says he, "by some Mexicans from Sonora, who were passing through going north. They were familiar with the gold placers in their own country, and their attention attracted to the locality, and made the discovery.

"A good deal of gold from this source found its way to Los Angeles into the hands of the storekeepers, Henry Mellus, in trading along the coast used to visit Los Angeles, his vessel lying meanwhile at San Pedro. In this business with the merchants there he collected about $5000 in gold dust, which was of fine quality, in scales as from placer diggings. Other merchants also collected some Mellus remitted $5000 in gold dust to Boston by the ship Alert, and also made other similar remittances.

"That year and the next probably $80,000 to $100,000 worth of gold was taken from these diggings. The finding of gold continued there for several years, up to the time of what is known as the big gold discovery in Sacramento valley, but the results were small."

A great aristocrat and political [illegible] party. All sorts of people were there. The wife of a new-rich was sitting opposite the wife of a labor leader. Somebody talked about jewelry.

Mrs New-Rich spoke up:

"I clean my diamonds with ammonia, my rubies with Bordeaux wine, my emeralds in Danzig brandy, my sapphires in fresh milk. And you, dear?"

So saying, she turned condescendingly to the labor leader's wife.

"Oh, I don't clean mine," said the latter, silkily. "When they are dirty, I simply throw them away."—Los Angeles Times.

GOOD TIMES.

Don kicked at the mat with a stubby toe and grumbled, "Sam wants me to go over to his house. I told him why didn't he come over to here, and he said no, his mother said he was all the time coming over here and I never went to his house, so he said come to his house and I said I didn't want to 'cause he never has any good times at his house. An' he won't come over."

"Well, I don't see any good complaining will do," said his mother briskly. "Better hurry up and change your clothes so you can cut out the cookies. This is Friday night you know, and the boys will be in."

"Yea, I know it, and Sam won't come. He wants me to his house and he never has any goo—"

"Never mind that now. How'll you have any good times tonight unless you get the cookies ready? I'm thinking of making the icing pink. What do you think? Shall we make them animals or just stick to stars?"

"Wait, wait. Don't cut till I come. I know just which animals, and I'm not going to have any stars and I'm going to make a man for each one and put raisins in, and can I have pink icing for faces? Oo-o boy."

There's no use talking, unless you are going to let the children have good times at their house they are going to be lonesome. You can't bring up a child by himself and you cannot bring up a group of children without associating with the neighbors' children as well. Good times at the house bring them all to the place where you want them and the surer they are of the good time, the tighter they stick to it.

Grown folks are weary when evening comes and are very much inclined to drive the children into another room and order quiet and then bed as a happy ending. Children do not think much of that program. It lacks spice and variety. In this day of the victrola and radio, there is no excuse for not letting them have it.

School children cannot have interruptions that steal their sleep and distract their minds from their work, but Friday evening ought to be theirs to enjoy without thought of lessons. There are so many simple things that they consider good times there should be no difficulty about this.

Making a platter of candy and sitting about a table munching it, while someone reads or tells a story, are fine. Dressing up in grandmother's clothes and dancing to the music of a Victrola constitute a very good time. A radio party followed by a raid on the icebox is great fun.

Simple pastimes are best, and, when they are planned and carried out by the children themselves, serve much better than the more elaborate schemes of the elders. Formal dress and formal manners are not good times in the children's lexicon.

One night a week is not too much to set aside for the children if you want to teach them that home is the happiest place they can find. They must have good times.

Hostess Rally To Precede Big Convention

By EDNA B. KINARD.

California—the entire state—will be hostess to the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which will draw 10,000 delegates to Los Angeles, June 2-13. Because hostesses usually are concerned with their guests' comforts, they seldom participate in the activities of a convention. California clubwomen, with a tradition of hospitality to maintain, are planning to busy themselves to the limit with their visitors' pleasure. But, on the other hand, they are arranging to have a glimpse of th, biennial and a meeting with the leaders of the General Federation, despite their duties.

A California luncheon offering accommodations to 1000 members of the state federation will be a brilliant preliminary to the international meeting. Those who figure largely in the convention body will be claimed in the places of honor. Already reservations are being made for the hostess rally at Hotel Biltmore at noon on Tuesday, June 3. Announcement of the luncheon was made in the formal call issued by Mrs. John C Urquhart, state president, to the annual convention of the California Federation of Women's Clubs in Pasadena, May 30-31.

A ruling has been made that all luncheons during the biennial convention shall be "cold-plate" to permit the full hour being used for programs.

SHOOTS GIRL WHO JILTS HIM.

CHICAGO.—Because Miss Elsie Palmer jilted him in a quarrel over their wedding plans, William J. Wright shot her, but she probably will recover.

The Beginning of a Beautiful Friendship --By Webster

According to Dorothy Dix

Over and over again girls ask these questions:

What is charm?

What is the secret of the attraction that some women have for men?

What is the "come-hither" look in the eye that some women have that makes every man who beholds it get up and follow them?

Why do some girls always have hosts of beaux flocking about them while other girls just as good-looking, just as clever, just as good dancers, just as anxious to please, never have a date or a single sweetheart to bless themselves with?

And to all of these questions I have to answer, sadly and disconsolately, that I do not know. I have to give up the conundrum which is perhaps the riddle that the Sphinx, who is also a woman, has brooded over through the centuries in her desert solitude, without ever being able to solve it.

In Barrie's delightful play, "What Every Woman Knows," Maggie's brothers, discussing her with the brutal frankness with which brothers approach the subject of a sister, agreed that she wasn't young, nor brilliant, and that she was homely, yet all the men were after her. Finally one of the brothers said "But she's got that damned charm." And that was that.

When a woman has that damned charm she can snap her fingers in the face of flappers and living pictures, and marry as early and as often as she pleases, as is witnessed by the many fat pie-faced women we all know who have had two and three, or more, husbands apiece, and who still have a waiting list in case anything untoward and fatal should happen to the gentleman to whom they are at present united in the holy bonds of matrimony.

But what is this charm, what is this rabbit's foot that some lucky women carry and others do not? To say that it is personality is to attempt to explain one mystery by another mystery for we do not know in what personal magnetism consists, or by what power one individual draws us, while another repulses us.

We know that it isn't beauty, because the best lookers among girls are seldom the most popular, and men who profess to worship beauty are generally content to adore it from a safe distance, and show no disposition to marry it. It is notorious that beauties seldom make good matches. Nor does charm consist of intelligence. Being a highbrow hoodoos no woman's stock, socially or matrimonially, while a wise woman cuts her throat with her own tongue.

To be a spellbinder is for a girl's fairy godmother to have wished a curse instead of a blessing upon her, for no woman is more anathema to man than the human phonograph. Even among the chief of accomplishments in these jazzy days when it is of more profit for a woman to have her brains in her heels than in her head, is but a passing attraction while amiability and a sweet nature, woman's tried and [illegible] is a sticking plaster, potent to hold a man after marriage, but of small value in luring him into it.

Undoubtedly, charm in its perfection is a gift of the gods, but happily, in these days, when nature proves a cruel stepmother who is so [illegible] that she does not give us all that is coming to us we have learned to circumvent the lady.

No woman need be as ugly as God made her, nor as unattractive as she was born. Drugstore complexions can put the inherited ones to the blush, and any girl who is willing to take the trouble can acquire a line of lures and graces that will make any bona fide siren tremble for her job.

To the girl, then, who wishes to acquire charm, and who especially wishes to attract men, I would say, first, stress your femininity.

I don't mean to be pamby-pamby and weepy and dishraggy, without any backbone. That type of woman has gone out of fashion as completely as bustles and hoop-skirts. No man now would be bored with the sort of perfect lady his grandmother was.

But the eternal feminine remains still the eternal attraction for men, and the more womanly a woman is, the gentler, the tenderer, the sweeter, the more she appeals to men. If you will notice when a man speaks of the woman he loves, he invariably calls her "little" no matter if she is six feet high and weighs 200 pounds. What he means is that she give him the reaction of depending upon him, of looking up to him, and that in some subtle way she flatters his vanity by giving him the sense of masculine superiority.

You never see an aggressive, double-fisted woman, who fights her way like a man, get anywhere. And in his soul every man adores frills and furbelows and likes to see women dolled up. That is why girls make such a terrible mistake when they ape mannish ways and wear mannish clothes. When a girl puts on knickerbockers she throws her trump card into the discard.

To the girl who wishes to acquire charm I would also wish, after this secret. Make of yourself a mirror in which other people look upon themselves. Especially let men see a flattering reflection of themselves in your eyes. Can your own personal vanity. Listen with bated breath while other people tell you of their exploits but never mention your own.

Enthuse over their cars, their dogs. Marvel at their adventures. Sympathize with their disappointments. Give the glad hand to their successes, and you will be universally regarded as a wealth of perfect taste, wonderful [illegible] sound judgment, a brilliant talker and a companion of whom one would never weary.

It is the tireless listeners, and not the endless talkers, whom men take out to dinner.

Furthermore, out that is another story we will discuss [illegible] morrow.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

HELPING WITH HOME WORK.

One Mother Says:

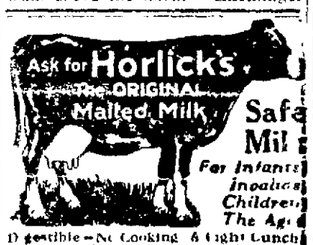

I help my children with their home work only by encouragement and showing an active interest in all their school work. Very often a mother who helps children directly does more harm than good. If a new step is to be taken, especially in arithmetic, the mother's explanation of it may not accord with the teacher's method of instruction and the result will be confusion in the child's mind. Whenever I find home instruction necessary, as when my child has missed school I ask the teacher just what he must make up and what method of instruction to use.

The old colored servant had passed his hundredth birthday. Many of the stories he told of his earlier days were probably true, but there were many that strained the credulity of his hearers.

"Go 'way, Reuben," said a listener on one occasion. "You can't remember back that far. Why you'll tell us next you saw George Washington take a hack at the cherry tree."

"Did I see him take a hack?" asked Reuben, disdainfully. "Humph! Why I was de one what drove the hack."—Exchange.

STRAIGHT THINKING for Modern Women

UNDER THE SURFACE

By BESSIE BEATTY,
(War Correspondent, Lecturer and Former Editor of McCall's.)

My father, brought up on the Gilbert and Sullivan operas, used to sing a little song which reminded us that "Things aren't always what they seem; Skimmed milk masquerades as cream . . ."

The new psychologists are saying the same thing to us in more elaborate terms. The discovery of the "inferiority complex" has made a revolution in the world of human understanding.

Psychologists tell us that the strutting, boastful person who appears to be telling us what great man he is, is merely strutting and striding and boasting because he suspects himself of being a very inferior person.

When we don't like the world as it is, we try to put ourselves into an imaginary world. The girl of an earlier generation pictured herself in the role of Elaine or some other romantic heroine and when she looked into her mirror Launcelot stood beside her. In the end she married plain Abner Jones or John Sykes or some other worthy young man of the period.

The imagination of modern youth is fed on coarser food. In a single issue of a conservative New York newspaper I find that three young girls have taken poison, and two have gagged and bound themselves to their bed.

The two who bound themselves to their beds had both been reading and hearing stories of the murder of two girls who had been similarly treated. Columns of space had been given to the dead girls. They were in the limelight. The living ones, dissatisfied with themselves and their own environment, waned romance and danger and limelight too. Both had inferiority complexes. Both felt neglected, unimportant, inconsequential.

All they had to do to attract attention was to invent a similar story and carry out the binding and the gagging part of it. Alas, for their egos! They were swiftly unmasked. They were exposed to a public as silly girls seeking notoriety. To the psychologists they are more pathetic than silly.

We make the fabric of our dreams out of the material of our times. The hinterland of every human brain is a dream world in which we compensate for all the inadequacies of life.

Your boy and girl are dreaming all sorts of things. If life is fairly satisfactory to them, their dreams evaporate in other dreams. If life in the world of reality is thorough[illegible] attempt to translate their dreams into terms of actions.

The wise mother will remember that skimmed milk masquerades as cream. She will see beneath the surface of that pompous strutting boy, and realize that instead of being a conceited and annoying idiot he is a pathetic and insecure youth trembling on the threshold of manhood and pitifully unsure of himself and his adequacy.

MY FAVORITE STORIES by IRVIN S. COBB

The Trouble at the Exit.

As I recall, they first told this story on Theodore Thomas. After Thomas' death they tacked Sousa's name to it. The Sousa version is now enjoying a merited revival.

The great conductor was putting his band through a rehearsal. There was a recruit to the organization lately added. The new member's instrument was a tuba. This person seemed incapable of getting through a somewhat difficult passage without making a hideous hash of his part of it.

Sousa halted the others and glanced reprovingly at the offender.

"What's the matter with you?" he demanded.

"It aind me," explained the perspiring musician. "It's dis dam horn." He shook the misbehaving instrument. "I blow in it so nice und sweet und it comes out so r-r-rotten!"

This advertisement is worth 36c in cash to one person or 72c to two persons.

This money will be given the bearer in cash if they will take the electric car to Hayward and inspect either "Colonial Acres" or "Meek Estate Orchards" between Hayward and San Leandro any day this week.

The amount given to you will represent your car fare to the property and back to Oakland. You will receive the cash before you inspect the property and will be under no obligations to buy. All we ask of you is your time.

In return we will show you, adjoining the car line, some of the finest apricot, pear, rhubarb, pea, spinach, tomato, strawberry, currant, blackberry, nursery and poultry land you ever set foot upon. We will show you crops now growing without irrigation in a dry year under adverse conditions that will open your eyes.

We will show you ex-soldiers, business men, mechanics, professional men and women not only making a good living but making bank accounts out of land purchased for as little as $50 down and $20 a month.

We will show you soil 20 feet deep, rich garden flower pot loam, workable by hand 365 days in a year, growing right now 40 kinds of fruits and vegetables.

We will show you the finest, most attractive, best financed, small farm and suburban project in California. An absolutely bona fide dependable, clean-cut proposition of the very highest character.

We will quote terms enabling any wage earner to buy by the month without a big payment down.

Do not decide upon anything until you see these two wonderful old Estate Properties. You can make your home pay your bills if you get the right land in the right location.

Bolinas Bay-Alpine Ridge Trip Replete With Scenic Changes

Experienced Drivers Only Should Attempt It On Sundays; Roads Are Varied.

For the experienced motorist whose touring appetite is jaded and for whom the better known trips about the bay region no longer hold charms, we offer a one-day tour in Marin county that is guaranteed to produce a dozen thrills an hour and still furnish enough scenic attractions to justify the outing as well as to sharpen the driving eye. We say "experienced" motorist advisedly One whose qualifications in piloting an automobile have not passed the amateurish state should refrain from the journey, on Sundays at any rate, for travel is likely to be frequent enough to take away any joys of motoring The individual who considers himself adept at the wheel may take another inventory of his ability upon his return

Confidence has unlocked many a miser's pocket book Confidence is not a thing "in the blood" — inherited — or bought with gold. Confidence is built gradually—by doing the right thing every day of every year. CITY SLUETH TIMES ZOO SYMPHONY

Noises of Animals Continue Unceasingly From Midnight Onward, Reports Gardiner, Investigating

After approving a plan for the re-flowering of the city hall plaza with 31,000 bulbs this fall, the board of park directors received a report from Superintendent Lee Kerfoot concerning the cackles, roars and squeaks which emanate from the municipal zoo at Twentieth and Alice, where nearby residents have complained about the smells and noises.

A special man was stationed at the zoo for several nights to find if the creatures did or did not roar, squeal, cackle or crow, and if so, when it happened. The special sleuth gave a complete time schedule, alleging that the noises, with few intermissions, continued from midnight onward. The park directors, after reading the report, filed it for future consideration and possible future action.

The time schedule of bawls, howls, roars and screeches is enclosed in the following report and summary, as issued officially to the park board:

I instructed Harry Grimes, park gardener, to go on duty at the zoo from night to morning. His report is as follows concerning the noises of various animals:

Ducks and geese, cackling, a. m., 2, 2:25, 2:35, 3:15, 3:55, 3:40, 3,55, 7:00.

Chickens crowing, 2:00, 2:25, 3:15, 3:25, 3:30, 7:00.

California lions, roaring, 12:00, to 1:00, 1:45, 1:50, 2:15, 2:40, 3:30, 3:40.

African lions, roaring, 4:30, 4:38, 5:00, also 3:45, 3:50, 4:00 and 4:40.

Birds, all kinds, 4:45 onward.

In view of the above time-schedule, the park department was advised to dispense with ducks, geese and chickens, and to keep parrots in a dark room till 7 a. m.

Lodge Associates Heard In Higgins Divorce Suit

Arguments in the divorce case of Margaret E. Higgins against Dr. Rufus Higgins will be heard by Superior Judge James G. Quinn next Monday morning, the case having been concluded as far as testimony is concerned at adjournment time last night.

The closing hours were spent with the testimony of lodge associates and neighbors of the Higgins, including Mrs. Edith Belser and her husband Paul A. Belser. Mrs. Belser testified that on one occasion Mrs. Higgins came to her saying that Dr. Higgins had left his home and threatened to stay away for good. She asked Mrs. Belser, a co-member of the Eastern Star, if she would intercede and influence the doctor to return to his home. This Mrs. Belser did, and later Mrs. Higgins charged Mrs. Belser with being too friendly with Dr. Higgins, the witness declared.

In this she was corroborated by her husband, who said that Mrs. Higgins had come to him and made charges against Mrs. Belser, involving Dr. Higgins. He found that the incident she referred to was the same time when Mrs. Belser was acting for Mrs. Higgins, he said and told Mrs. Higgins he did not believe her story and asked her not to come back to his home.

Mrs. Belser said that more than one hundred times she has seen Mrs. Higgins throw a deck of cards on the floor during a friendly game. She said this usually came when Dr. Higgins, who was playing with the opposing lady, would make an innocent remark which Mrs. Higgins interpreted as a "code." She would accuse her husband of cheating, said the witness.

Heavy Damages Are Asked for Accident

WATSONVILLE, May 14. — A suit for damages in the aggregate sum of $35,300 was filed in the superior court yesterday by Steve Maslich, Watsonville rancher, yesterday, against W. J. McDonald, Meyer Clark and M. Holland, lessees of the St. Francis Springs resort near Chittenden.

The suit is the aftermath of a fatal accident on May 23, 1923, in which Hazel, Maslich's eight-year-old daughter, was killed and his wife, Mrs. Hazel Maslich, sustained serious injuries, when their automobile was demolished by a fast Southern Pacific train.

Maslich claims the accident was due to the carelessness of J. C. Tacher, a traffic officer employed by the defendants on the opening night of the resort, in directing his machine directly toward the rapidly moving train. He asks $25,000 for the injuries to his wife, $10,000 for the death of his child and $300 for the wrecking of his automobile, which was demolished when it crashed into the train.
